Lake Villa's Memorial Day Parade draws crowds from all over

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

People of all ages from all over northern Lake County lined Cedar Avenue to watch Lake Villa's annual Memorial Day Parade.

Lake Villa loves parades. The village hosts at least two a year this one, and the popular St. Patrick's Day Parade (the only one in Lake County).

The nasty streak of cold, rainy weather broke over the weekend, leaving Memorial Day hazy, but very warm.

Paraders ranged from the sublime (village queens, marching bands, politicians) to the ridiculous (motorized racing bar stools).

The first band in the parade was the Antioch Upper Grade School Band, playing a selection of patriotic tunes.

Antioch was well-represented musically, with the Marching Sequoias from Antioch Community High School. They broke tradition and, instead of playing songs by John Philip Sousa, played Leonard Bernstein's songs from "West Side Story." A notable and appropriate selection was "I like to be in America."

Charlie Haley, 16, a member of the ACHS band brass section, played "Taps" later at the Lehmann Park wreath-laying ceremony.

Gun salutes were fired both during the parade and afterwards, at Lehmann Park, by Allan Manders and Chris Stachera, members of Lake Villa American Legion Post 1219.

The parade and memorial ceremonies at Lehmann Park were, as in the past, hosted by Lake Villa VFW Post 4308. Following an invocation by Prince of Peace Associate Pastor Steven Dombrowski, Tony Sciacero, past commander of Post 4308, introduced each speaker.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) and State Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch) were unable to attend, as they were called to a special session of the legislature by Gov. Ryan. Bill Foos, an intern from Osmond's office, said a few words in his stead.

Bob Churchill addressed the relatively small crowd that gathered around the flagpole in the park.

A wreath was laid at the flagpole by Post Commander Wally Kraus and acting president of the Women's auxiliary, Liz Kehrer. Kraus also led a presentation of poppies at the site, to memorialize four men who survived war, but passed away during this year.

He reminded those assembled, "When we are selling poppies, it's to help each and every one of the veterans in hospitals who can't be here with us today."

The mayors of Lake Villa (Frank Loffredo) and Lindenhurst (Paul Baumunk) each paid homage to the war dead.

Baumunk, who previously had participated in a wreath-laying ceremony at Linden Plaza, repeated a theme of his earlier speech, as he embraced Sciacero and admonished the crowd, "If you see a veteran, or a member of the reserves, or someone on active duty, or a firefighter or police officer or rescue squad person, don't be bashful; step up to them and say 'thank you' for the sacrifices they make to keep us safe."

Wal-Mart rumored to be looking at site in Fox Lake

By STEVE PETERSON

Area towns surrounding Route 12 are hoping that they will be the site selected for a Wal-Mart to serve the Chain O' Lakes area, even though the big box store chain is known for putting small town merchants out of business.

"I have heard the rumors, but there have been no meetings," said Charles Schmidt, administrator for Lakemoor.

"It would be a very welcome thing for the area. Now people have to go to Crystal Lake, McHenry or Round Lake for a Wal-Mart," Schmidt said.

Fox Lake officials denied discussions with Wal-Mart have taken place and laughed off any suggestions of the retail giant coming to the village.

"They have not talked to us. I would love to see one. It would be great to have one here, though. You can't buy any furniture in this town, or appliances, you have to go someplace else," said Fox Lake trustee Ed Bender.

Mayor Nancy Koske said that no discussions have taken place with Wal-Mart.

Fox Lake has inked an agreement with Volo regarding future development along the Route 12 corridor. Fox Lake would receive 30 percent of sales tax revenues from a retail location in Volo. A jointly owned water tower would service the area, and hook-ups to Fox Lake's Northwest Wastewater Treatment Plant.

Volo Mayor Burnell Russell

could not be reached for comment. The latest village board meeting was canceled, with the next one slated for June 11.

A matter of time

Is it a matter of time before Wal-Mart is added to the register of local businesses? Maybe, maybe not.

"It's just a rumor that Wal-Mart is coming to Fox Lake," said Claude LeMere, community development director for Fox Lake. "We have never had an inquiry about Wal-Mart coming here."

LeMere added that the acreage the typical Wal-Mart requires would make it prohibitive in Fox Lake.

"It takes upwards of 25 acres to accommodate a Wal-Mart," said LeMere. "We just don't have that kind of space here."

Wal-Mart is also looking to put a box store in Antioch, just north of Fox Lake.

Only one official meeting regarding the proposal, a public hearing, has been held in Antioch. Despite that, defenders and naysayers have been lining up to share their views on both sides of the issue.

Predator faces multiple counts

By JULIE MURPHY

David A. Dudick, 37, of 910 Main St., Antioch, was arrested for predatory sexual assault of a child and aggravated criminal sexual abuse.

On May 22, a Lake County grand jury indicted Dudick on more than 140 child molestation-related charges.

Mike Mermel, chief of the Lake County state's attorney's felony trial division, said, "The sentencing is allowed to run concurrently. I haven't done the math, but he has many, many charges against him and stands to spend a long time in jail."

Predatory sexual assault of a child is a class X felony. If convicted, Dudick faces up to 30 years in the state penitentiary for each of the charges under that category.

Antioch Police Dept. Detective Sgt. Craig Somerville said, "Dudick maintained a sexual relationship with the victim for five years and which began when the victim was 10 years old."

Somerville said the victim has relocated and is receiving ongoing counseling. He added, "This is bringing closure for the victim."

After police received information about the long-term relationship, an "exhaustive" investigation was conducted leading to Dudick's arrest.

"A search warrant was obtained for Dudick's apartment that led to the discovery of a large amount of child pornography, drug paraphernalia and marijuana," said Somerville. "Police seized computer equipment, hard drives and numerous floppy discs as evidence."

Child pornography charges are still pending further investigation. Dudick was charged with possession of cannabis.

"Dudick was a trusted family friend and used that to take advantage of this youngster," said Somerville.

Great odds with Chamber raffle

Either a Caribbean Cruise or a stay at an all-inclusive resort in Cancun would take the humdrum out of summer.

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry will award one trip of choice to one of those two locations to the lucky person holding the winning ticket when the drawing is held at Antioch's Taste of Summer.

Only 300 tickets will be sold. Chances cost $25 each. There is an early bird prize of a set of luggage so buy a ticket today (early bird option ends June 1).

Call the Chamber for ticket information at 847-395-2233. Acceptable forms of payment include checks, cash, MasterCard and Visa.

Blood still needed after Sept. 11

First National Bank Employee-Owned (FNBO) will be holding a community blood drive on June 22 from 8 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

"Our LifeSource blood services representative has told us that they are in great need of blood at this time, the level of donors has dropped off since the initial surge as the result of the Sept. 11 tragedies," said Karen Kubin, marketing officer for the bank. "We are holding this blood drive to help LifeSource increase the much needed blood supply."

Volunteers need to be 17 years old, weigh a minimum of 110 pounds and be in healthy condition. Sixteen-year-olds are eligible to donate blood with written parental consent.

According to LifeSource literature, a healthy person replenishes the liquid portion of his or her blood supply in 24 hours.

Each week, LifeSource sends about 7,000 units of blood components to meet the needs of more than 160 hospitals and health care agencies in Chicago and the metropolitan area. Those wishing to schedule a donation time should call Kubin at 847-838-2265. Walk-ins are welcome.

No valid driver's license

Jacob Kurtz, 17, of 8009 198th Ave., Bristol, Wis., was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license in the parking lot of Antioch Community High School on May 17 at 3:12 p.m.

An officer on foot patrol saw Kurtz pull into the parking lot. The officer instructor Kurtz to pull over knowing through prior knowledge that Kurtz was suspended in Wisconsin and did not have an Illinois driver's license.

This information was confirmed through LEADS/NCIC/SOS.

Kurtz was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued a citation for driving with no valid driver's license.

Kurtz was released on $1,000 recognizance bond pending his June 12 court date.

Hitchhiking

Kenneth E. Piasecki, 55, of 19900 128th St., Bristol, Wis., was arrested for hitchhiking on May 16 at 10:45 a.m. on North Ave. at Nelson Rd.

Two days prior, police had issued Piasecki a warning for hitchhiking on the same road. This time, instead of giving him a ride home, police transported Piasecki to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued a citation for pedestrian soliciting rides.

Piasecki was released on personal recognizance pending his June 12 court date.

LAKE VILLA

Pamela L. Culotta, 36, of 5511 31 Ave., Kenosha, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on May 17, at 1:00 a.m., while driving on Petite Lake Road, east of Fairfield. She was observed driving at an estimated 10 mph above the speed limit, and was seen crossing the center line on the road. She came to a rolling stop at Fairfield, and at Route 83, stopped at the light in the intersection, past the stop line. She failed field sobriety tests and refused breath tests. She was charged with DUI, improper lane usage and stop sign violation. She is to appear in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on June 21, at 9 a.m.

Geoffrey A. Perberg, 22, of 1341 Edington Lane, Mundelein, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on May 18, at 2:15 a.m., while driving westbound on Route 132 near Oak Lane. He was observed driving 44 mph in a 30-mph zone and weaving across the center line. He admitted drinking four beers, and registered .089 BAC on a breath test. He was charged with DUI, DUI over .08 BAC, speeding and improper lane usage. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on June 28, at 9 a.m.

Lori Rodriguez, 41, of 902 Corona Court, Round Lake Beach, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on May 15, at 1:56 a.m., while driving on Fairfield Road near Monaville. She was observed to have a broken taillight, showing a white light rather than a red one. She was seen crossing the fog line. She failed field sobriety tests and admitted drinking four rum and coke drinks. She blew .154 BAC on a PBT, but was unable to blow a valid sample on an Intoxilizer test. She was charged with DUI, improper lane usage and improper lighting. She was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on June 12, at 9 a.m.

As a result of the safety checkpoint set up by the Lake Villa Police and the Lake County Sheriff's office, three people were arrested under zero tolerance/illegal consumption by minor laws.

Passengers Eric G. Olson, 17, of 30 West Ave., Riverside and Elizabeth Eckland, 18, of 1565 Robin, Bannockburn were arrested by Lake Villa Police on May 18, at 2:31 a.m., at the checkpoint at Pleviak School, Grand Avenue at Route 83. Their driver, David J. Dillingham, 20, of 1146 Alden Lane, Buffalo Grove, was arrested under zero tolerance laws and for driving an uninsured motor vehicle.

Olson and Eckland took PBTs, testing at .081 BAC and .132 BAC respectively. Olson admitted drinking 4-5 beers. Eckland admitted drinking two beers. Dillingham nearly hit reserve deputies as he was entering the checkpoint. The deputies were wearing reflective gear. He refused breath testing.

Olson and Eckland are to appear in Grayslake Branch III court, on June 12, at 3 p.m. Dillingham was released on a $2,000 I-bond, pending his court appearance.

Sean H. Denney, 27, of 2109 Sherman Ave., Evanston, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on May 12, at 2:00 a.m., while driving westbound on Route 132 near Offield. He was observed driving 44 mph in a 30-mph zone. Police found an open bottle containing "a sip" of beer. A breath test yielded a result of .138 BAC. He was charged with DUI, DUI over .08 BAC and illegal transport of alcohol. He was released on a $2,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on June 7, at 9 a.m.

LINDENHURST

Possession of cannabis

Jacob T. Moravec, 17, of 3900 N. Grant, Westmont, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on May 26, at 10:47 a.m., at the Mobil station at 2200 E. Grand Ave. He was charged with possession of less than 30 grams of cannabis. He is to appear in Grayslake Branch III court, on July 3 at 1:30 p.m.

Inaugural Friday Fest paves way for largest arts, crafts fair

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"This will be a great three-day weekend with the start of Friday Fest before the Arts and Crafts Faire on Saturday and Sunday," said Barbara Porch, director of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry. "Friday Fest is a great way to start off any weekend, but it will really make this weekend special with both the fair and Father's Day."

The theme of the first Friday of the festival is "God Bless America. A special tribute will be paid to Antioch's heroes who serve on police department, fire department and rescue squad. The Lakes Area Choir will perform from 5-6:30 p.m. and will be followed by the Lakes Area Community Band at 8 p.m.

Brian Johnson, the Antioch Community High School senior who created the smirky sunshine that is the Friday Fest logo, will be part of the inaugural Friday Fest Ceremony before the concert of June 14.

"The Arts and Crafts Faire just keeps growing bigger every single year," said Porch. "It's not a just a local crafts fair. We have artisans and crafters from around the country." It will be held on June 15-16 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday and from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Sunday on Toft St.

Fridays in Antioch will begin at 10 a.m. with a showcase of merchants in the business district. "Merchants will be bringing some of their special wares out on the sidewalks," said Glenda Sorensen, community development director. "It will make the area more festive and will bring attention to our truly unique shops."

Porch also hopes local merchants will see an increase in their businesses from those coming in for the Arts and Crafts Faire. "We've been putting coupons in the local papers that will allow people the opportunity to win $250 in Chamber gift certificates," she said.

"In the past, we've allowed them to be turned in at the Chamber information booth at the fair, but this year they have to be turned into one of the merchants who is a Chamber member."

The rest of the Friday festivities will happen down by the William Brook Memorial Sanctuary and Entertainment Center at Orchard St. and Skidmore.

The Farmers' Market will open at 3 p.m. at 900 Skidmore in the parking lot giving residents an opportunity to buy fresh goodies in an open market atmosphere. The market will remain open until 7 p.m.

At the same time the Farmers' Market is running, children will have the opportunity to participate in the Itty Bitty Barter Toy Exchange. "We recommend that a parent accompany the children," said Sorensen. "It's great that the kids will be able to swap things, but a parent should be there to approve the trade."

Food and beverage booths will open at about 5 p.m. "It's possible that water and pop will be sold throughout the day," said Sorensen.

"We're supposed to be moving all of our (Antioch's) events back by the Brook Memorial Wetland Sanctuary and Entertainment Center, but we got permission to keep this event on Toft St. this year," said Tam Alleman, chair of the arts and crafts fair for the Chamber.

According to Porch, there will be more than 100 booths will be filled with wares from those traveling in from Florida, Arizona and California as well as from Illinois and Wisconsin. "We've expanded toward the center of the municipal parking lot because our first 100 booths filled so quickly," she said. "We had so much interest and we didn't want to have to turn some of the artists and crafters away."

Porch explained that the Chamber sponsored event has made such a good reputation for itself that people are coming to the Chamber to ask to be included. "It's great for the consumers because there are so many more and varied items," said Porch. "This is a juried show. We do our best to ensure that everything is truly handmade."

Alleman said that in addition to the arts and crafts, there has been an increase in food vendors for this year's show. Consumable products will include kettle corn, yogurt smoothies, Italian ice, hot dogs and brats and a variety of sweets.

For Friday Fest, there will parking available on the west side of Toft St. "There will also be parking available on the northeast corner of Orchard and Main (the old Country Pontiac)," said Sorensen. "There will also be some parking in the lot behind the stores on the east side of Main St."

Parking will be available at the Metra parking lot, over by the old Country Pontiac and in the parking lot behind the shops that line the east side of Main St. for the Arts and Crafts Faire on Saturday and Sunday.

For Margie Gonzalez, there is more adorning her front door than just an artificial wreath.

"About three weeks ago, I noticed a bird had built a nest at the top of my wreath on the front door," she said. "When I got up on a stool to see if there were eggs, I was surprised to find that there were two different types."

With one hatchling in the nest, there are four eggs left. The two smaller eggs are light blue with brown speckles. The larger eggs are tan with brown speckles.

Gonzalez said she thinks the two birds responsible are a Cardinal and a Sparrow.

"We always had a summer home on the lake and just love it up here," she said. "We really love the small town community."

Gonzalez said she plans to barricade her front door now that the birds have begun to hatch. "I want to try to protect them."

Scout trio earns Eagle honors

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

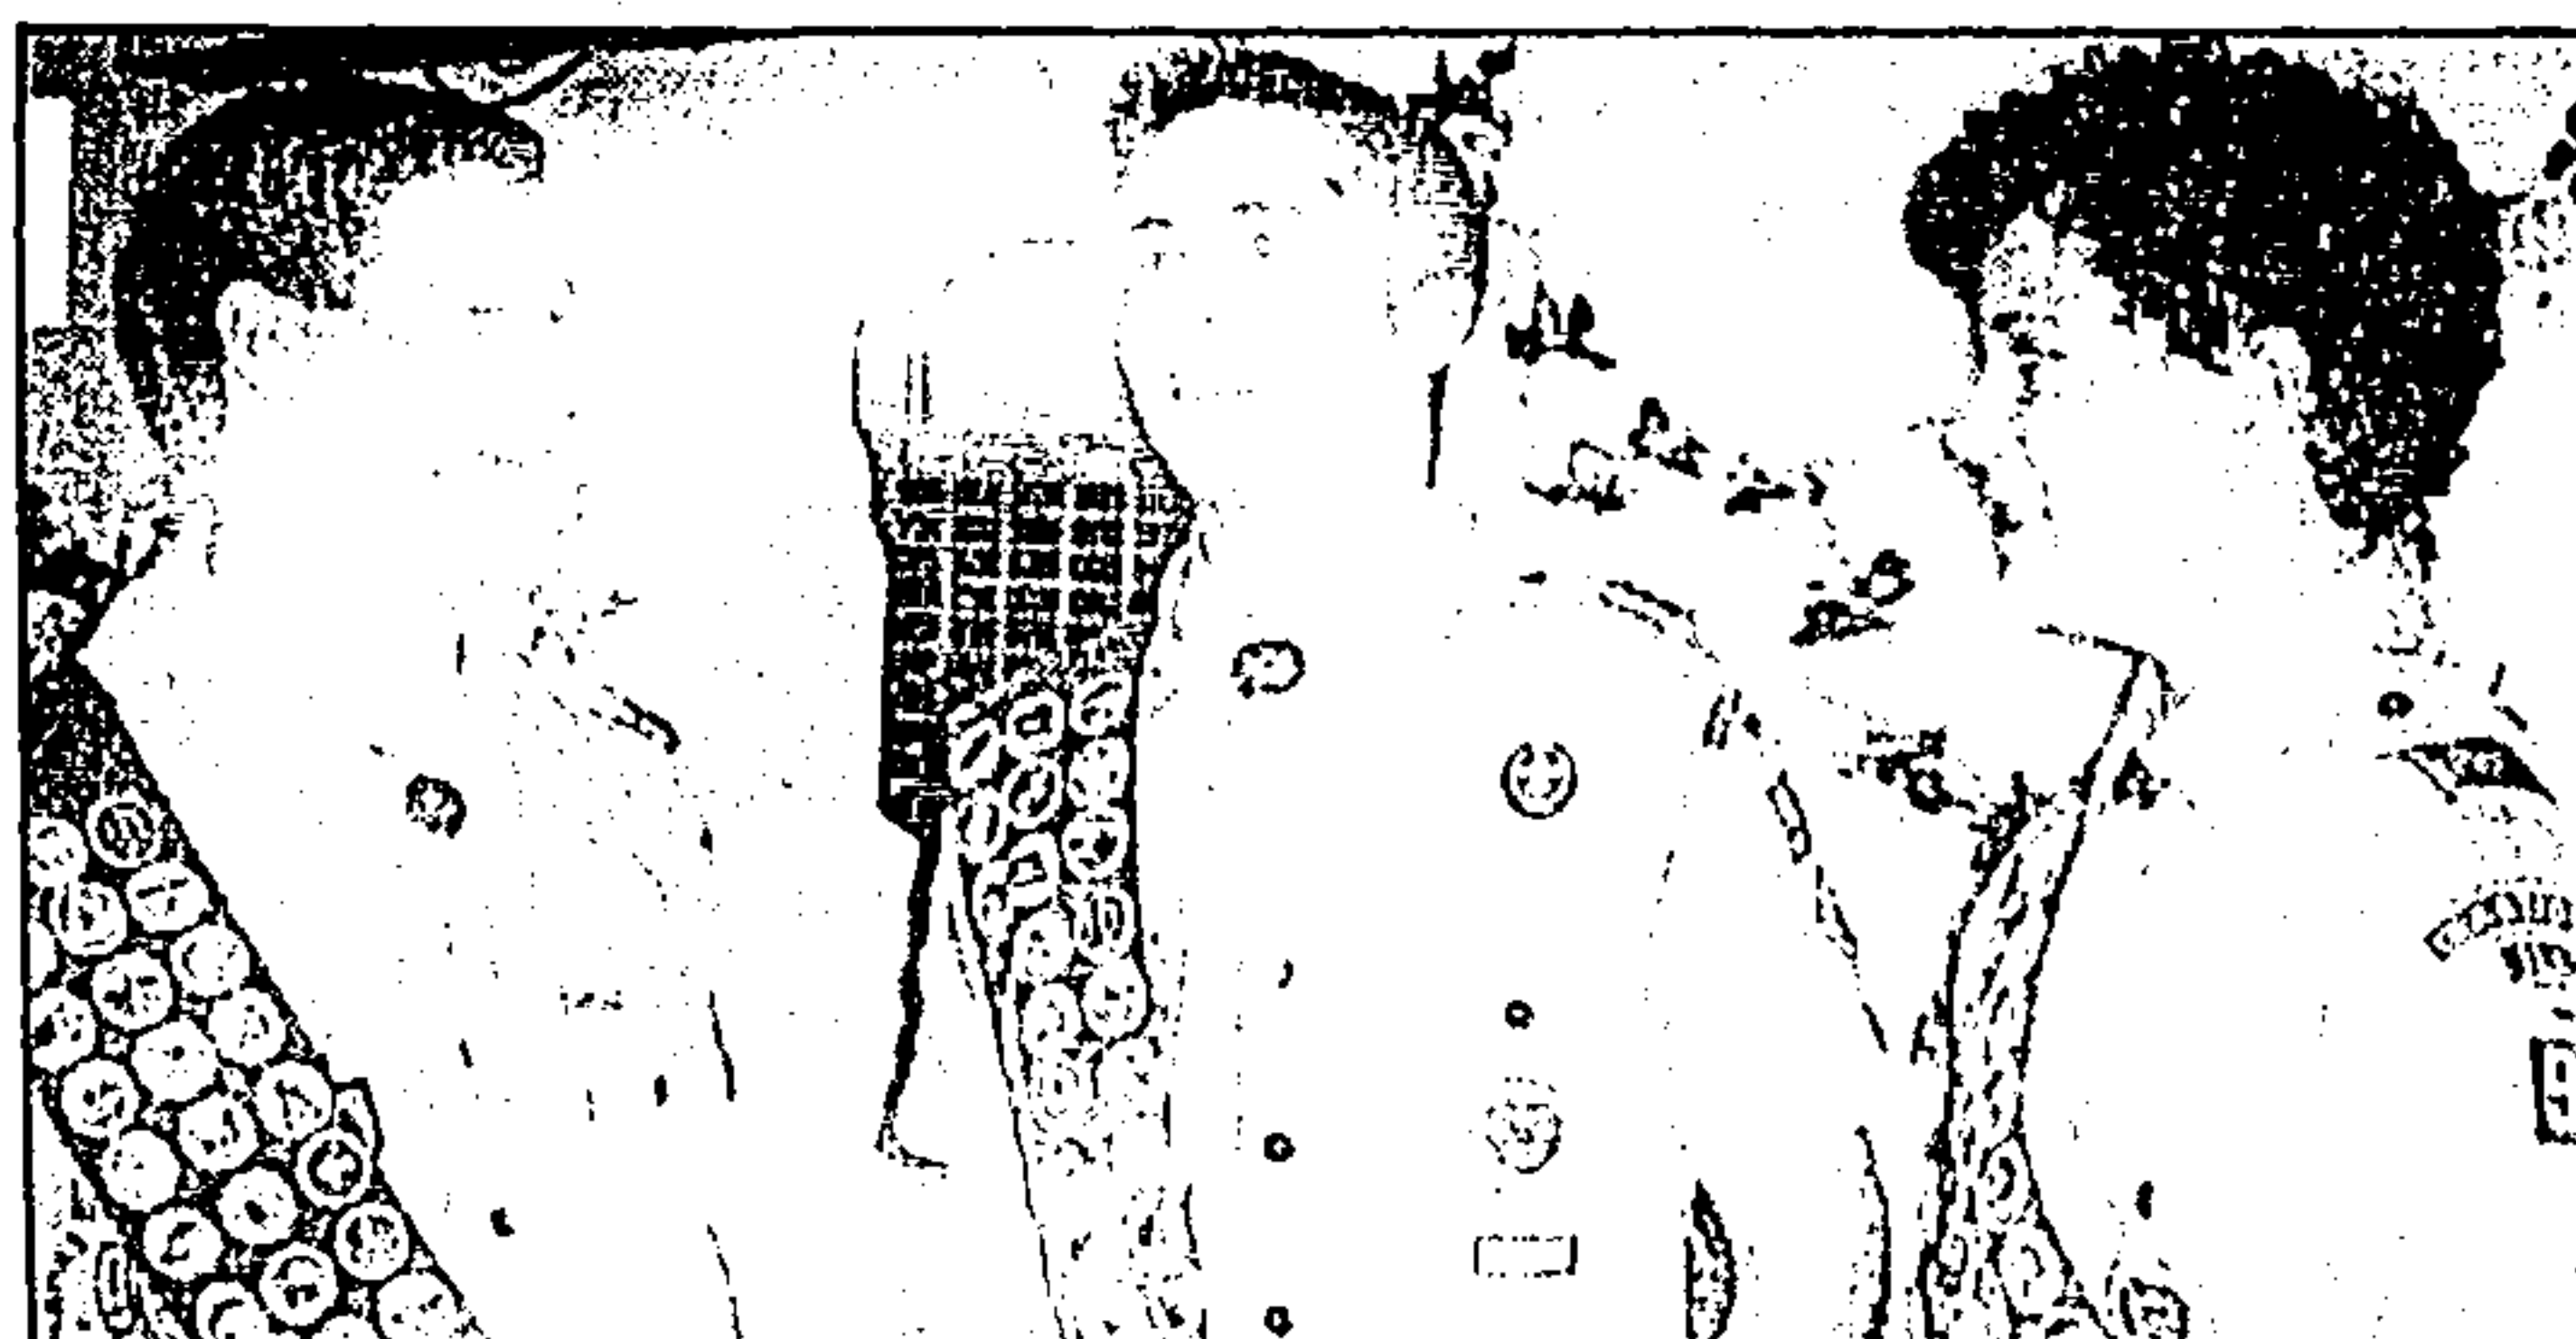

It's said that only two of every 100 scouts fulfill the requirements to become Eagle Scouts, and Antioch is producing its share.

Boy Scout Troop 92 held a ceremony to honor the three newest members to the highest rank in scouting: Matt Colby, Tim Veach and Rod Wirth. Each earned the more than 20 merit badges required and saw through fruition community projects of more than 100 man hours apiece.

Though the three spent about the last six years together in Troop 92, they had different beginnings with the scouts. Colby said he didn't get "serious" about Boy Scouts until he was in sixth grade. Both Veach and Wirth were always committed to going all the way to Eagle Scout; Veach went up through the Cub Scouts in Tennessee.

"We do all kinds of things together," the young men said in near unison, and concurred that they were a source of support for one another including the help they gave to one another on their Eagle projects.

Wirth said that no one individual scout is responsible for the entire 100-hour project. "All of the planning and phone calls go toward that 100 hours," he said. All of the projects were completed at the Northern Illinois Conservation Club in Antioch. "The president of NICC gives us (Troop 92) a wish list of projects at the Conservation Club," said

Cutline: Matt Colby, Tim Veach and Rod Wirth, all of Boy Scout Troop 92, share memories of the fun and hard work it took to earn the highest honor of Eagle Scout. A special ceremony and dinner was held for the boys at the Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge 525 in Antioch. —Photo by Julie Murphy

Wirth. "These projects often fulfill the needs of someone going to Eagle and helps out the club."

Veach built a bridge across a stream on the property making trails on the other side accessible to those with handicaps.

Wirth built and placed 10 bat houses on the Conservation Club property. "It took a lot of research," he said. "The houses have to be 15-20 feet in the air and no more than one-quarter mile from a water source. The benefit is that each bat eats about 10,000 mosquitoes per night."

In return for getting help with its larger projects, the NICC allows the scouts to use its facilities for various activities.

"It's a great sense of accomplishment to make it to Eagle," said Veach. "We are lucky that we had so many adults involved with our troop, each of a different profession, so we had lots of different options when we wanted to do something."

Colby, who is a senior, said there were some worrisome moments as the rank of Eagle has to be achieved by 18 years old. "It's a huge relief to have gotten this done. I really want to thank Mrs. (Linda) Veach for keeping on top of us." Linda Veach is the advancement chair who keeps track of all the scouts' paperwork in the troop.

Wirth added, "We couldn't have done this without Mr. Dave Edwards, Wayne Veach and Bill Bruno (Scoutmasters)."

Learn how to retire a flag properly

At the Memorial Day ceremony held at the VFW Hall in Antioch, members of both the post, members of the Ladies Auxiliary and members of the American Legion gave heartfelt speeches about honoring Old Glory.

Residents will have a unique opportunity to learn how to retire a flag properly at the VFW Hall located on at 75 North Ave. on June 1. The event will run from 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

In addition to the educational opportunity, VFW Sequoit Post 4551 is hosting an open house with a pig roast lunch.

"So far we have over 100 flags to burn," said Junior Vice Commander Bob Lindblad. Tim Goodwin, a member to Fox Lake Boy Scout Troop 85 who is going for Eagle Scout, came up with the idea. "Burning is the proper way to dispose of worn out flags, ones that are torn or damaged," the dignitaries invited will be in town and able to attend," said Lindblad.

For those who don't already know, Bob Lindblad will be the Grand Marshall of the Fourth of July parade.

Lindblad, who is also president of the Lakes Region Historical Society, said that thanks to Fire Chief Dennis Volling and the rest of the department, the historical society will be able to ring its bell at the beginning of the parade.

"The rope had needed replacing for some time," said Lindblad. "The fire department came out with the big rig to put a new rope on the bell in the tower."

said Lindblad. "The scouts will have an opportunity to learn about the right way to do this."

The VFW is supplying the roast pig and the drinks for the burning.

Families are encouraged to come to the post to witness this unique event.

Lindblad said other scouting troops, including some Girl Scout troops, may participate in the burning in addition to Troop 85. He added that some dignitaries had been invited including Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) and Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch).

Young adults and adults are invited to join the Antioch Public Library in its summer reading program "Free to Read."

Those between the ages of 12-112 years old may participate by reading or listening to at least six books between June 17-July 29. Reading logs should be turned into the reference desk at any time during the program and prizes will be awarded.

Program registration begins June 1.

Library plans road trip

Every summer the Antioch Public Library plans a reading adventure for the area's children. This year's summer reading program is "Reading Road Trip, USA."

Registration will take place June 1-15 at the children's desk in the library.

Reading Road Trip adventurers must be 3-12 years old. The journey begins on June 17 and ends July 29. For more information, check the web site www.antiochdistrictlibrary.org.

Rescue Squad plans ongoing relief efforts

The Antioch Rescue Squad is establishing a drop off station at its headquarters located at 825 Holbek Dr. for the disaster recovery effort in New York.

The American Red Cross in New York told the Antioch Rescue Squad that it would be in need of the following items over the next 10-14 months: Vicks VapoRub, knee pads, respirator masks, saline nasal spray, camping shovels, new work boots (size 10 and larger), large and extra large T shirts, flashlights, flashlight batteries, work socks, coveralls with suspenders (K-Mart) and work gloves.

Additionally, small cash donations will be needed to help offset the costs incurred by the rescue squad for packing and shipping.

Golfers' Challenge

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry is hosting its annual golf outing on July 31 and is featuring a "hole in one" opportunity for someone to win a new car or a new truck.

Golf and lunch will be held at the Antioch Golf Course and dinner at the Harbor Club.

Hole and tee sponsors are being accepted as well as raffle donations to ensure everyone has a "swinging good time."

Call the Chamber at 847-395-2233 to reserve a foursome or sponsorship or raffle donation.

CPR classes held

The Antioch Rescue Squad and the Antioch Fire Dept. offer CPR classes to the public on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 6 p.m. at the Antioch Fire

Dept. located at 835 Holbek Dr.

The fee of $5-$15 per person (depending on the class needed) is payable at the time of the class. For more information or to make reservations, call the Antioch Fire Dept. at 847-395-5511.

St. Peter's supports singles

St. Peter Church has a support group, St. Peter's Singles, that supports the emotional needs of those separated, divorced or widowed. The group meets on the second Monday of the month in the church basement.

All ages and denominations are welcome to attend the meetings.

Enter the church on the east side, back entrance. For more information, call either Deacon Bob Gagnon at 847-395-3024 (e-mail at deaconag@yahoo.com) or Patti Vavrina at 847-740-0417 (e-mail diuviacon@aol.com).

FOOT NOTES

Dr. Lee M. Tisa, Podiatrist

NEUROMAS...A CONSTANT SOURCE OF FOOT PAIN

Morton's neuroma is an incredibly painful condition affecting the foot. A neuroma is a thickening and/or swelling of the sensory nerve of the foot. The pain from a neuroma is episodic in nature, at first is usually bearable, a sort of a dull stinging and burning sensation, which radiates to the 2nd, 3rd, 4th or 5th toes. Pain progresses, however, to a sporadic pain of excruciating level that radiates into the involved toes and feels like it's taking over the entire foot. It is often said that sufferers feel compelled to remove their shoes and to flex and massage their toes rapidly to gain relief. Treatment of neuromas usually consists of conservative therapy such as alterations to the shoe, cortisone injections to the area, orthotic devices, which are custom arch supports.

If none of these measures work, surgery is the desired course of action and is the most effective in resolving the problem. Should you experience a dull or severe burning pain in your foot especially in the areas of the base of the toes; 2, 3, 4 or 5, please feel free to contact Dr. Lee Tisa for a no cost consultation to discuss your condition.

Caring people / loving special children

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

For most people there is no greater reward than seeing their children healthy, happy, playing and successful, but for some parents that have children born with physical or mental disabilities, even though they love their children, sometimes life can seem like a never-ending struggle.

That is where SEDOL and its 1,100 employees, come in.

The main campus on Gages Lake Road just east of Route 45 in Gages Lake, which is where the more severely handicapped children are taught. The children need around-the-clock care.

Some need to be fed, clothed and helped with routine skills so they can function a bit on their own at home.

One of them is little Cameron, an active six-year-old, who attends the on-site Early Learning Center. Through various programs he learns to do everyday tasks that most people take for granted. He overcomes his inability to verbalize by using pictures to communicate.

Voice output devices and computers help to tell stories and teach him and fellow students how to make correct choices.

Under the watchful and caring staff, including Christina Swanson, 23, of Round Lake Beach, these children receive love and attention.

"I love the children and I love my job," said Swanson. "It's so rewarding when you see them smile or when they give you a hug."

SEDOL (Special Education District of Lake County) was formed in 1960 with a purpose of providing cooperative program planning, instructional programs, related services and professional development. The goal is to assure an appropriate education for children with disabilities from birth through age 21.

SEDOL's geographic area covers about 400 square miles within Lake County and provides educational programs for over 2,600 students with mild to severe disabilities in 36 different school districts.

In addition, it annually provides diagnostic services for over 3,000 children and their families.

The employees include teachers, teacher assistants, and a wide variety of support staff such as audiologists, nurses, occupational therapists, prevocational coordinators, psychologists, social workers, speech pathologists and numerous others.

Principal Tom Bartels, of Laremont School, beamed with pride in the "sensory room" which contained visually impaired children being exposed to lights, aroma therapy, sound waves and massage mats that help stimulate their senses.

In the music room a lady entertained six children and six staff members with a guitar rendition of "Old MacDonald Had a Farm."

A staff member said it was heartwarming to see the children try to sing and move to the music.

In the "gross motor room," high school students with severe physical disabilities were being taught how to throw a ball and get on and off a swing.

Bartels seemed to know all the children and staff by their names, as he would encourage the kids at what they were doing. "It is very important these children get physical exercise," said Bartels.

He also had praise for his staff. "It is a lot of hard emotional work but everybody who works here is here because they want to work here. How many places can say that?"

He added, "Our goal is to get the children to be able to function in a less restrictive environment."

In every room Bartels had praise for the children and staff. Not surprisingly, the staff returned the compliment.

"Tom Bartels is a wonderful person and all the parents I talk to say the same thing," said Swanson.

SEDOL is funded by local member school districts, state reimbursements programs, grants and federal grants.

Still there are some costs that are not covered and that is where the SEDOL Foundation comes in.

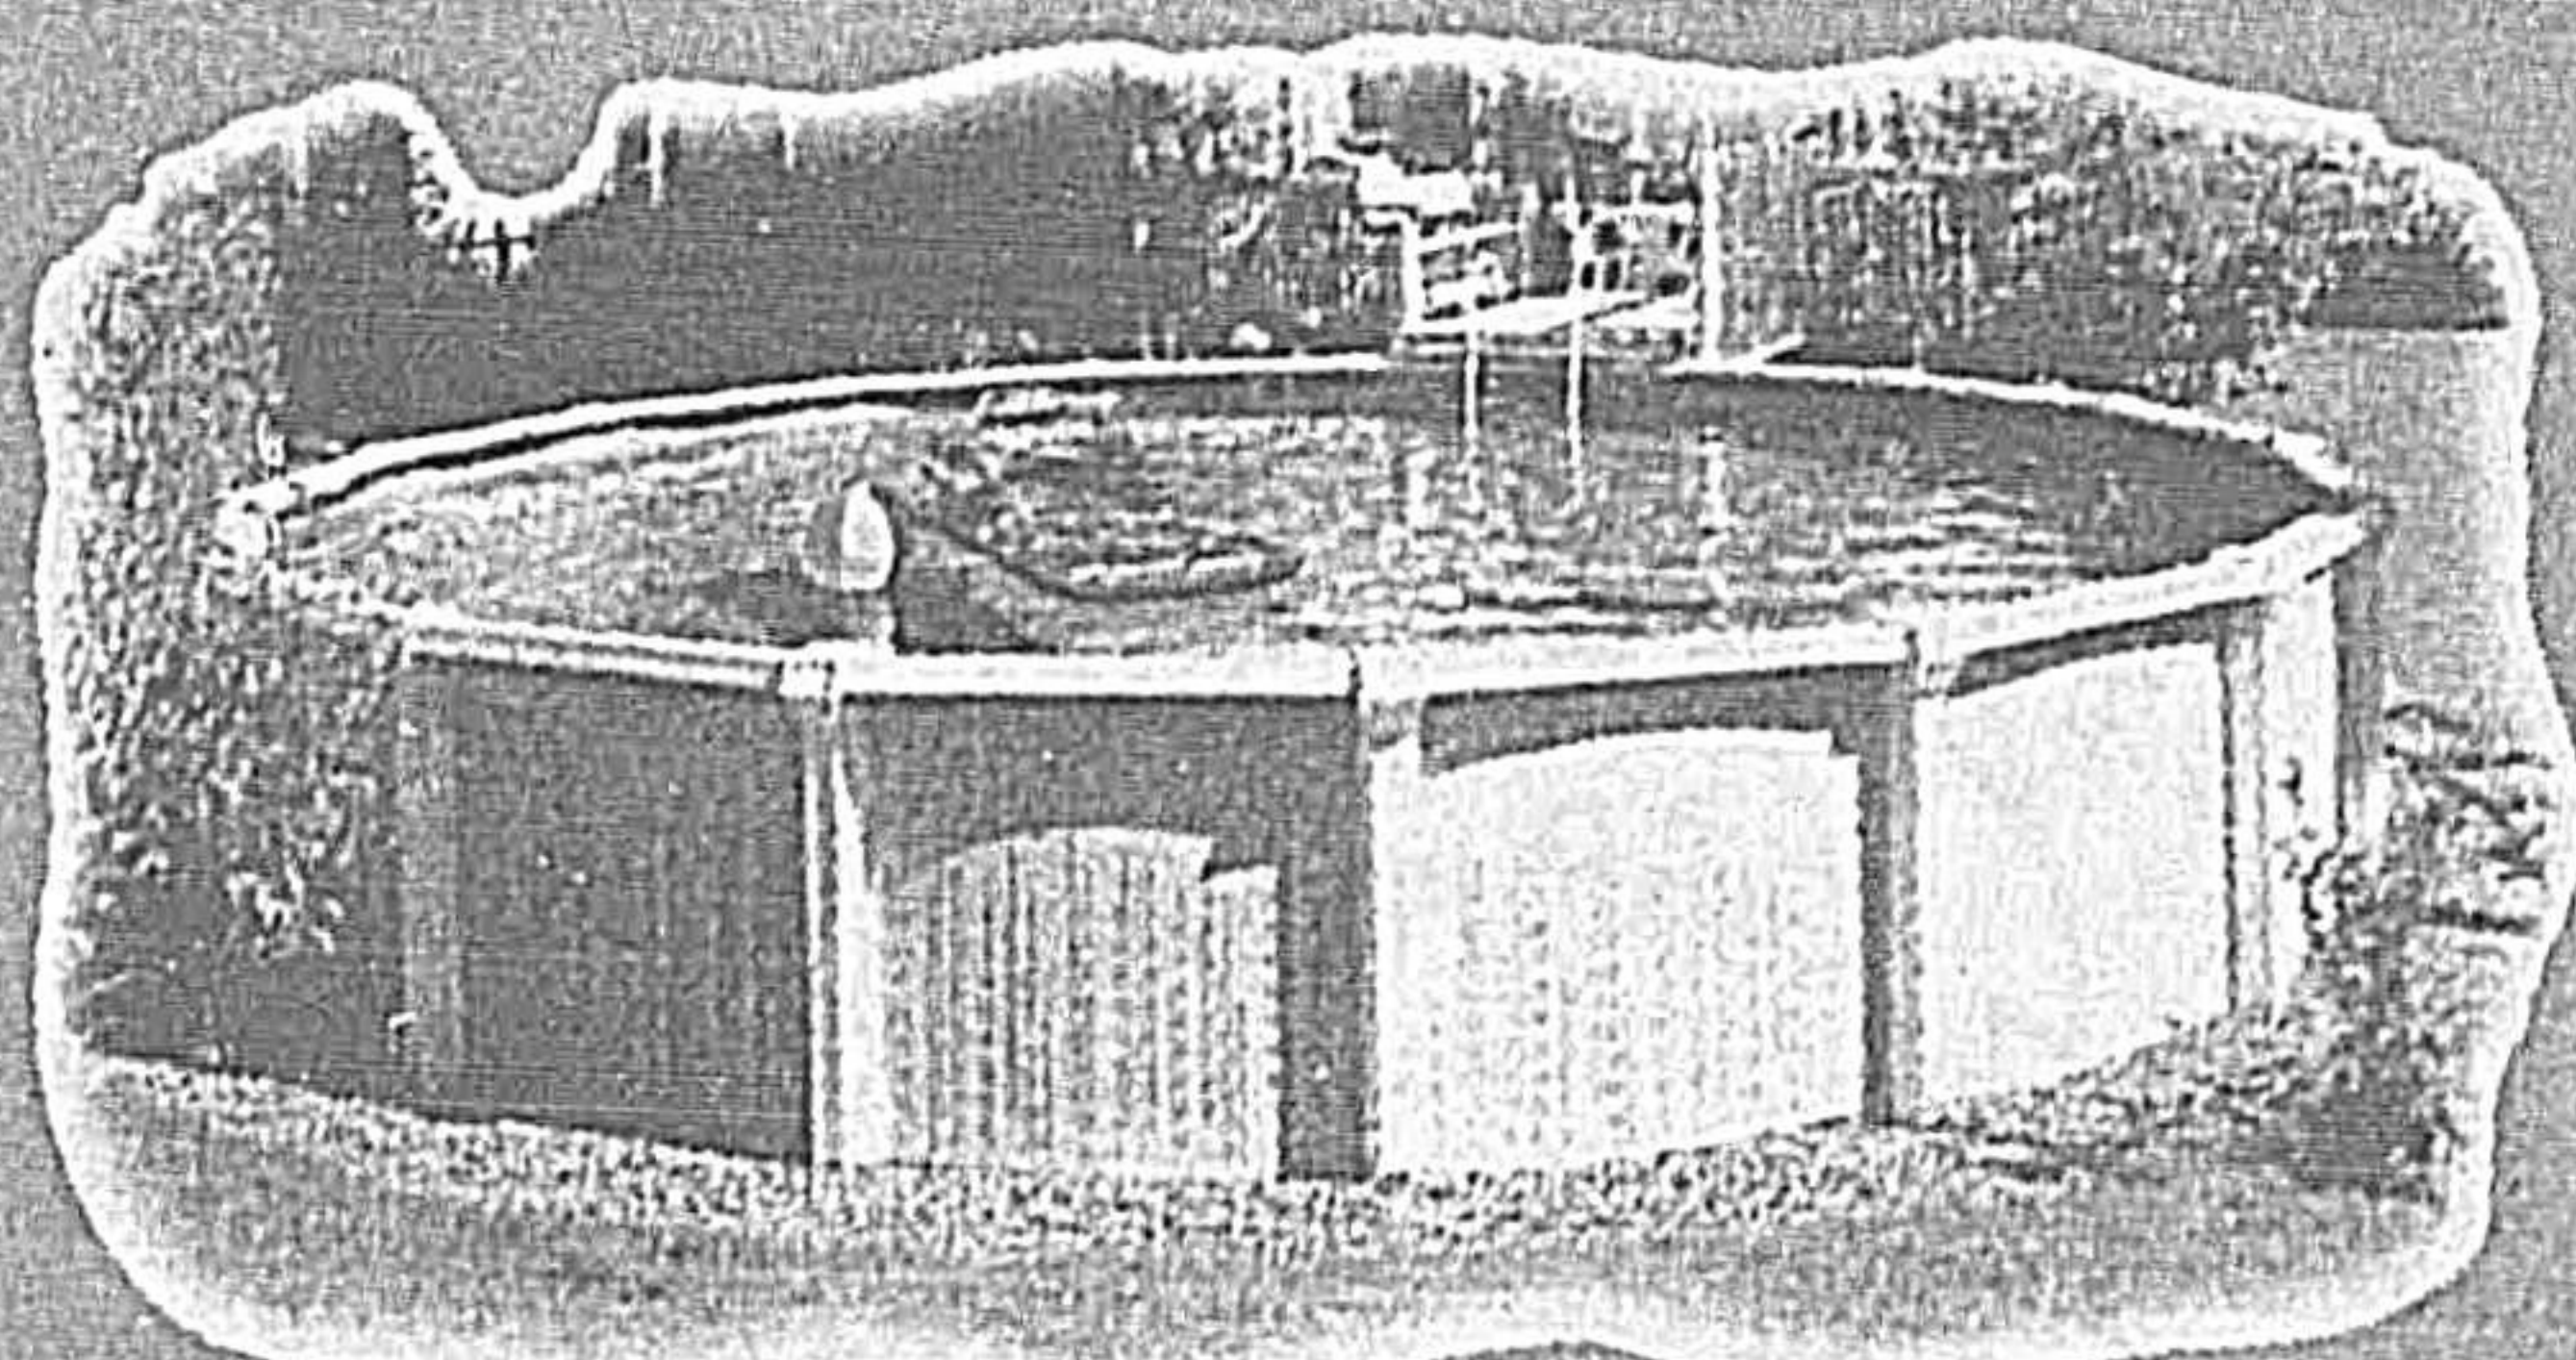

According to Wendy Smith, executive director, the mission of the foundation is to enhance public awareness and generate resources to enrich vocational and social opportunities for these special needs children.

One project underway right now is the "Send a Kid to Camp" program.

John Burnett is the president of Anchor Bank in Grayslake and also chairman of the foundation.

"Many of these children need year-around attention and camp helps give a break to the parents. A third of these kids

House tours at artists' community

The Ragdale Foundation, an artists' community at 1230 N. Green Bay Rd. in Lake Forest, offers Tuesday morning tours of the historic house and gardens of Chicago architect Howard Van Doren Shaw. Tours begin promptly at 10 a.m. every Tuesday morning, from June 4-Sept. 24.

The tours last for one-and-a-half hours and cost $5 per person. Wear comfortable shoes as a lot of walking is involved. There is some parking on the property, and on West Laurel Avenue, south of the Ragdale House. To make a reservation call 847-234-1063, ext. 205.

The American Arts and Crafts-style Ragdale house, situated at the edge of 55 acres of virgin prairie, was designed and built in 1897 by esteemed Chicago architect Howard Van Doren Shaw. It has been a haven for artists ever since. The property is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, as is the adjoining Barn house, also a part of the Foundation. The Ragdale house is furnished with many of the Shaw family's antiques of the Arts and Crafts period. The tour includes the ground floor of the Ragdale house and the surrounding, semi-formal gardens.

Every year over 200 artists come to Ragdale from all over the United States and many other countries, to work in the peace and serenity of the Ragdale environment. Twelve artists are in residence at a time, including writers, poets, visual artists, composers, performance artists, choreographers and photographers.

For more information on the Foundation contact the web site at www.ragdale.org.

AUDITIONS

Choir

The Red Cross Children's Choir of Lake County will be holding an audition for their 2002-03 season in June. Children entering grades 2-12 are eligible to audition. Please call choir manager, Amy Younts at 847-548-8432 for an audition information packet.

The Choir will be beginning their sixth season and currently have four choirs with over 140 children representing over 20 different Lake County and northern Cook County communities.

Dining Out For Life announced

Dining Out for Life is planned for Thursday, June 6. This will be the ninth year for the event in Chicago, which spotlights area restaurants in a unified cause to benefit local AIDS service organizations.

Dining Out for Life invites local residents to participate in the event by selecting one of the participating restaurants and dining there on June 6. As a result of their efforts, the participating restaurant agrees to donate a portion of the day's revenues to an AIDS service organization in their area. This year's benefiting agencies include AIDSCARE and CHICAGO HOUSE.

Nearly 100 restaurants participated in the event last year, helping to generate over $80,000 in funds to assist individuals in Chicago and surrounding communities who are living with HIV/AIDS. It is anticipated that this year's event will be even greater and have a broader reach into the community.

As part of the excitement and growth of Dining Out for Life, Chicago artist David Csicsko has agreed to create a new and exciting image for Dining Out for Life this year. Csicsko promises to bring about a fresh, inviting feel to the posters, postcards, invitations and dining guides for the event.

AIDSCARE president Jim Flosi stated, "This will be a new look to an event the community is already familiar with. We hope that the new image will help to raise awareness again about a disease that has not gone away. In fact, the HIV epidemic is on the rise in Chicago and people need to be aware of the impact it still has on our communities."

Volunteers and restaurant hosts help to make Dining Out for Life successful. For more information about the event or to inquire about volunteer opportunities, contact Kenneth Arron, Director of Special Events at AIDSCARE at 773-935-4663.

Loving the Golden Years

Adults aged 55 and over are invited to participate in interesting workshops, browse tables on information, sit back and enjoy some entertainment and perhaps even buy a book of interest at "A Celebration of Aging!" on the morning of June 3. Presented by Vista Health, in conjunction with the Elder College at the college of Lake County and the Village at Victory Lakes continuing care retirement community, "A Celebration of Aging!" is a morning designed with the interests of older adults in mind.

The morning will begin with a special look at growing older as seen through the eyes of Lake County's favorite lady, coroner Barbara Richardson. Her comments on "The Joys of Aging" are bound to bring a few nods and some smiles from the audience. Several workshops are planned to follow her address and the event will end with door prizes and lunch.

"A Celebration of Aging!" will be held from 8 a.m.-1 p.m. on Monday, June 3, at the College of Lake County, Grayslake. The $20 registration fee ($15 for Senior Spirit members) includes continental breakfast, workshops, entertainment and box lunch. For an informational registration packet, call 1-800-843-2464.

come from single parent families, and 40 percent of these families earn less than $25,000 a year," said Burnett, as he explained the Importance of raising funds for these children. "In fact, 34 percent of families who applied last year for summer camp assistance had annual incomes of less than $15,000."

The foundation's goal is to raise $40,000 to help send as many of these special children as they can to camp.

Fennel, lentil ragout a Pacific Northwest favorite

Portland, Ore. restaurateur and chef Cory Schreiber showcases the foods of the Pacific Northwest in "Wildwood" (Ten Speed Press, 2000).

Planked salmon, pan-fried oysters and baked spot prawns with potato-saffron aioli are among the delicacies he features, along with personal narrative and intriguing photographs.

The author quotes the late celebrated culinary expert James Beard, who hailed Oregon for the endless potential of its indigenous ingredients: "No other place on earth, with the exception of Paris, has done as much to influence my professional life."

COOKING by the BOOK

One entrée of Schreiber's that's particularly pleasing involves an unusual pairing of fennel, red lentils and carrots.

Red Lentils and Fennel Ragout with Bacon, Carrots and Thyme

(Serves four as an entrée or side dish)

4 oz. sliced bacon, cut into 1/2-in. strips
2 carrots, peeled and thinly sliced
1 bulb fennel, trimmed, halved and thinly sliced
1 small yellow onion, thinly sliced
1 tsp. salt
2 cups chicken stock or vegetable stock

1 tsp. minced fresh thyme
1/2 tsp. freshly ground black pepper
1 cup dried red lentils, soaked in warm water for 1 hour and drained
1 tsp. grated lemon zest
3 Tbl. fresh lemon juice

In a large skillet, cook the bacon over medium heat until crisp. Using a slotted spoon, transfer the bacon to paper towels to drain. To the bacon drippings, add the carrots, fennel, onion and salt.

Sauté for 6 to 8 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in the stock, thyme, pepper and lentils. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer for 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Look for the lentils to double in size and to absorb most of the stock.

Mix in the lemon zest, lemon juice and bacon and serve.

32nd Annual Rendezvous at Fort de Chartres

The Midwest's largest gathering of 1700s era soldiers, settlers, traders and campers, the 32nd Annual Rendezvous at Fort de Chartres, will be held Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2, at Fort de Chartres State Historic Site near Prairie du Rocher.

Rendezvous features 1700s military units, traditional craft demonstrations, period music and dancing, an 18th century fashion show, black powder shooting events, cannon firings and more from the time when France controlled what is now the state of Illinois. All activities are free and open to the public, and many feature public participation. The event is co-sponsored by the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency and Les Coureurs de Bois de Fort de Chartres.

Each day's activities begin with the Opening Ceremony and Posting of Colours at 10 a.m. The Retreat Ceremony ends each day's activities at 4:30 p.m.

Rendezvous is famous for its period shooting and military competitions. Saturday will feature rifle aggregate and smoothbore competition from 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Sunday will feature a knife and hawk throwing competition from 10:30 a.m.-1 p.m., and La Grande Cannon Fusillade (The Big Cannon Shootout) from 10:30 a.m.-3 p.m. The fort's cannon will be fired hourly, preceded by an instruction in the art of cannon firing by the 17th Illinois Territorial Rangers, French Colonial Artillerie and a British artillery unit.

Scores of period artisan and craft demonstrations will include pottery, blacksmithing, silversmithing, coopering, pewter casting, felt making, silk ribbon embroidery, bow making, weaving, woodworking, basketry, hornsmithing, gunsmithing, treenware making, silhouette cutting and cordwaining. Many items will be for sale.

The River Gate Food Court will feature a variety of period food, drink and musical entertainment under a large tent. A period dance for participants and visitors will be held from 8-11 p.m. Saturday north of the Food Court.

Those who utilize the special event parking area near Fort de Chartres will be charged $5 per car and $10 per bus. There will be no modern camping facilities.

The Ste. Genevieve/Modoc Ferry will operate throughout Rendezvous weekend. The ferry will run between Ste. Genevieve, Missouri and the Illinois side of the river. Fees are $6 per car or pickup truck ($10 round trip) or $12 if towing a trailer. The charge is $25 for school or tour buses.

Fort de Chartres State Historic Site, administered by the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, is located four miles west of Prairie du Rocher and 37 miles south of Belleville. Take Route 3 to Route 155 and follow the signs.

Terrorists try to manipulate the United States and Russia into a nuclear shooting war. They will then come in and pick up the pieces from the two decimated, former superpowers and establish themselves as new world leaders.

Based upon a Tom Clancy novel, and thus containing a considerable number of "facts," it's hard to think of the story as fiction, which is the film's strongest point. The events of 9/11 force us to think of the unthinkable as thinkable.

As in "Pearl Harbor," Ben Affleck finds himself in a military situation, positioned to be a hero and a lover. Unlike PH, this film is more watchable because it's closer to two hours rather than three, and the love story has moved from bilge to palatable enough to swallow

THE SUM OF ALL FEARS

Rating

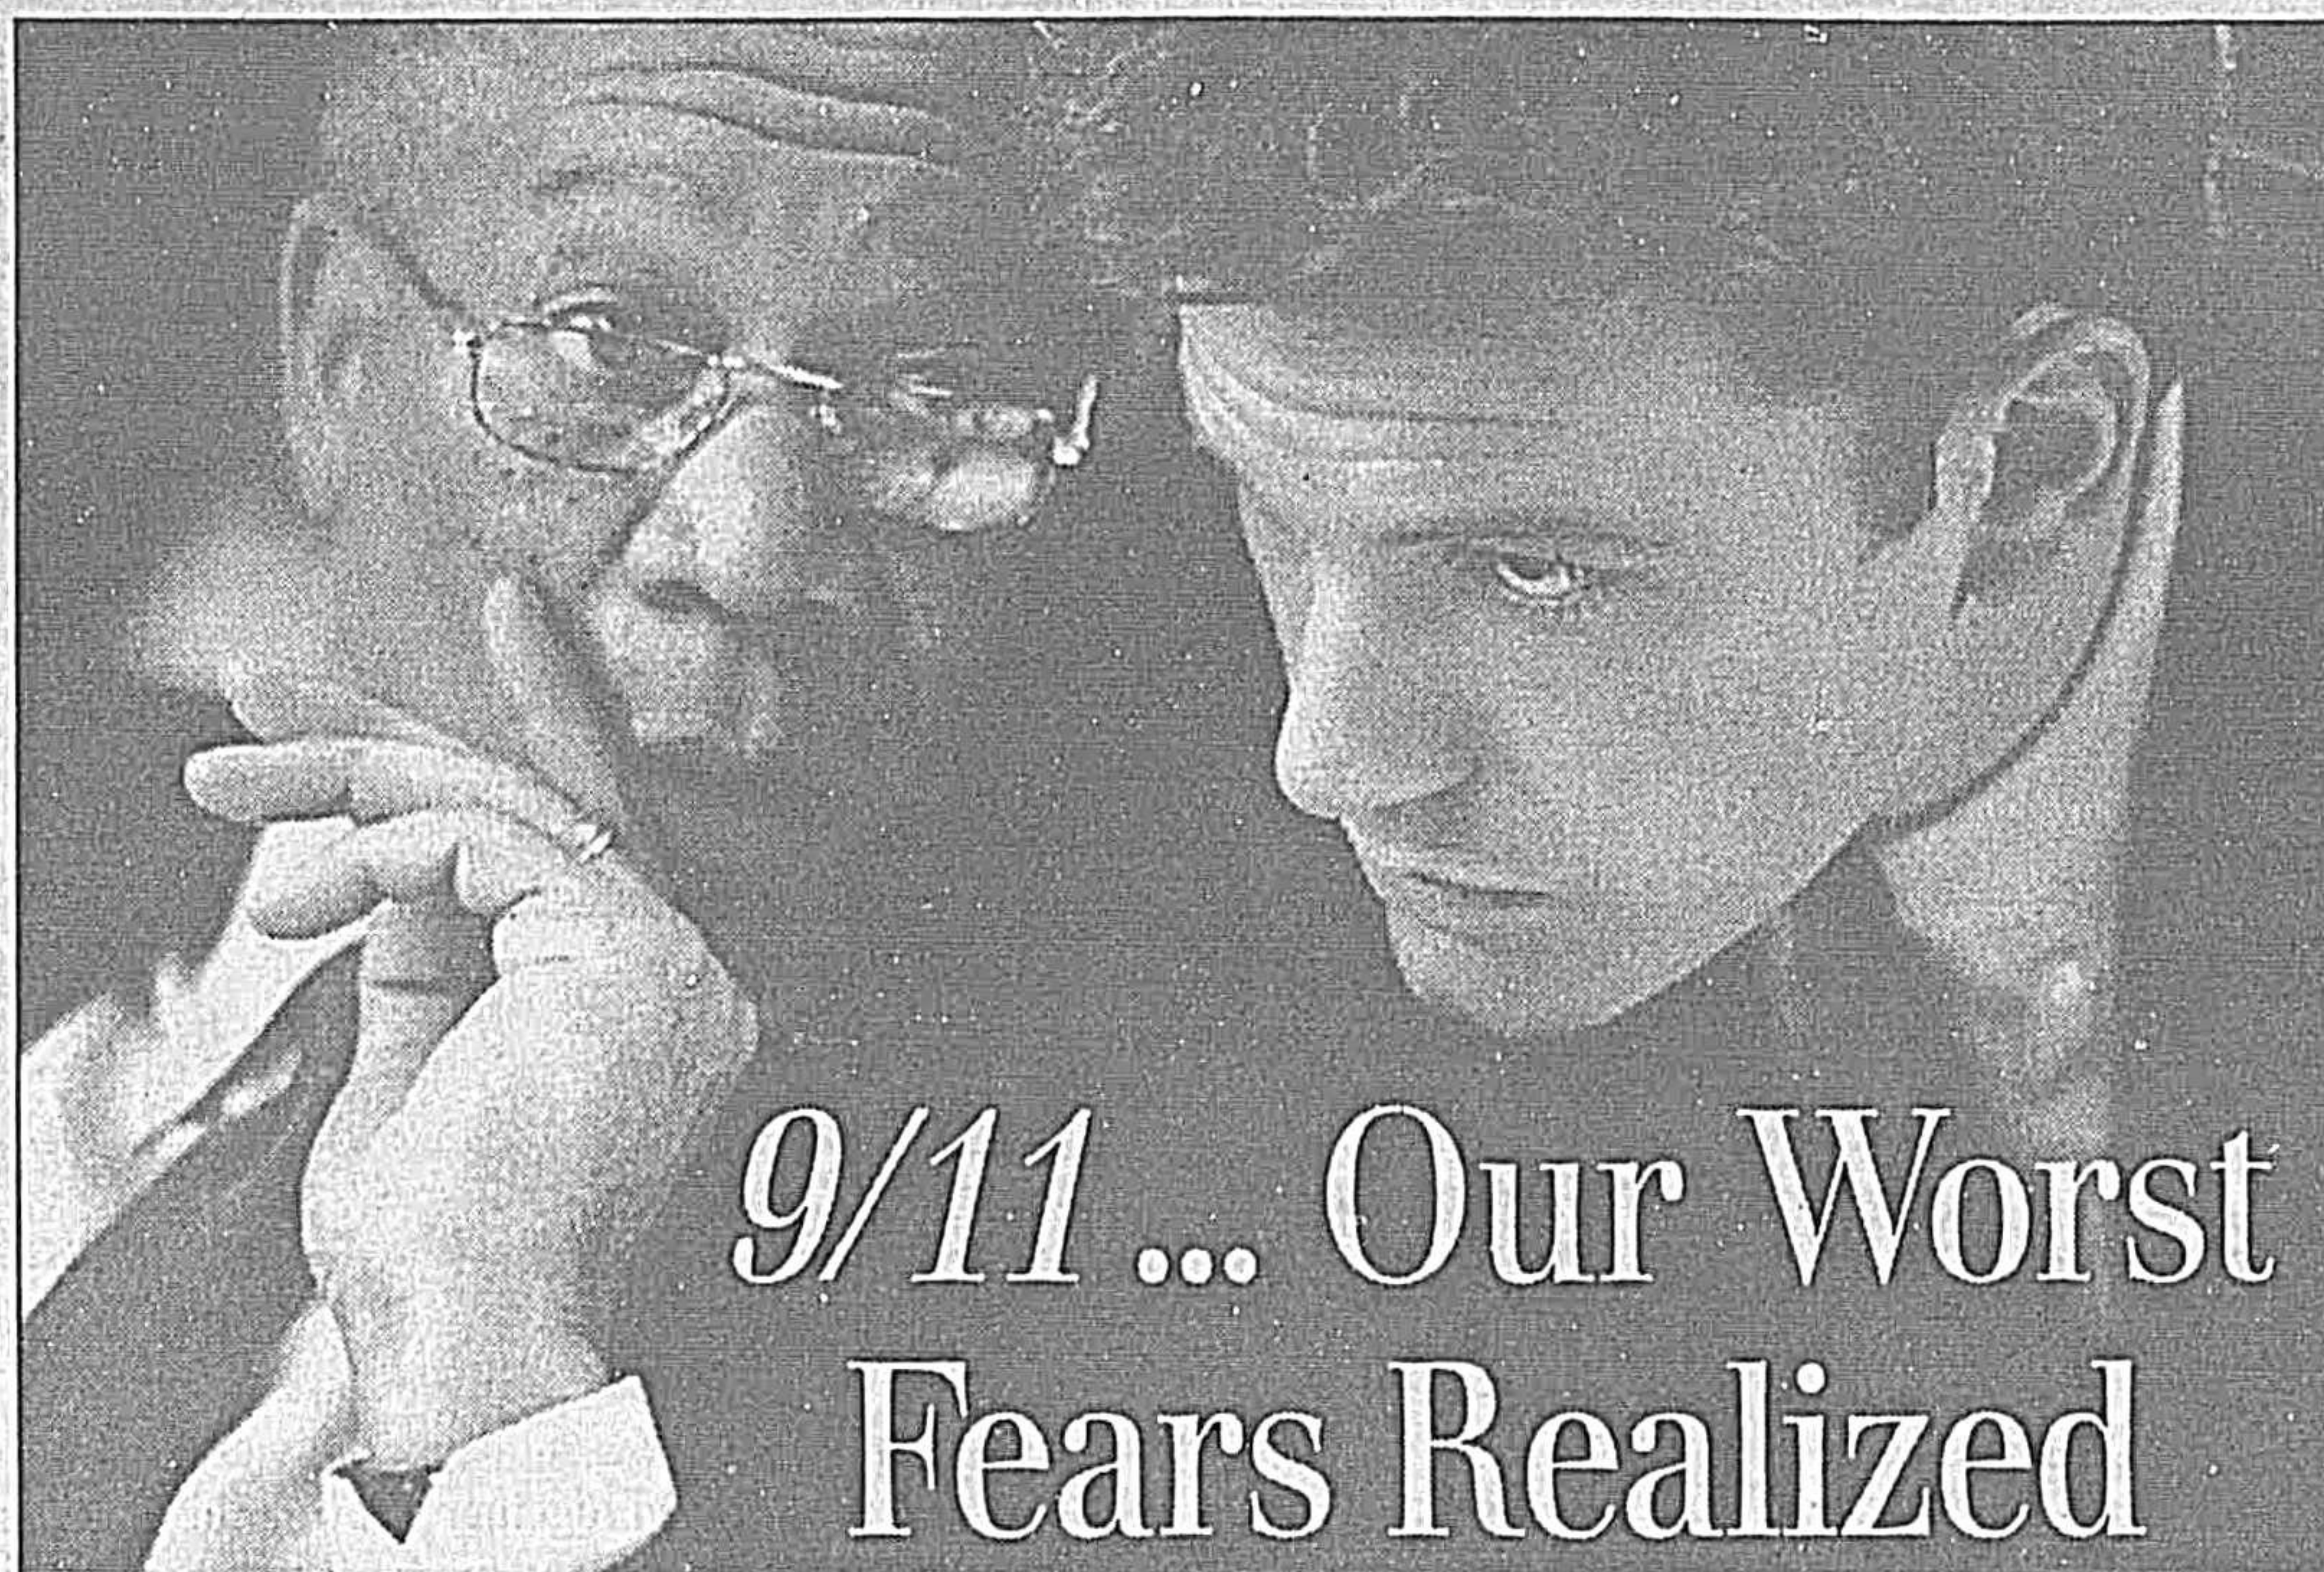

PG-13 for violence, disaster images and brief strong language

Director

Phil Alden Robinson

Starring

without choking.

Ben Affleck plays Jack Ryan, who works as a historian in a think tank that is a cover for a CIA research team. Jack is an expert on the man who suddenly becomes the President of Russia, Alexander Nemerov (Ciaran Hinds). Some think Nemerov's a hawk who is trigger-happy, though he may be a commander in chief who does not have control over his military. Either makes him a very dangerous man. Bill Cabot (Morgan Freeman) is head of the CIA and becomes Jack's mentor, helping him to develop a relationship with the Russian leader.

In 1973 when Israel was concerned about their ground troops being overrun, they put a nuclear bomb on a plane to be used as a means of last resort. The plane was subsequently shot down. Almost 30 years later, the bomb is discovered and is soon in the hands of an arms dealer. It's sold to a small group of terrorists, and is reconstructed and shipped to Baltimore. The plan is to explode the bomb during the Super Bowl and set off a nuclear war between the U.S. and Russia.

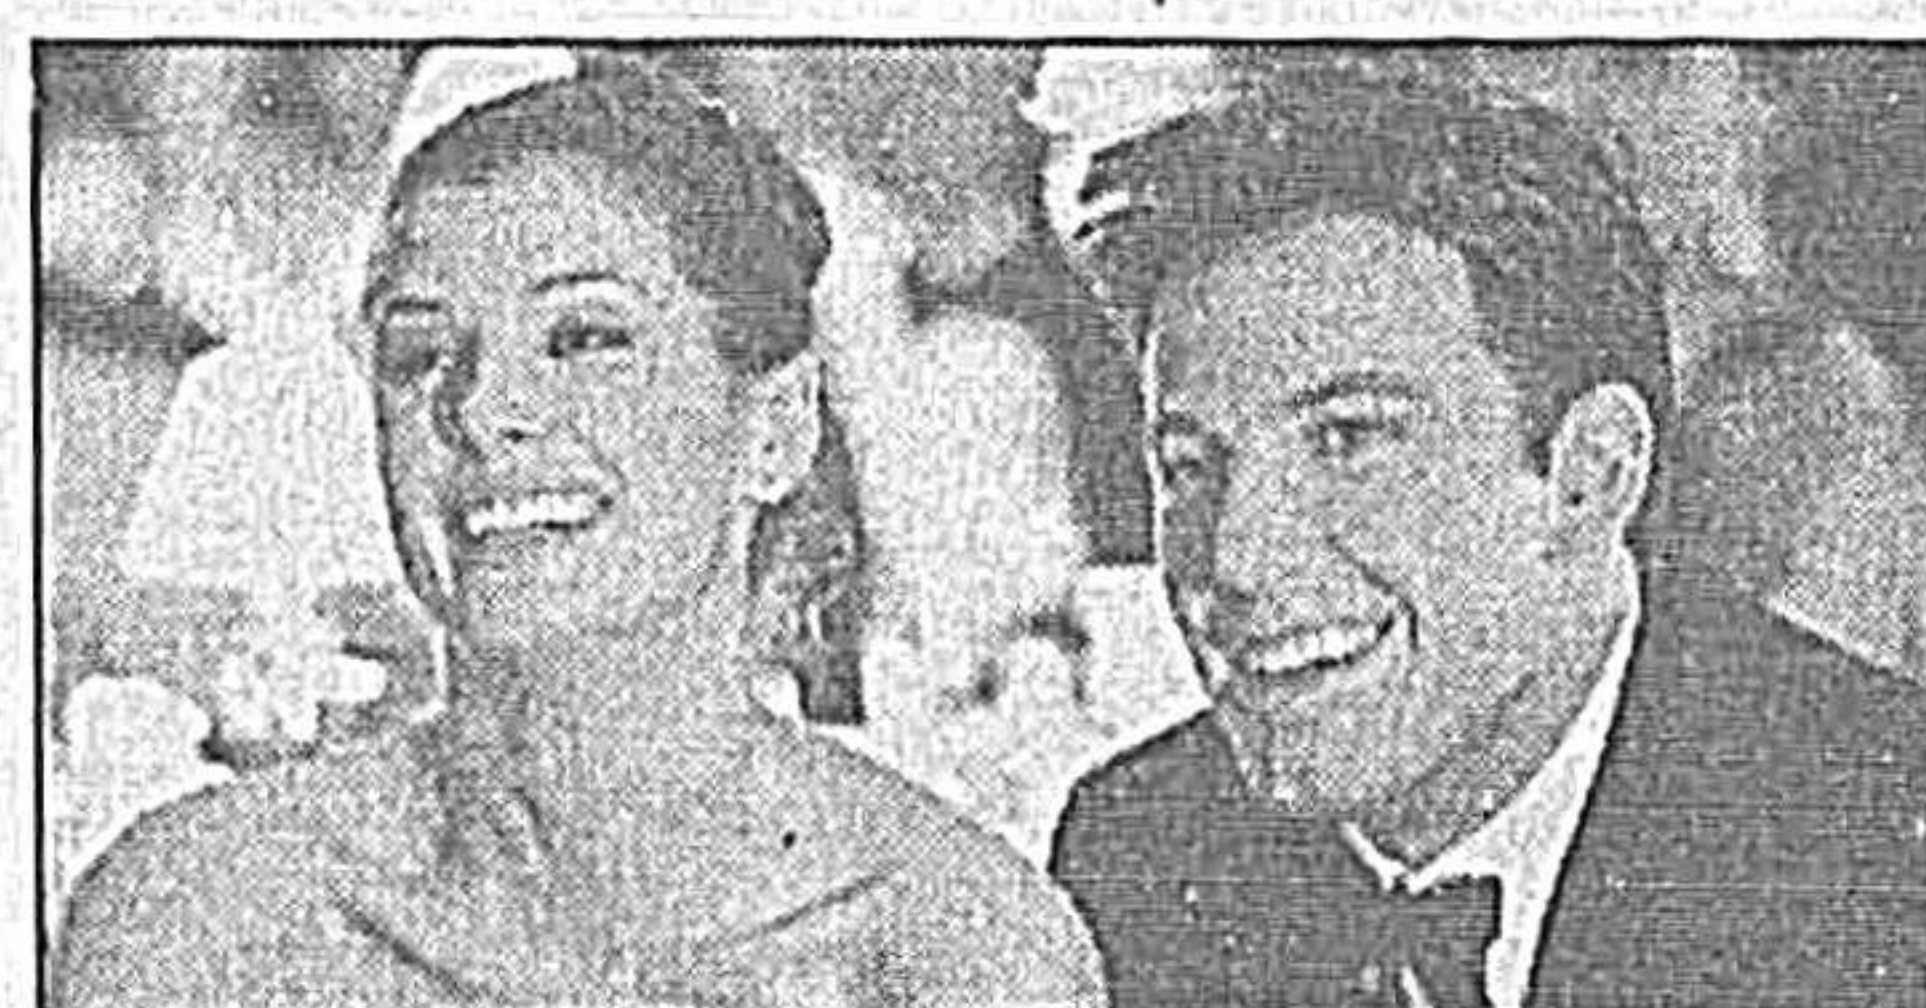

The story is essentially told in two parts. One leads up to the possible explosion and the other details what happens when the issue of "first strike" comes into play. Prior to the possible denotation of a nuclear device on U.S. shores, the film uses the normal set-up, taking you around the world to visit various political and military leaders and, in addition, allowing a peek into their personal lives. While it appears that our world leaders are in control, it gradually becomes clear that a small group of renegades, not in any governmental position, but with their own special agenda, figure prominently in the balance of power, even though they tend to be invisible.

Part two explores what actions the U.S. may take when it has reason to believe that Russia has begun a nuclear attack. The illustration of how quickly the major cities of the world could come to look like Hiroshima says more about the issue of disarmament than anything you've seen in a long time.

Liev Schreiber plays John Clark, a CIA operative who does not mind getting his hands dirty. Clark teams up with Jack to hopefully save the world from annihilation. Even in the face of calamity as the events unfold, some humorous moments occur.

With the world on the brink of disaster, Jack's budding romance with Cathy Muller (Bridget Moynahan), a surgical resident, while cute, becomes a distraction from much more important events. There is great loss of life in the U.S., which calls for a strong response. One aspect of the movie's ending is outstanding with how scores are settled.

Those of you who are fans of irony will have a special appreciation for seeing the concurrent events of the best in peacemaking and diplomacy, while terrorists learn that when you make a deadly declaration, the severity of the backlash is unpredictable.

NEW RELEASES

New releases, currently playing at local theaters. More reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

Opening this Week

CQ: Set in Paris in 1969, the filming of a science fiction movie projected in the distant year of 2000 is in trouble. The director's judgment is clouded by his obsession with the actress who plays a secret agent named Dragonfly (Angela Lindvall). A young American filmmaker (Jeremy Davies), working on the production, is asked to finish the film and things become difficult. Roman Coppola's directing debut (Francis Coppola's son).

Late Marriage (Music Box): Per tradition, a 31-year-old student must marry a Jewish virgin from a good family. He's in love with a divorcee who has a 6-year-old child. With a sense of humor, cultural and family obligations are explored.

Son of the Bride (Landmark Century): A 42-year-old man, living in the shadow of his parents, focuses on the goodness in humans who are far less than perfect. When he has a heart attack, he reexamines the relationships with his ex-wife, both of his parents, his daughter and his girlfriend.

Undercover Brother: Eddie Griffin is recruited to infiltrate a sinister movement headed by The Man. After making a change from afro and platform shoes to penny loafers and tennis sweaters, he's ready for his assignment...undercover of course.

Still Playing

About a Boy Hugh Grant is the perfect cad as a confirmed bachelor, posing as a single father, out to snare women. Then he meets a 12-year-old boy who turns his thinking around. Rachel Weisz and Toni Collette co star.

Insomnia Christopher Nolan's Oscar-nominated timeline bender "Memento" has only nipped the tip of this filmmaker's talent, proven by his remarkable remake of the 1997 Norwegian thriller "Insomnia." Oscar winners Al Pacino, Robin Williams and Hilary Swank star.

Unfaithful Erotic, surprise, shock and delight, are four guilty pleasures you might indulge in as you watch "Unfaithful." Brought to you by the director of "Fatal Attraction." Starring Richard Gere and Diane Lane.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - March 21/April 20

An effortless gesture on your part means a lot to someone close to you this week, Aries. You get better at doing a special project. You may just want to ask for a raise.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

Someone turns out to be very different from what you first imagined, Taurus. It's better if you keep your guard up. Don't let a wrong decision turn into a costly mistake.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

The person you believe is standing in your way may actually be able to help you, Gemini. Take the lead from Libra and favor compromise rather than confrontation.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

Chance encounters cause you to feel nervous later in the week, Cancer. Don't push these people away — make the most of the situation to try something new. Expect Pisces to be involved on Wednesday.

LEO - July 23/August 23

Good news continues to come your way, Leo. If you are expecting some recognition at work you're bound to see results this week. Friends praise your efforts and strangers are entranced.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

You are up against your limit, which has left you wondering what is on the other side, Virgo. Your love of duty has you taking on even more responsibility.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

Your imagination takes you on another wild ride this week, Libra. But this isn't just a fantasy you're living, your desires have tangible real-world applications.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Intrigue follows you around like a puppy, Scorpio. Those close to you either are put off by you or want to be like you — there is no subtle in between. Don't change a bit.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Keep others amused and they'll let you get away with anything, Sagittarius. This works particularly well for you with a romance you've been nursing. Laughter definitely is the key to his or her heart.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Surrender a point that doesn't mean much to you either way, Capricorn. There's no point in causing a battle over such trivial matters. Career plans seem to stall for the time being. Don't be discouraged.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

This week you gain a lot of career and social mileage, Aquarius. Differences are a source of inspiration rather than confrontation, so pay attention to all lessons you encounter.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

Radical moves are frowned upon when it comes to work issues, Pisces. It would be better if you created a backup plan. You can't afford to waste any more time.

Homespun 'Talley's Folly' a well-wrought love story

Against the odds, a persistent St. Louis accountant brings an amorous suit to the level of a full-court press in "Talley's Folly," Lanford Wilson's delightful 1979 romance between two seemingly ill-fitting lovers.

The elegant 97-minute drama ends the 2001-2002 season for Northlight Theatre at the North Shore Center for the Performing Arts in Skokie. It unfolds in 1944 at an old Victorian boathouse on a farm near Lebanon, Mo.

For a year Milt Friedman has courted a reluctant Sally Talley, the 31-year-old spinster daughter of a wealthy family, pouring out his soul in daily letters. The pair had met the year before and kept company for a week.

He has since done some detective work, contacting Sally's relatives, in hopes of finding out why she has resisted his advances. On this night, he is determined to find out her secrets. Is his Jewishness a concern? The fact that he's an immigrant of German extraction? His age (42)?

At the same time, as it turns out, Sally unlocks some of his well-kept secrets.

Matt DeCaro, a little older than the part calls for, nevertheless is superb as the bookish and at times boyish Milt, who shares a friend's belief that people are fragile like eggs: "We're really afraid of being crushed; we all have a Humpty-Dumpty complex."

Lia Mortensen does very well in the complex role of the hard-to-get Sally.

As the Pulitzer Prize-winning play develops, it becomes apparent that both are more alike emotionally than appearances would suggest. Steady direction by Kate Buckley keeps things on track.

4-day June Crisis Line course for college students

A concentrated four-day training program for students interested in gaining firsthand experience using listening skills will be offered June 3-6 from 9 a.m.-noon at PADS Crisis Services in North Chicago.

The personalized sessions will be conducted by PCS's Training Director Curt Wennerdahl, L.C.S.W., M. Div., a professional family counselor. Topics covered will include listening skills, crisis intervention, mental illness and suicide theory. Completion of the course will qualify students to become Crisis Line telephone workers during the summer months working with experienced crisis interventionists. For psychology majors and others interested in entering the social science field, the training will offer valuable firsthand experience.

Volunteers work four-hour shifts that are scheduled to fit in with their other activities.

All area college students are invited to look at this unique opportunity. For further information, students or parents of students still away at school can contact the Crisis Line office at 847-689-4357, ext. 104.

Rainbow Summer Festival celebrates 20 years

The officials of the Marcus Center for the Performing Arts are pleased to announce the return of Milwaukee's favorite music festival, the Rainbow Summer Festival, celebrating 20 years of summer fun at Peck Pavilion. This year's free, outdoor festival will feature over 60 performances by an eclectic mix of local, regional and national entertainers performing rock, jazz, pop and more beginning at noon on Tuesday, June 4 through Friday, August 30.

The 20th annual Rainbow Summer Festival kicks off at 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday, June 4 with a New Orleans-style opening day parade, honoring Rainbow Summer's 20th Anniversary.

Performances are scheduled every weekday with Wednesdays set aside for family programming. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons feature an eclectic mix of music, from noon to 1:15 p.m. Wednesdays are KidZ Days at the Rainbow Summer Festival and feature two family-friendly shows, from 10 a.m.-11 a.m. and again from noon-1 p.m. Additional performances are scheduled at 7:30 p.m. on every Tuesday evening and select Friday evenings.

The Rainbow Summer Festival calendar of events is available at the Marcus Center Box Office, 929 N. Water St., or by calling the Marcus Center Events Line at 414-273-2787. Information is also available at www.rainbowsummer.com and at www.marcuscenter.org.

In touch with nature and beauty

Antioch artist Suzanne Hetzel finds daily inspiration living in an area "in touch with nature and beauty." Her home and art studio are located in a beautiful setting on a private lake in Antioch. Suzanne and her husband Kenneth moved to Antioch eight years ago to get away from the suburban sprawl. "When you move to a new community, you don't know what to expect," remarked Suzanne. As she began to meet people she realized that many had moved to Antioch for the same reason, the inspiring nature and beauty. Her home studio is filled with magnificent florals and beautiful paintings of nature and man-made objects.

Early Beginnings

Suzanne Hetzel began drawing at the age of eight. She was encouraged by teachers throughout her life. Suzanne's grandmother, an artist, painted oils, watercolors, and pastels. Grandma was the first to put a brush in her granddaughter's hand and she began with watercolor. In high school Suzanne experimented with different types of art. She graduated from Moore College of Art and Design where she majored in illustration and got involved in making murals.

Family Life

After marrying and having two daughters, Suzanne didn't paint for awhile. However, she put her creative energy to use in other ways. She did sewing, needlepoint, or whatever she could do to fit in her lifestyle at that time. Both daughters are married and Suzanne and her husband have four grandchildren.

Experience

Teaching art in public schools in the western suburbs and Brighton, Wisconsin kept her busy for about ten years. Suzanne taught commercial design at the College of DuPage in Glen Ellyn. Various courses consisted of perspective drawing, how to prepare artwork, typography, and publication advertising. She practiced as a commercial designer for awhile. Additional experience includes magazine illustrations and advertising. While in college, Suzanne wrote and illustrated a children's book, "Nony The

NEWS-WORTHY

Sharon Westbrook

Pirate" about a pirate mouse who runs away. She has been teaching adult art classes for five years. Right now Suzanne concentrates on her watercolors, acrylics, and murals for homes and businesses. She finds change fascinating and exciting, from changing the furniture to the change of the seasons. Suzanne enjoys painting garden related objects. She loves the combination of man-made and natural objects, the mix of how different colors work with each other. Currently she is writing and illustrating seven children's books. Suzanne is a full-time artist working to make the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation successful.

Art Exhibits

Suzanne has participated locally in the Women's Works in Woodstock, a national fine arts show, held in March at the Old Courthouse Gallery. She sells most of her art through juried art fairs in the summer throughout the Chicagoland area. She has exhibited paintings at the College of Lake County Gallery. Her work is presently on display at the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation Gallery.

Antioch Fine Arts Foundation

Suzanne Hetzel began writing down the names of local artists as she came in contact with them. In a letter to these artists Suzanne asked if they had an interest in forming an art foundation. Twenty people all brimming with ideas and information initially met. The meeting took place in February 2001 at the Senior Center. This was the beginning of the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation, which opened in October 2001.

Readers with information for "News-Worthy" should call Sharon Westbrook at 847-395-3079.

WAL-MART

What Wal-Mart does to a downtown

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry held two luncheons to provide residents with information regarding the proposal. The first presentation was made by a local merchant claiming that Wal-Mart would in essence kill Antioch's unique downtown. A Wal-Mart representative, defending the proposal and claiming that Antioch and its school districts will gain hundreds of thousands of dollars in taxes between sales and real estate, made the second presentation.

A coalition called Antioch Residents for Responsible Growth (ARRG) brought self-proclaimed accidental activist and "sprawl buster" Al Norman to speak at the Antioch Community High School (ACHS). He talked to concerned residents about what could be done to stave off the development until it can be determined whether or not a Wal-Mart is the right answer for Antioch.

At what cost?

Tim Barrett, a partner of Great Lakes Principals, said Wal-Mart is looking at both the options of Super Wal-Mart that includes a full grocery area and a standard Wal-Mart with limited food items. A super center would occupy about 209,000 square feet and a conventional store would occupy about 149,000 square feet.

Of the area defined as the prime trade area with Wadsworth to the east, Richmond to the west, Lake Villa to the south (the smallest leg outward from Antioch) and Hwy. 50 to the north, about 60,000 people, Barrett said.

SAVE ANTIOCH FROM RUNAWAY SPRAWL!

Fact: Antioch is a community with a pleasant, small town character and quality.

Fact: The overabundance of chain stores in many instances has lead to weakened local economies by actually reducing competition and eroding community character.

Fact: Most big box stores do not bank locally. Also, advertising is done nationally, not locally.

Fact: There are over 880 empty Walmart stores nationwide.

Fact: Illinois ranks 15th in the nation for vacant Walmarts.

Fact: Local independent stores give a downtown a unique identity and foster community leadership.

Fact: Studies show that Walmart does not always have the lowest price. In addition, customer service and knowledge of product tend to lack with most big box stores.

Fact: The existing Comprehensive Plan for Antioch states that 5 acre sites be the maximum allowed in order to preserve the downtown.

Fact: Potentially over 30 existing Antioch businesses will be adversely affected if a big box store comes to Antioch.

Fact: 9000 additional vehicles will travel through our already congested intersections.

Fact: One of the goals of the Comprehensive Plan is to preserve, protect, and enhance ecologically sensitive areas.

Fact: Wetlands will be destroyed with the development of Walmart and other big box stores.

Fact: Loon Lake, Deer Lake, Little Silver Lake, and Red Wing Marsh will be negatively affected.

Helping hand

Round Lake Park District Commissioner Jeanne Goshgarian couldn't have come up with a better idea.

Golfing while raising money to help kids. That's what it was all about when six former Chicago professional athletes joined several dignitaries at the First Annual Send A Kid to Camp golf outing at Renwood Golf Course in Round Lake Beach.

"I think it's a terrific idea. It helps raise money so that we help keep kids off the streets," said former Chicago Bear and one of the Round Lake Park District commissioners. Gentry served as emcee for the event, which drew close to 40 golfers.

"We had some rain out there but for a first time doing this event, I thought it was a huge success. We want to try and make it an annual thing now. There's no more valuable resource in the community than young people."

Other former professional athletes who joined Gentry included former Bears player Jim Keane, Cubs infielder Gene Heiser, and former Chicago White Sox player Dave Nicholson.

"We've been running day camps for over 25 years and a lot of people in the community can't afford it," said Round Lake Park District interim Executive Director Peggy Dohr. Our goal with this outing is to help send as many kids to camp (for a week) during the summer."

With the 40 players chipping in $150 a pop to play in the event, chances are pretty good that 20 or more kids will be able to attend camp at some point during the summer.

"We have camps for kids ages 6-14. There are so many activities, from theatre to sports to arts and crafts," said the park district's community coordinator Carleen Bacon. "Kids are chosen based on financial need. Recommendations from the schools and police departments also play a big factor in whose chosen to attend camp."

The Round Lake Area Park District will also be sponsoring its annual On the Run for Kids 5k Run/Walk and 20k Duathlon Sept. 8. Interested participants can contact the park district at 847-546-8558 for further information or to sign up.

The event included 18 holes of golf, electric cart, raffle prizes and giveaways, and a buffet that included steak and chicken kabobs.

"This has the potential to be a great event for a great cause," said Round Lake Area Park District President Jim Shook. "It's a credit to the foundation, the board and the staff."

Shook was joined by other local Round Lake dignitaries like Round Lake Beach Mayor Rich Hill, Round Lake Mayor Bill Gentes, Avon Township Executive Director Russ Christian, and Avon Park District Commissioner Pat Anderson, to name a few.

And for the record, Hill teamed with Dave Kilbane, Roy Collins and Mike Fletcher in winning the low net with a score of 61 in the scramble format. Each player was awarded a brand new pitching wedge.

Sequoit baseball tames the Tigers

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

A good scouting report, determination to rebound from last year and strong hitting are three reasons why Antioch repeated as regional baseball champions.

The Sequoits finished the deal with a 7-0 win over Crystal Lake Central in the rain-delayed regional final at Wauconda. The win advances Antioch (25-8) to face the Prairie Ridge winner at the Barrington sectional semifinals. With a win, Antioch will move into the sectional finals June 1 against either Mundelein or McHenry. The game will be at Barrington with the first pitch scheduled for 10 a.m.

"I feel better this year," said Head Coach Paul Petty about regional finals, where Antioch lost to Grant last year. "This is the second time in three years that we won the regional. The kids have been talking about it; they wanted it," Petty said.

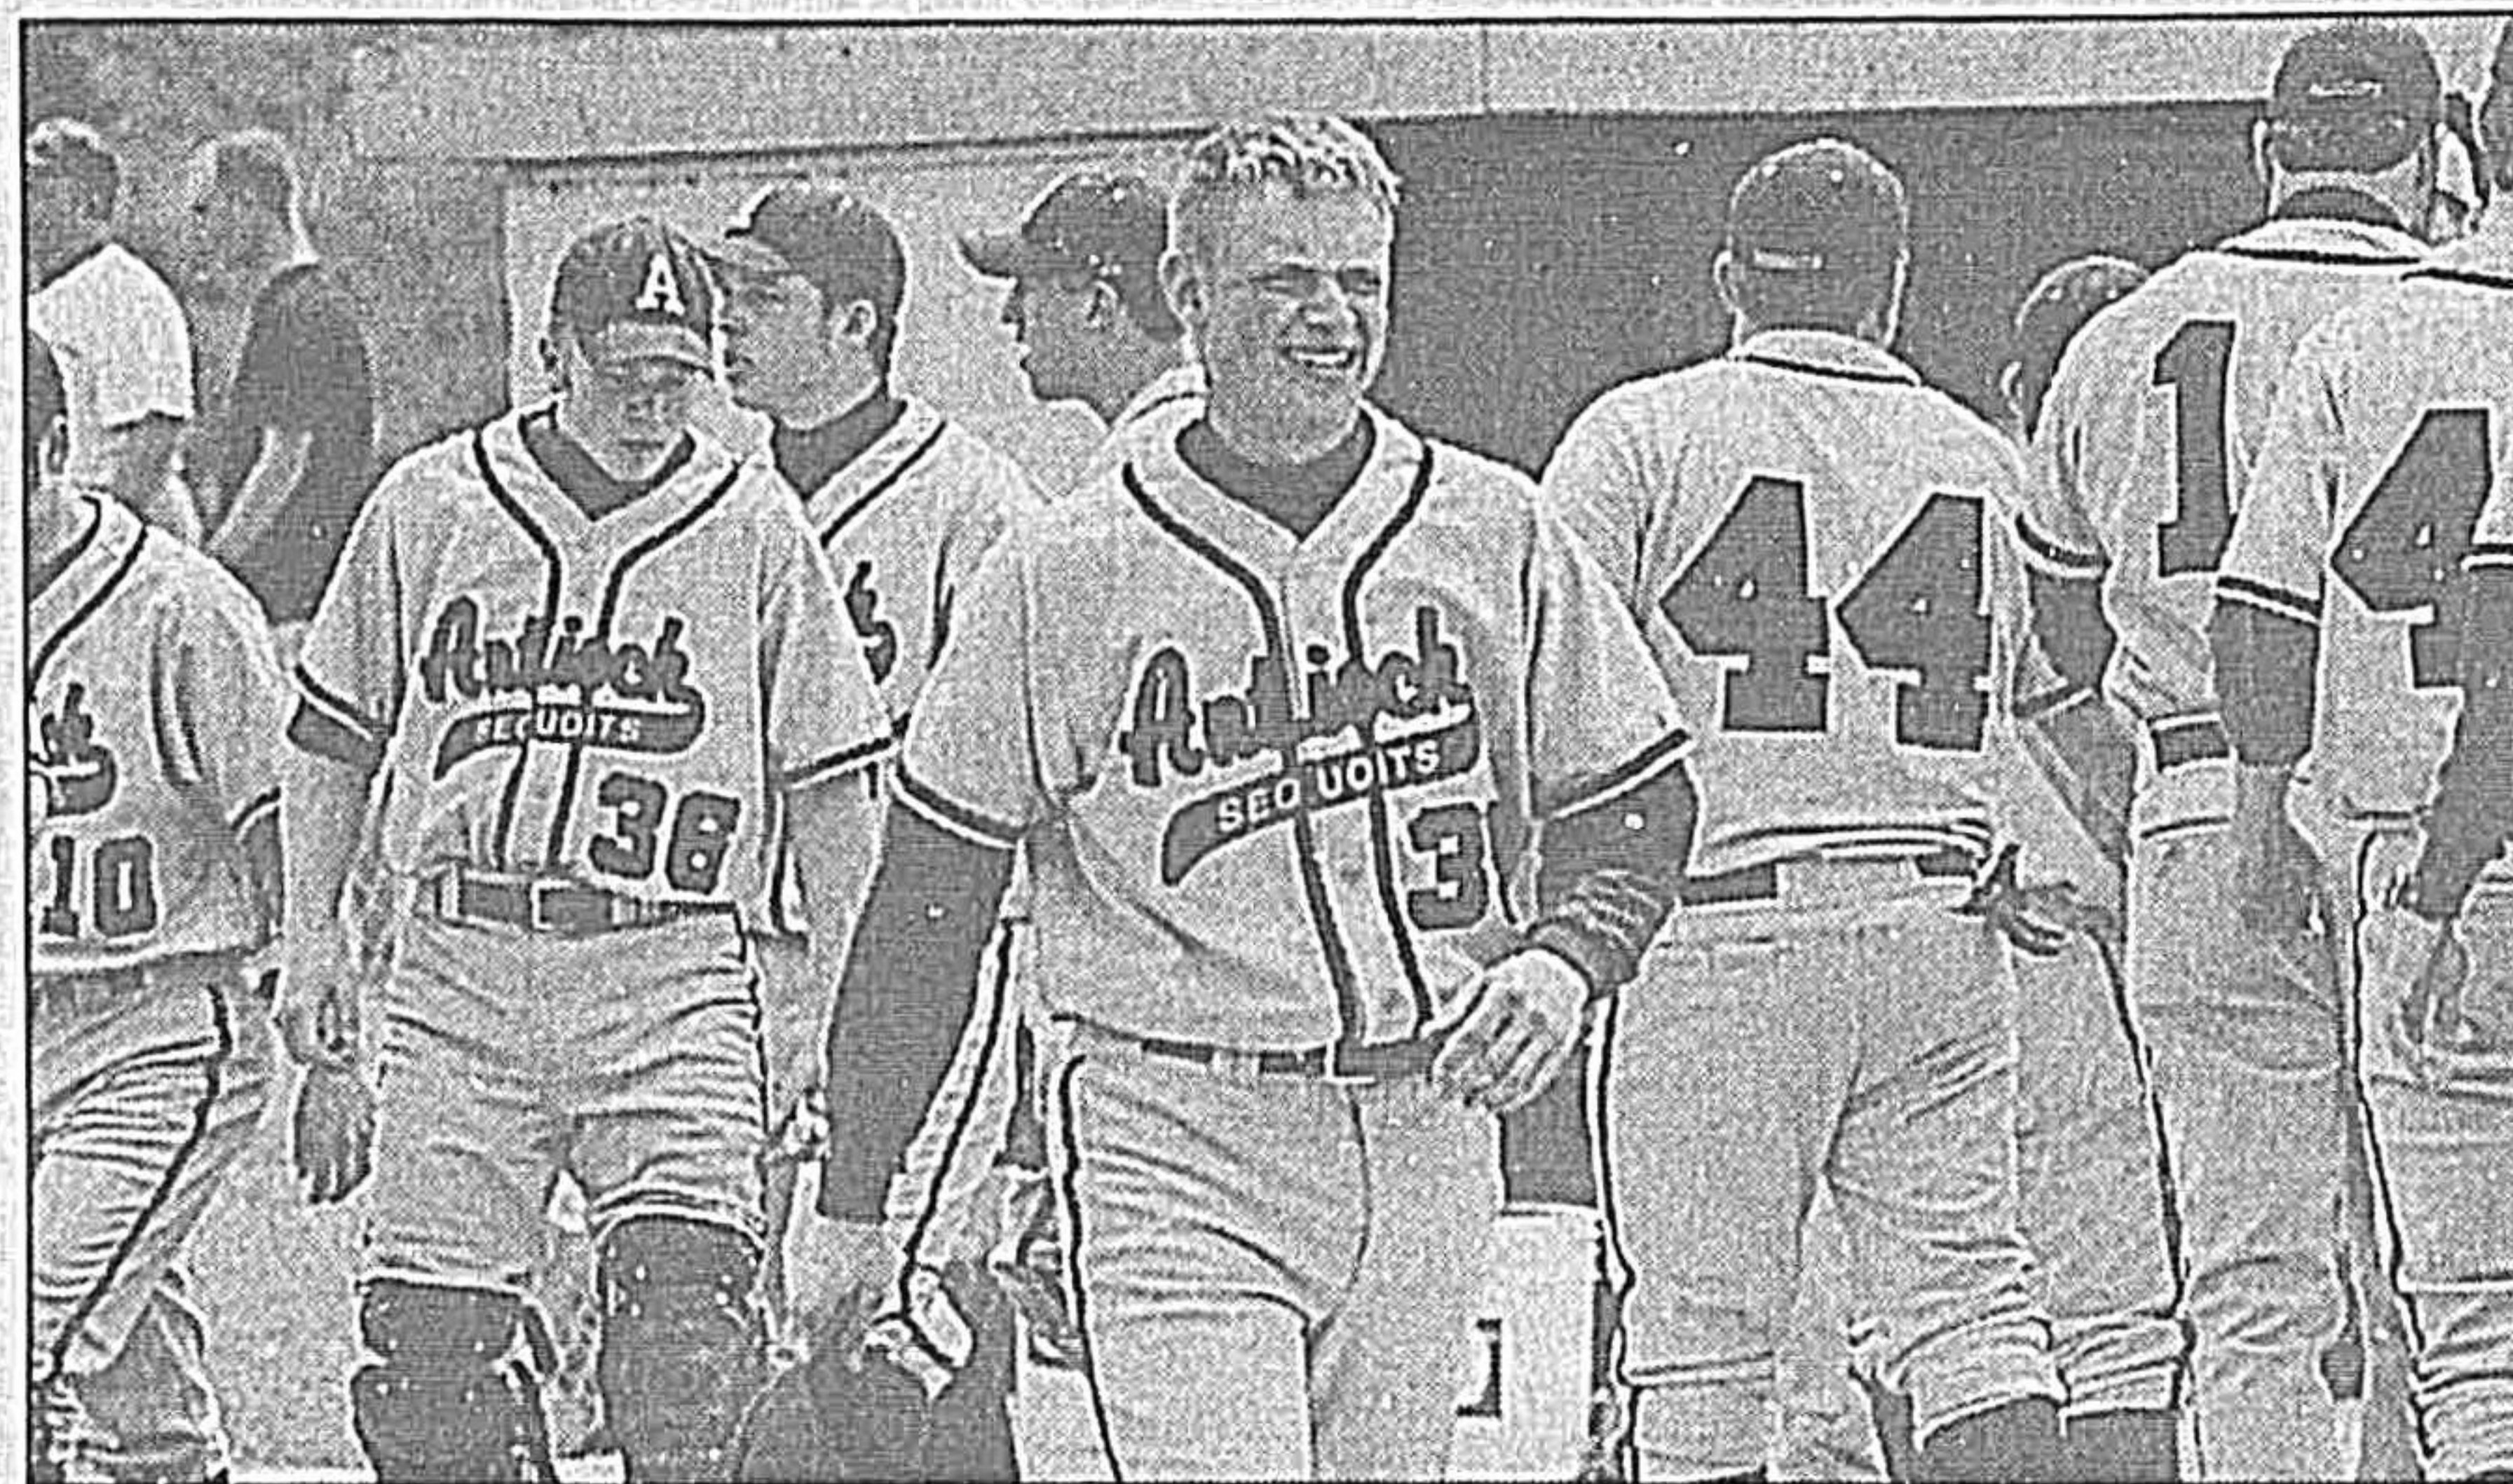

Chris Malec guided the Sequoits by hand-cuffing the bats of a Crystal Lake Central team that had pounded out 12 runs in a 12-2 win over Wauconda.

"Today we came here to take care of business. A lot of us were on the team that made it to sectionals two years ago. It says a lot for the coaches and players, Chris Kocinski, a senior and team captain.

Kocinski, a catcher, and the other seniors praised the coaching staff for guiding them to their 20-plus win season and postseason achievement. "Coach will call you out (if you do something wrong), but he will also be the first one to praise you. All the guys have a lot of respect for Coach Petty," he said.

A two-run home run by Ryan Callanan broke open a 1-0 Antioch led en route to a 6-0 lead after the sixth inning. The defense did its part throughout, including helping out in an early jam and a sharp catcher-to-first-to-third double play also helped.

"Nick Severson came up with a big hit, because he was down in the count, and

Winning pitcher Chris Malec heads off the field as the Sequoits celebrate a 7-0 triumph over Crystal Lake Central for the Wauconda regional title. Chris Malec (39) was the winning pitcher, tossing a seven-hitter with nine strikeouts.—Photo by Steve Young Callanan had the home run. We only had eight or nine home runs this year, and that was not as much as in past years. Shawn Schuler (senior) had a double and a single and Joe Finkelberg broke out of his slump," Petty said.

Severson, a clutch hitter, gave the Sequoits a 3-0 lead with the fourth inning hit. By the time Callanan's left field homer cleared the fence, the lead had ballooned to 6-0.

Schuler, a senior, also scored two runs, Kocinski was hit by a pitch and scored the game's first run in the third and doubled in the big sixth inning. Finkelberg doubled, was hit by a pitch, and reached on an error.

Malec doubled, walked and scored a run to help his own cause.

With the win came the pesky problem of graduation the same day as the sectional game. "I would rather be playing baseball," Malec said.

Malec allowed only four Tiger hits in helping his team gain a 25th win.

Afterward, coach Petty, who is in his 10th year, talked about another tough assignment ahead in a Fox Valley Conference team. "FVC teams play some tough baseball," he said.

Antioch shut out Grayslake 7-0 in its first regional game. The tournament's second seed, the Sequoits had the calm demeanor of a team that felt its best baseball was yet to come.

Major turnaround for Sequoit softball

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

The Antioch High School softball season came to sudden end when they were defeated by Crystal Lake Central 4-3 in the championship game of the Warren regional.

Antioch led 3-2 going into the sixth inning before giving up two runs to Crystal Lake Central. Antioch pitcher Kristen Elstrom helped her cause with two RBI. Lindsey Gruber doubled in the fifth inning and later scored on a Katie Korecek single to account for the Sequoits final run.

"We didn't play as good as we could have," said Gruber.

Katie McNamara allowed three runs on eight hits while striking out three for Crystal Lake Central. Katie James added offensive support with two hits and a run batted in. The win improves their record to 26-5 on the year and sends them to the Barrington Sectional where they will play Barrington.

When Antioch failed to regain the lead in the seventh inning, it marked the end of one of their most successful seasons in recent history.

Antioch defeated Warren in the regional semifinal to earn win number 20 of the season.

Kristen Elstrom threw a gem, giving up only one hit and striking out nine through eight innings to help Antioch to a 2-0 victory.

Antioch ended the season with a record of 20-11.

"This was an amazing year," said Gruber. "From this year back to last year we completely flip flopped. Our record was 12-21 last year and 20-11 this year."

According to Gruber, much of the team's success this season can be attributed to second-year head coach Jen Schultz.

"She (Schultz) is a huge part of it," said Gruber. "She makes us work hard, but she's not one of those coaches who goes to far. She lets us have fun and we still work hard. She's a great coach."

As for the team, they grew together and showed how much team unity helps to bring success to a ballclub.

"We worked pretty well together," said Gruber. "We were really close."

The team will have an awards banquet June 4 at Antioch High School beginning at 6 p.m.

Baruffi runs with the big guys

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

And he's only a freshman. Something says this guy is going to be in Charleston again.

After a very successful career with the Waukegan Invaders youth track team that saw him qualify for the USATF Junior Olympics in Sacramento, Calif. last July, Antioch freshman Anthony Baruffi enjoyed similar success in his first varsity season as a Sequoit.

Baruffi qualified for the Junior Olympics in both the 400-meter dash and the long jump and usually ran the 100 and 200-meter dashes as well.

Unfortunately, a severe bout with the flu, a nagging back injury and a newly diagnosed case of asthma limited Baruffi to just the 400 meter dash this season.

"I had some bad luck this year," said Baruffi. "My times have progressed from the beginning of the year (53.2 seconds) but my times should have been much lower."

Still, Baruffi just went into the season hoping to set personal bests, as state wasn't even on his mind.

"I just wanted to see how well I'd matchup against the other runners," said Baruffi. "I was just looking for a personal best in the 400, state was just a bonus."

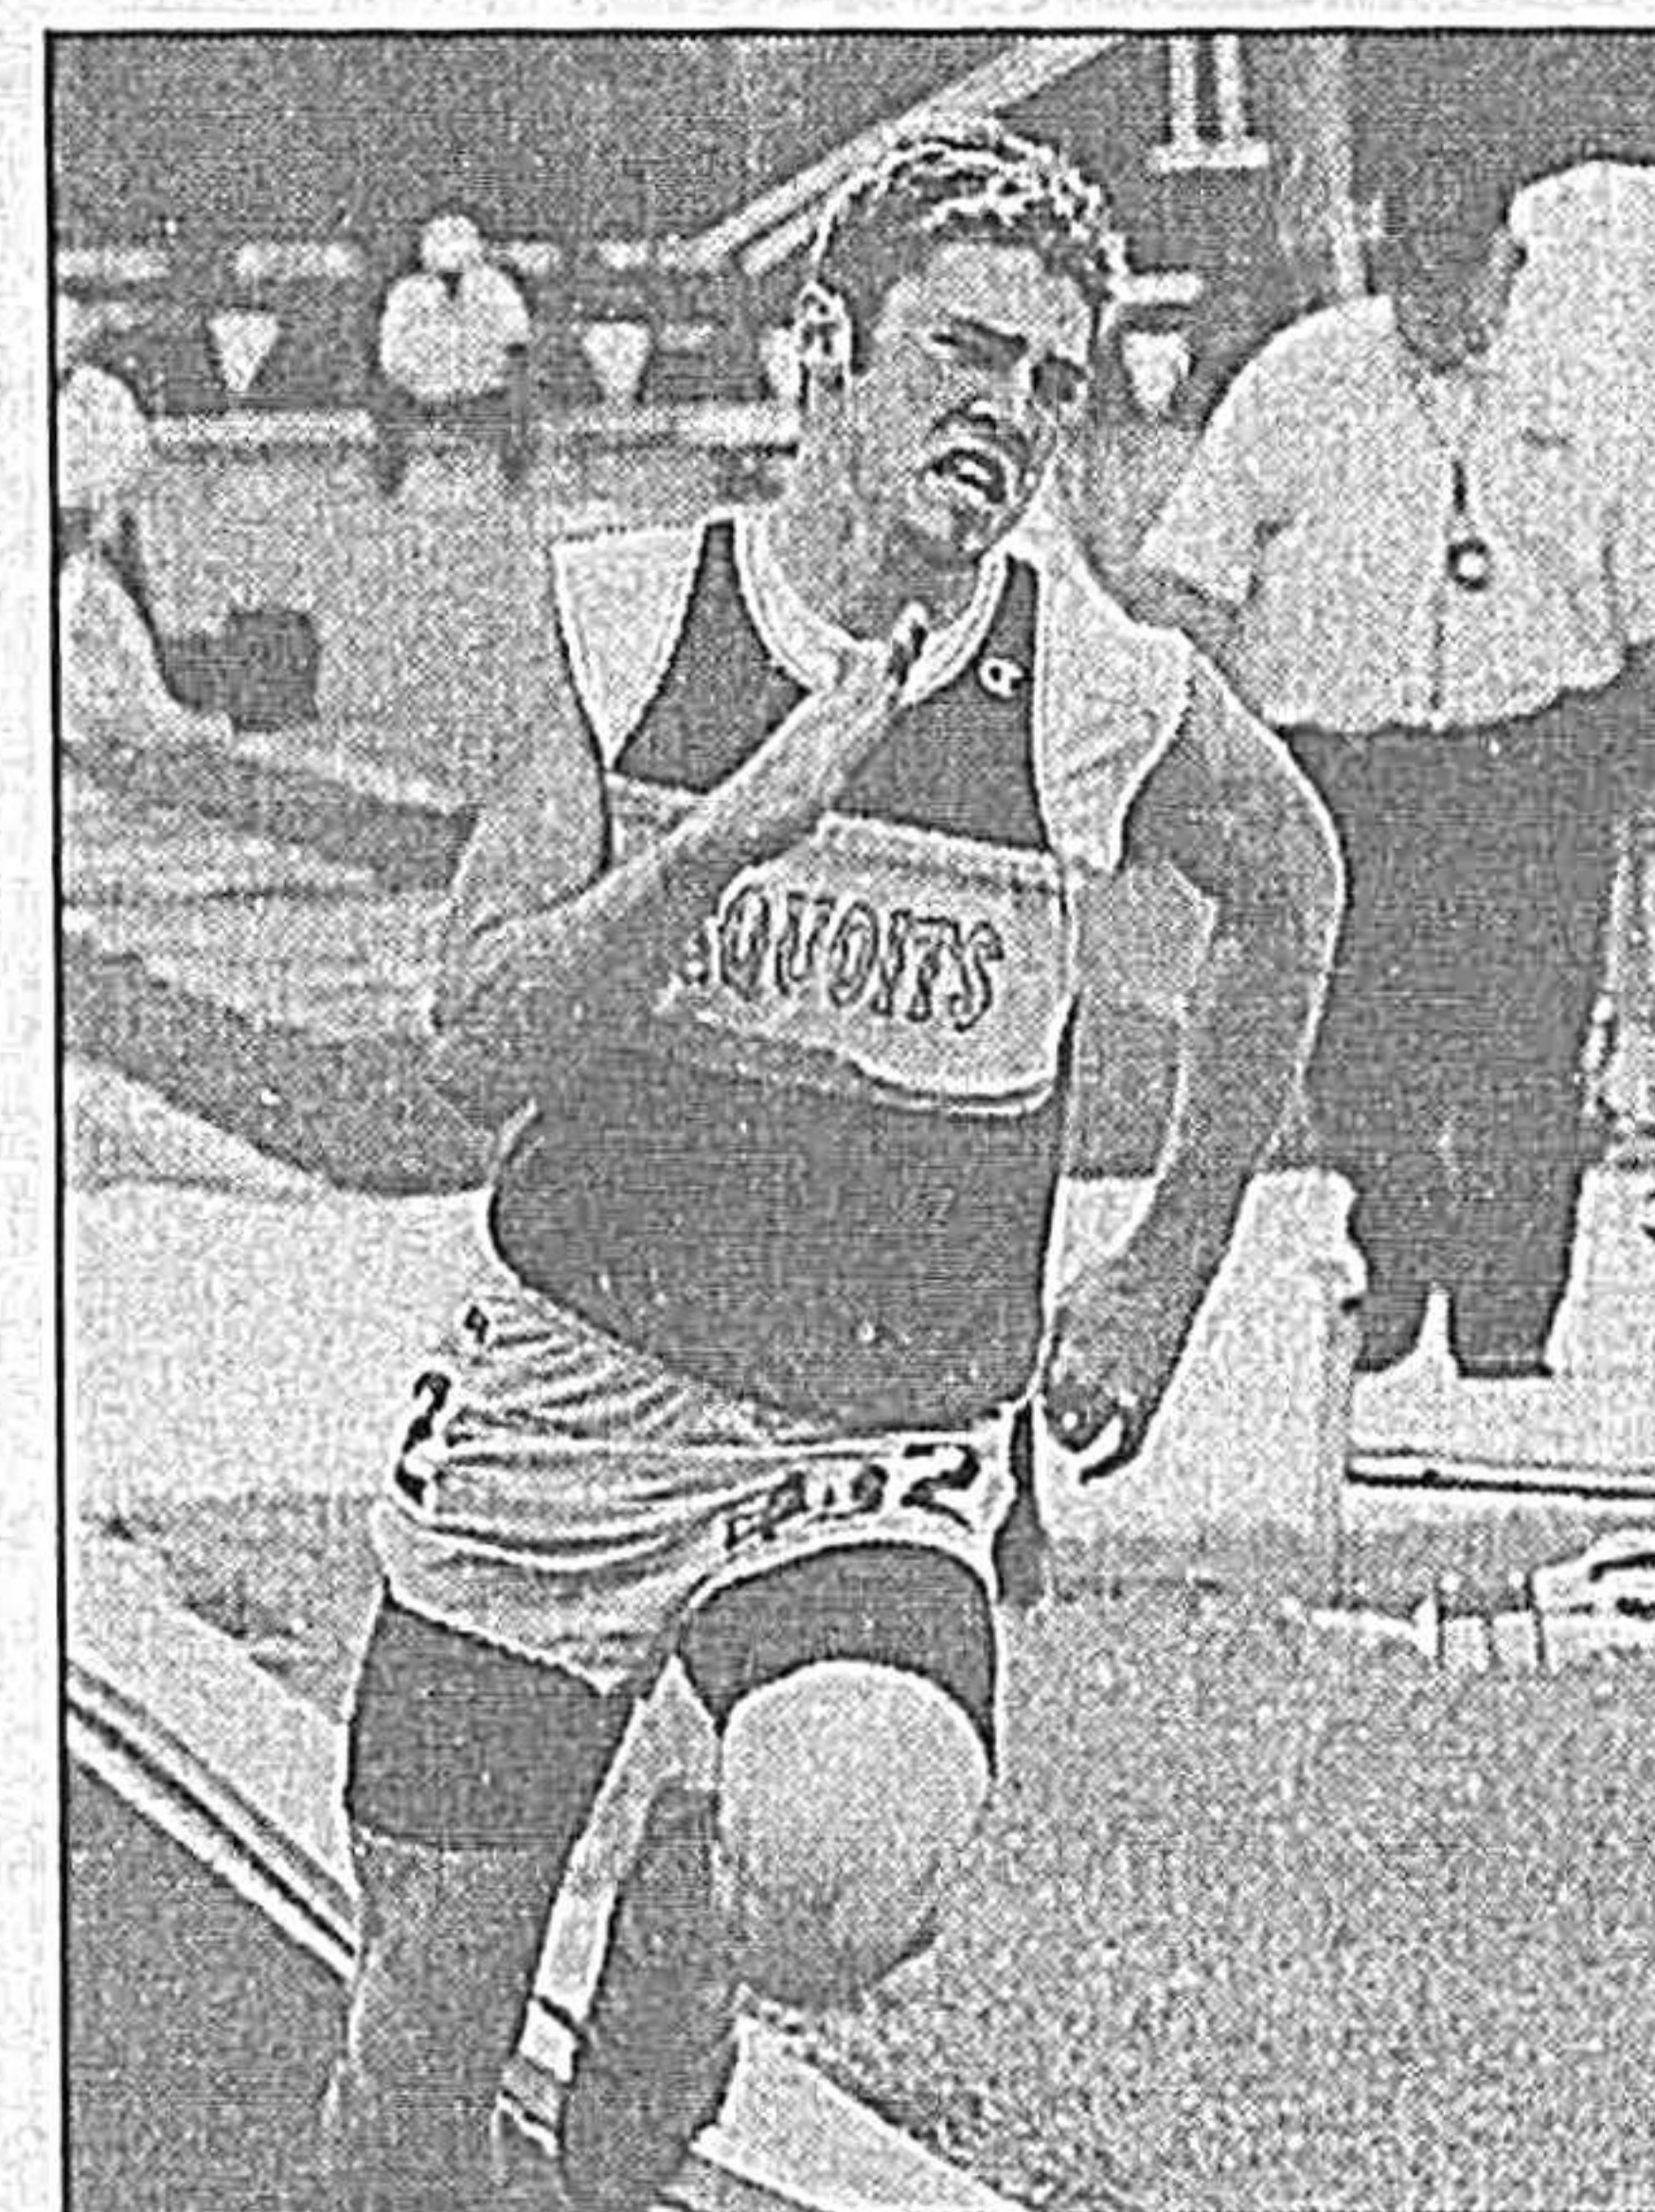

Baruffi qualified for the state track championships at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston with a personal-best time of 50.7 seconds in the 400-meter dash at the Grayslake sectional meet.

However, at state Baruffi faltered in his qualifying heat and finished sixth with a time of 51.61 seconds.

"I was feeling bad and I felt weak in my legs," said Baruffi. "Usually something extra kicks in the last 100 meters but this time I was out of gas and I was breathing real hard."

Despite the poor finish at state, Baruffi was pleased with the experience.

"It was great," said Baruffi. "Especially Antioch's Anthony Baruffi competes in the 400-meter run at the IHSA Track and Field State Meet in Charleston. With his time of 51.61 seconds, the freshman finished sixth and just missing qualifying for the finals.—Photo by Steve Young because I have three more years at the high school level. It was a great experience and I definitely learned from it."

With his season at Antioch at an end, Baruffi will once again compete for the Invaders over the summer.

"I hope to have my 400 time down around 49 second by the end of the summer," said Baruffi. "If I can do that by the end of the summer, then I will be in good shape to place at state next year and maybe even to win it by my junior year. Plus it's a chance to feel myself out in the 100, 200 and the long jump."

At A Glance briefs are excerpts from the top stories in Lakeland's 11 weekly newspapers. For more in-depth coverage on these and other local stories, see our web site at www.lakelandmedia.com.

Burglars pull off $5 mil caper

Vernon Hills—In what is being called the biggest theft in Vernon Hills history, Brightstar Corp. was burglarized, with electronic equipment valued at close to $5 million missing. Both the Vernon Hills Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation are working on the case.

Ex-class president charged in robbery

Libertyville—Thomas L. Justice, a 1988 Libertyville High School graduate and class president, is being held by the FBI in Chicago, on charges of bank robbery. Authorities allege that Justice, 31, robbed Union Bank in Walnut Creek, Calif., on March 7, and may be involved in the robbery of as many as 10 Chicago area banks since.

Priest accused of sexual abuse

Round Lake—One of the most well-known and respected people in the greater Round Lake area community has been accused of sexual abuse. Father Raymond Skriba 70, of St. Joseph Catholic Parish in Round Lake for almost 25 years, is accused by a woman who told the Chicago Archdiocese that Skriba had abused her at his room in the Rectory of St. Gertrude's parish in Franklin Park over 30 years ago. "We don't know if the allegations are true or not," archdiocese spokesperson James Dwyer countered.

Police arrest suspected predator

Antioch—David A. Dudick, 37, of 910 Main St., Antioch, was arrested for predatory sexual assault of a child and aggravated criminal sexual abuse on May 6. Detective Sgt. Craig Somerville said, "Dudick maintained a sexual relationship with the victim for five years and which began when the victim was 10 years old."

Relay for Life entries skyrocket

Libertyville—"Relay for Life," an annual cancer benefit walk at the Libertyville High School track, on June 8-9, is at 160 team entries and counting. Starting at 5 p.m. on June 8, relay walkers will circle the track overnight, until 10 a.m. on June 9. The GLMV event has raised $1.4 million for cancer research over the last four years.

Neighboring schools to iron out imbalance

Mundelein—School Dist. 75 board members are inviting residents to voice their input in responding to the rapid growth of limited English proficient and low-income students at Washington Elementary School. According to district superintendent Ray Partridge, the student demographics at Washington are "out of balance" compared to neighboring schools such as Mechanics Grove Elementary.

BROWN'S CHICKEN MURDERS

Possible murder weapon piece found in Wauconda man's yard

Current occupant of apartment, previously occupied by suspect James Degorski, says he was a 'troublemaker'

By MARC JENKINS
News Editor
and STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

A Wauconda Twp. man who moved into an apartment previously occupied by a suspect in the Brown's Chicken murders found a sawed-off barrel of what he believed to be a handgun in his yard while mowing it last year.

Steve Krucek, a truck driver, moved his family into the first-floor apartment of 28530 Lakeview Court, near Slocum Lake in Williams Park subdivision, last fall. While mowing his yard for the first time, Krucek's lawnmower ran over some rather interesting items.

"There were a few knives, a butcher knife about (8 inches) long in the yard," Krucek said in an exclusive interview with Lakeland reporters. "And I also ran over a piece of a gun, about a three-inch piece made of chrome with the sight still attached. It could have been to a .38 or a .44 (caliber handgun), definitely not a .22, it wasn't that small, or a shotgun, because it wasn't that big."

Palatine police say a revolver, possibly a .38 caliber handgun, was used by both James Degorski and Juan Luna on the night of Jan. 8, 1993, to execute seven people at Brown's Chicken in Palatine. Reports say Degorski and Luna told police that they dumped the gun in the Fox River near Algonquin.

Krucek described the chrome gun piece as having a raised groove on the top of the barrel that connected to the sight on the gun.

The murder weapon has not been found, police said.

Krucek said he believes he threw the gun piece, which he found near a septic tank, in the garbage after he found it.

"Who knows?" Krucek said. "The gun might be down in the septic tank."

Although Krucek did not have a personal relationship with Degorski, he was familiar with the name before recent events unfolded.

"I knew who Jim Degorski was," said Krucek, who lived in another nearby house before moving into his

Golfers take a swing for Special Olympians

Mundelein—Spring rain showers couldn't drive away die-hard golfers from participating on the 2nd Annual Mundelein Police Department Golf Outing to raise money for the Special Olympics athletes at Village Green Country Club in Mundelein. 92 individuals teed off to raise awareness and funds for the 2002 Illinois Summer Games in Bloomington-Normal. Golfers from community businesses and other companies paid $75 to play.

New plans for Deer Point Commons

Hainesville—With single family housing property to the rear, residential property to the side and a new school going in across the street, Mars Properties Inc. is reconsidering their plans for the Deer Point Commons development. Looking to make a transition from residential to commercial, Rich Pietranek Jr. of Mars Properties brought forward a plan to combine residential and commercial on the same lot.

Legion celebrates deed burning

Gurnee—The American Legion held a 50-year dedication last week, marking the anniversary of the day they paid off their mortgage and burned the deed to celebrate. In 1947, five members of the American Legion each took out a $1,000 loan for the construction of a 50'x80' building at the corner of Grand and Milwaukee avenues. On hand were three members of the 1952 Alden-Hebron High School basketball team that defeated Quincy for the state championship 50 years ago and Warren principal Ron Shelton, who carried the Olympic torch this winter.

Board approves Rohrman annexation

Gurnee—The village board was able to reach an agreement over the proposed Volkswagen/Hyundai dealerships to be built by auto dealer Bob Rohrman. The main sticking point for approval of the annexation of the unincorporated property on the south side of Grand, just east of Menards, had to do with the setback from Grand Avenue for the proposed dealerships. It is estimated that the dealerships will generate $600,000 of yearly tax revenue for Gurnee.

Villages agree to split sales tax

Round Lake Area—In a show of cooperation between the community municipalities—the villages of Round Lake Beach and Round Lake Heights have agreed to share sales-tax revenue from the Ashley Furniture Home Store on Rollins Road which is actually located in both towns. Round Lake Beach is a home rule community and collects a 1.5 percent sales tax while Round Lake Heights collects one percent. The sales tax from the furniture store will be collected by Round Lake Beach.

Churchill, Beaubien have new challengers

Armstrong hopes to unify in Dist. 62 with 'love of country'

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

A community volunteer with a broad background in educational reform is the choice of the Democrats to run against Republican Bob Churchill in the newly created 62nd State Legislative District of north central Lake County.

Judy Armstrong, 52, a resident of Round Lake Beach, said she is running because she has a strong sense of civic duty combined with a deep love for her country.

District 62 is one of three new legislative districts formed in Lake County as the result of the 2000 census. It runs from Gurnee west to the Fox Lake-Ingleside area, and takes in most of the greater Round Lake area, Grayslake, portions of Warren Township, Third Lake, Hainesville and parts of the Lake Villa area.

"Transportation solutions, budgetary discipline, educational reform, and property tax relief are among my top priorities," said Armstrong. "We can't keep depending on property taxes to run our schools."

Armstrong said she is known in the community as a unifier, a peacemaker, a facilitator and a communicator.

"I want to bring those skills to Springfield because they are needed to resolve the funding crisis we now face," she added.

Armstrong is currently serving as president of CUBE (Communities United for Better Education) which is a sub-committee of BEST (Bringing Everyone's Strength's Together) coalition. BEST members include three Round Lake area mayors, three police chiefs, numerous police officers, high school students, school board members, social service agencies, church members, clergy, Nicasa and concerned citizens who are trying to make the greater Round Lake area a better place to live.

The candidate was a stay at home mom for most of her adult life before reentering the work force five years ago, joining Bolchazy-Carducci Publishers in 1995. She became their office manager in 1997 and will start her new position as assistant to the president on June 1.

Armstrong is a life long Illinois resident, born in Evanston and raised in Skokie, Chicago and Macomb. She attended Western Illinois University and the college of Lake County.

She has been happily married for 32 years to her husband, Jim, and they have four sons who all graduated from Round Lake Senior High School.

Skinner takes a shot in Dist. 52

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

It is written in the Bible that God helped David slay Goliath in one of the biggest upsets in ancient Israel. Now, Democratic candidate Steve Skinner may need some divine help of his own as he prepares to try and upset incumbent Mark Beaubien (R-Barrington) for the state representative seat in district 52.

The 52nd district was redrawn after the last census. The district now includes parts of Avon Township, Grant Township, Wauconda Township, Cuba Township, and parts of Nunda Township in McHenry County.

Skinner, 42, a resident of Round Lake, is the owner of Skinner Machine Systems, which sells electronic manufacturing equipment and supplies. Skinner designed one of the machines his company sells.

In addition, he works as a part-time newspaper reporter for Lakeland Media, and is a member of the Round Lake Area Public Library board of trustees.

Skinner said he is running because he is not happy with the way the state has been run, especially with regard to our state budget. "Plus, we have a governor who has been mired in scandal from day one. It's appalling," said Skinner.

"The governor was advised a year ago that income projections were off and there would be a budget strain this year."

"What has the governor and his party done? They have blamed most of the budget woes on September 11. Now their solution is to cut services and increase taxes," said Skinner.

"We need to cut waste and fat from the budget before we even consider cutting services and raising taxes," said Skinner.

"I am running because it's time for reform, and because I am not a politician. People are tired of seeing our tax dollars squandered. I'm not another wealthy politician, I think there are too many of those already."

"I believe it is time that we the people stop being nickel and dimes to death. I plan on keeping an eye on our dimes and nickels."

"There needs to be equal representation in this district, from store clerks to CEO's, not just campaign contributors, lobbyists and their pals. We need a balanced budget, and we need to make sure seniors don't lose their homes to rising property taxes."

"There are more schools out there like Round Lake and we need to reform school funding. We also need to relieve gridlock on the county roads now. The incumbent has done little regarding traffic congestion in the district."

Leagues of Women Voters will discuss sludge plant

The League of Women Voters of Highland Park and the Lake Michigan Inter-League Group will present a program on Wednesday, May 29 at 7:30pm in Highland Park, "To Burn Or Not To Burn: Sludge to Glass," to discuss the controversial proposal to construct a sludge incinerator facility in Waukegan, near the shore of Lake Michigan.

The North Shore Sanitary District (NSSD) has already invested $10 Million of an estimated $26 Million in preparation of their Waukegan disposal plant for recycling sludge (waste matter) into glass. Challenging this undertaking are environmental groups, the Lake Michigan Federation and The Sierra Club, who claim that the processing will release mercury vapor, and thus mercury contaminants, into the air and Lake Michigan. The City of Waukegan is suing the NSSD in order to stop this additional building along the lake shore.

"To Burn Or Not To Burn: Sludge to Glass" will address all sides of this issue on Wednesday, May 29 at 7:30pm at the Highland Park Community House, 1991 Sheridan Road. Speakers are Laurel O'Sullivan from the Lake Michigan Federation Council and Bryan Jensen from the North Shore Sanitary District. Mercury is a potent neuro toxin with serious immediate and long-term implications for human health, according to O'Sullivan, toxics coordinator and attorney for the Lake Michigan Federation. Jensen, Director of the NSSD, will present benefits of this new concept, a burner that turns sludge into glass which can then be sold for use in materials for road building.

Free parking is available at the Community House in Highland Park.

Avoiding pain at tax season

With a population exceeding several states and an economy that rivals third world nations, collecting real estate taxes is big business in Lake County. This year, 244,541 taxpayers are facing a total tax bill exceeding $1.3 billion. Each year brings new problems and new challenges for the tax collection apparatus that includes the County Treasurer, the County Clerk, Supervisor of Assessments Office and 18 township assessors. Treasurer Robert "Bob" Skidmore pointed to a new direct bank withdrawal program this year as an example of efforts to make payments easier and more convenient.

Another convenience this year is the establishment of drop boxes at the County Building in Waukegan and the Dept. of Transportation office in Libertyville to receive payments. Another example of efforts to make tax payments more palatable is the policy of accepting partial payments during the May-November real estate tax paying season.

One time-honored method of paying taxes—in person at the Treasurer's office—is dwindling because of new security measures and parking restrictions at the County Building. Just about every bank in the county is available to accept tax payments. Skidmore continues to explore options for payment procedures.

About the only hurtful part of the process is actually writing a check or opening the wallet. It wouldn't seem right if tax time was totally without pain. Sort of like a trip to the dentist.

Main St. fights Dr. Kevorkian

After four successful forays into the vibrant Lake County economy, Wal-Mart executives have been taken aback, perhaps even stunned, that their desire for a fifth mega box store is being met with a buzz saw of opposition. They're probably wondering, what's with this quirky little town in northern Illinois? Antioch?

With the retail colossus already cruising along nicely with stores in Gurnee, Round Lake Beach, Vernon Hills and Lake Zurich, why Antioch? Al Norman, nationally known author and Wal-Mart nemesis, explained during a recent visit that Wal-Mart is embarking on a new strategy in intensifying its clusters. The company now is bent on increasing market share besides same store profitability, according to Norman, even to the extent of cannibalizing existing stores or abandoning smaller locations.

What is energizing Wal-Mart opposition in Antioch is Wal-Mart's record of leaving a trail throughout the Midwest and other parts of the nation of abandoned small town retail districts, virtual ghost main streets with shuttered stores or replacement "businesses" like tattoo parlors, adult book stores and seedy bars.

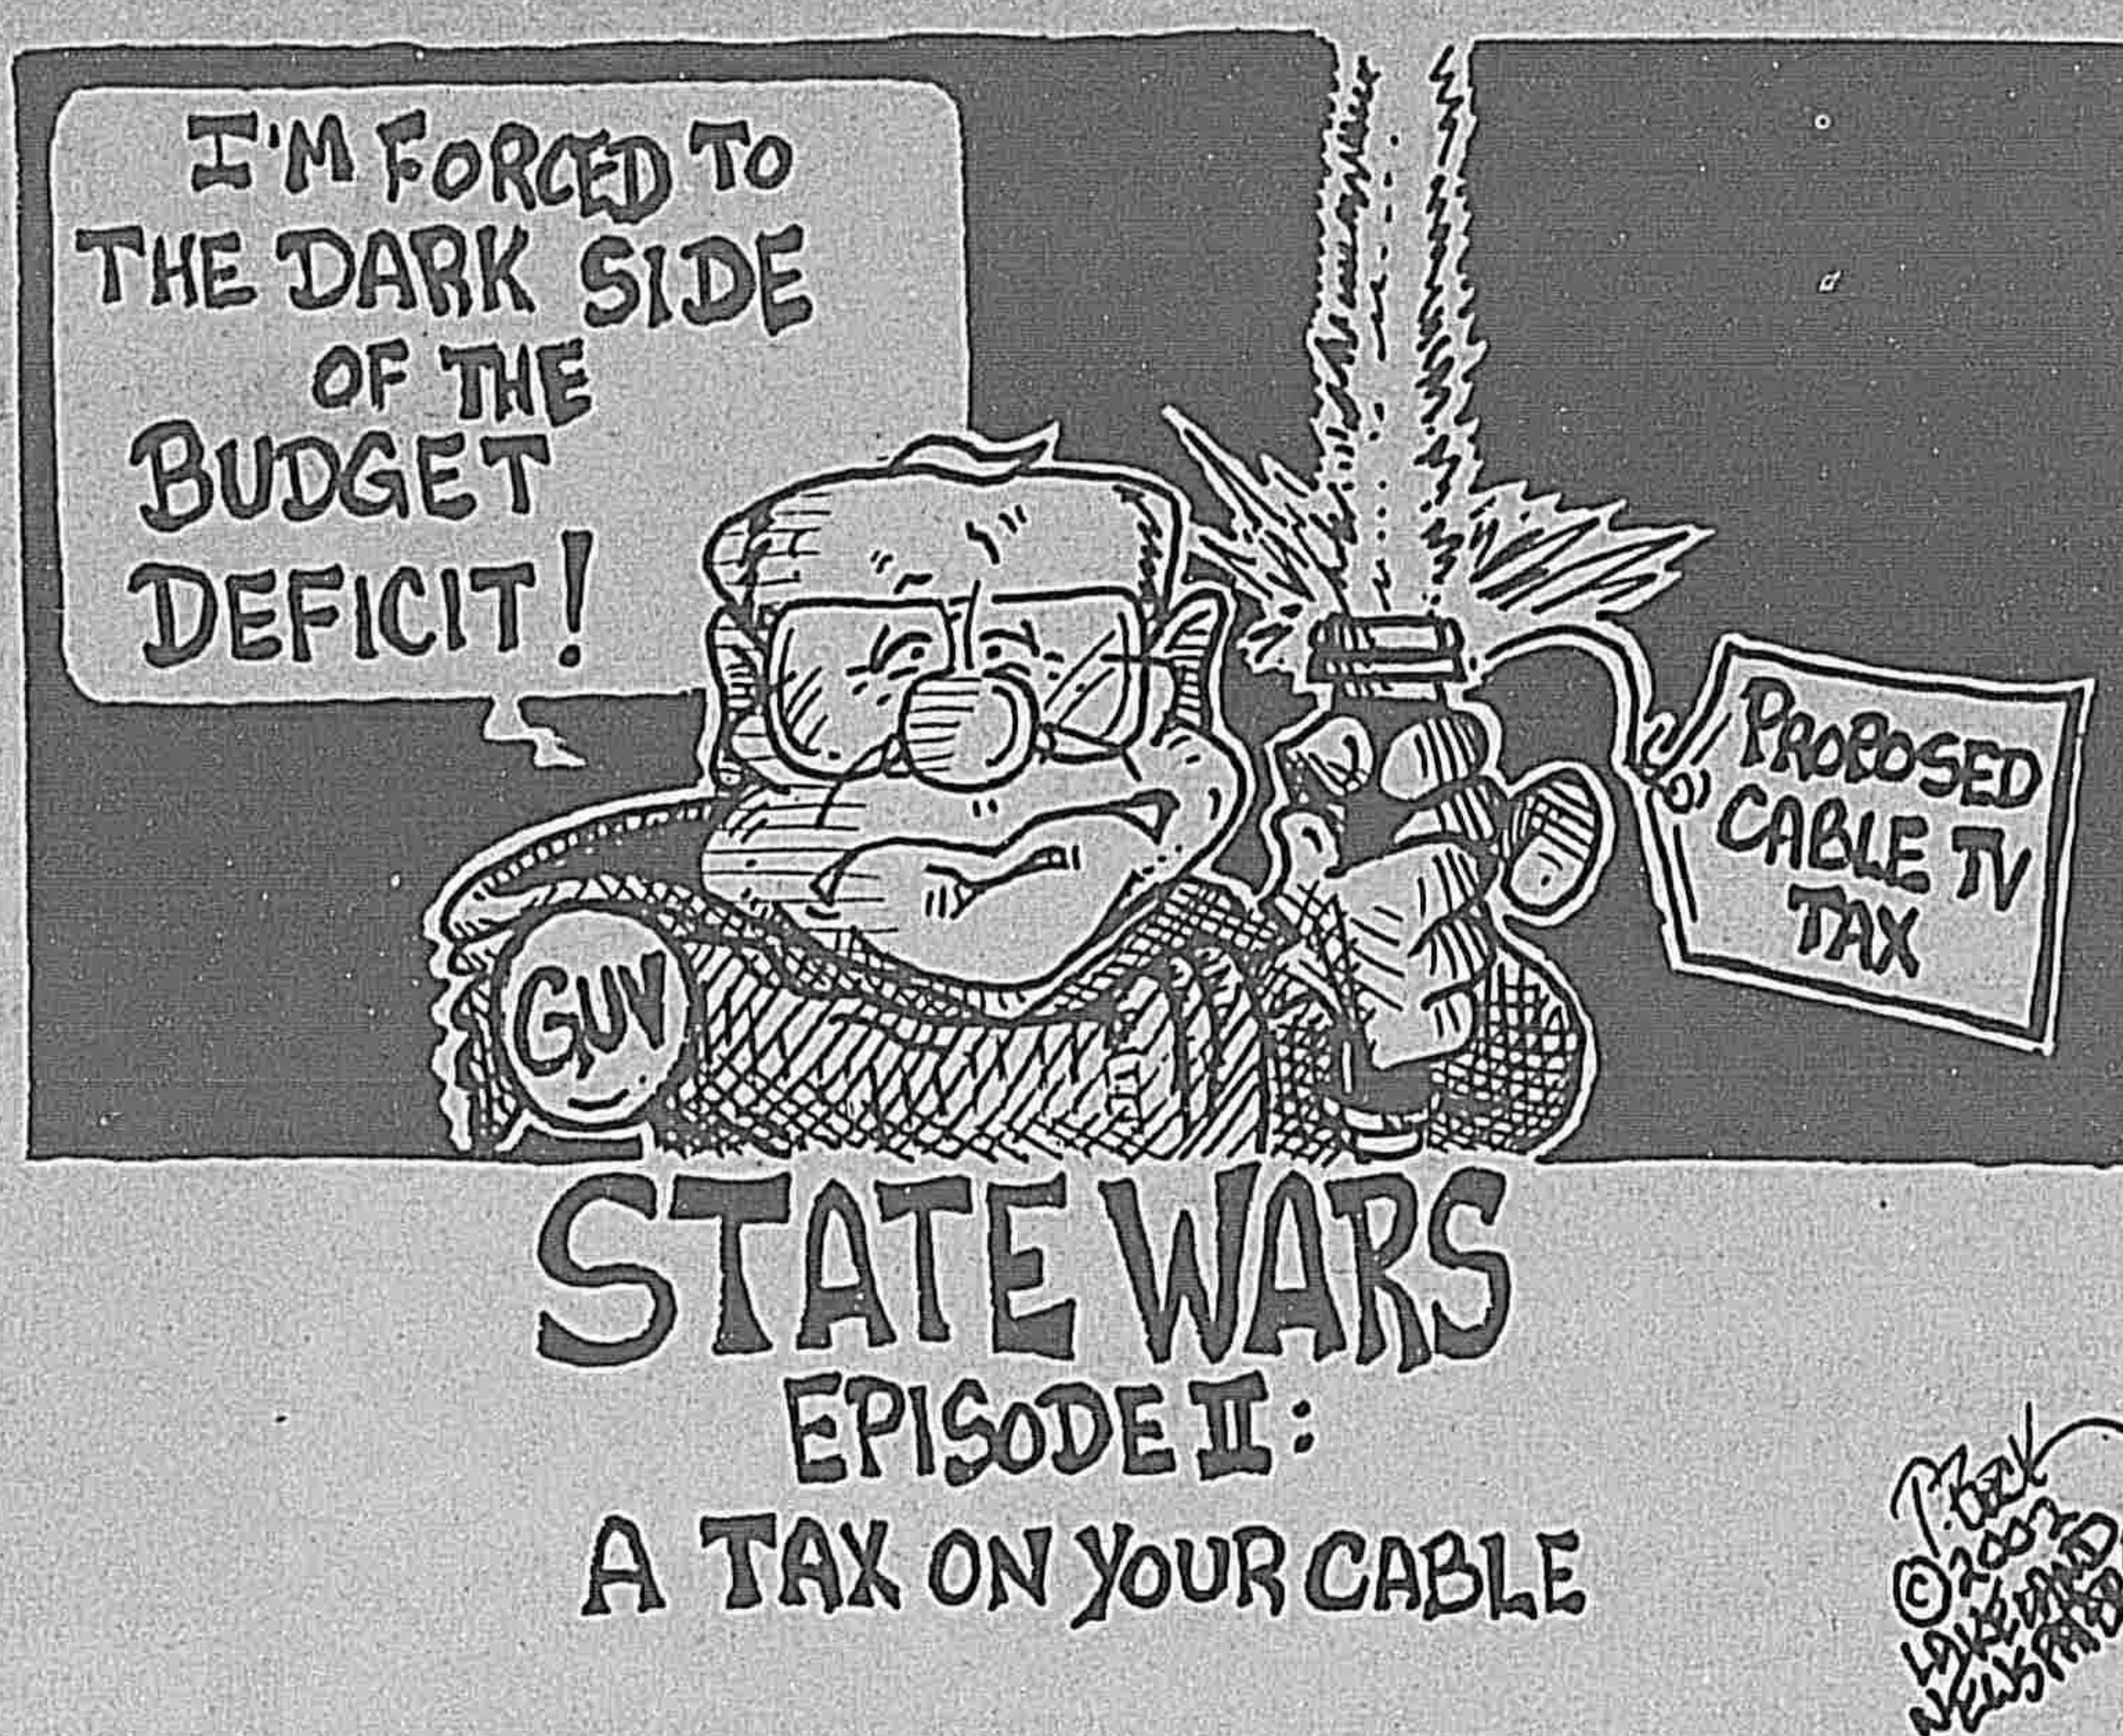

Members of Residents for Responsible Growth, the Antioch response team, don't want to see that happen to their central retail sector, a true suburban main street with a picture postcard variety of shops and services, right down to tree-lined sidewalks. They are fighting for their business' lives and hometown character. They've taken a "gloves off" approach as testified by bumper stickers, "Wal-Mart Sucks the Life Out of Your Town."

A Chicago suburban developer touting the new Wal-Mart location is producing typical big box store arguments supporting the premise that Antioch is "underserved" and that Wal-Mart sales will produce new found sales tax revenue. At stake is a proposal to build the Wal-Mart box and more than a dozen other retail outlets on 65 acres on Route 173, for all intents and purposes a "twin" town. Members of the Planning and Zoning Commission are studying plans and will stage another public meeting June 6 on whether Wal-Mart should be accepted.

While the Wal-Mart argument is persuasive and has caught the eye of Antioch village officials and school leaders desperate for new revenues, Norman warned that when damage inflicted by Wal-Mart to existing business is factored in, the gains aren't sufficient to offset destruction of a viable retail sector. "Wal-Mart doesn't enhance your main street; Wal-Mart replaces it," Norman states ominously.

There is a big difference in what happened—or didn't happen—when Wal-Mart opened stores at three previous locations in Lake County. Gurnee, Round Lake Beach, Vernon Hills and Lake Zurich did not have established central business districts with a long history of community service. Antioch's Main Street has been a retail hub for 100 years. The business district is established and accepted. Weakening a positive influence or replacing a significant feature of a town doesn't make sense.

Responsible Growth advocates see Wal-Mart as a corporate version of Dr. Kevorkian. You can't blame them for battling what amounts to an assisted suicide proposition.

Goodbye Hawthorn, G'day Westfield

G'day, mate! How about those Aussies? They've given us so much. Mel Gibson, Kangaroos, Foster's, Kiwi fruit, surfing, Rupert Murdoch and his precocious offspring, Crocodile Dundee, Olivia Newton-John, Outback Steak House and Nicole Kidman. So maybe it's only natural to want to take something away. Like shopping center names.

Australian real estate tycoons, gobbling up values in the states, are acquiring shopping centers. OK, OK, it's a global economy. Yet they are bent on putting their name on fine old establishments like Hawthorn Shopping Center now that the center is in their hands. They call it branding. And their brand is Westfield.

So get used to Hawthorn Center Westfield. Or is it going to be Westfield Shoppingtown Hawthorn. Oh, well. You get the idea. Bit of an ego thing, don't ya think, mate? Westfield. Sounds like a name Sears or Penney's would pick for men's underwear.

Westfield. Westfield. Have to think about that. Something to ponder with a frosty oil can of Foster's. One of me favorites, ye know!

Welcome growth

Chuck Bartels, one of Lake County's extraordinary business and civic leaders, is rounding out a series of May meetings to increase membership in Lake County Partners. As chairman, Bartels personally is contacting 350 corporations to reach a goal of $500,000 for the privately funded organization. Partners is committed to diversifying the county's economic base, creating new jobs, stimulating capital investment, expanding the tax base and relieving pressure on residential taxpayers. That's the kind of growth no one will have an argument with.

One man's family

At least once, a grandfather has to be "beamed with a binky" to become a member in good standing of the Grandfather's Club. I got my initiation the day Tommy stopped by the office and let fly with a wicked southpaw toss. Never saw the missile coming and didn't know the source until I looked up and saw a two-year-old with a mischievous grin on his face standing in the doorway. With that kind of aim, he could grow up to be a major league pitcher.

Casino gambling— It's not a sure bet for anyone

I attended an informational meeting on "Gambling our future away," held at the United Protestant Church of Grayslake.

It was sponsored by the Task Force for a Casino Free Lake County. They are seeking to place an advisory referendum on the November ballot as to whether a gambling casino should be located in Lake County. Their task is huge. They need about 37,000 registered voters to sign petitions.

to the society. His words had a greater impact on me because no special interest group, on either side of the issue, was paying for his research.

The reason that some community leaders lean toward supporting casino gambling is that they are sold on the notion that gaming houses bring jobs and spur the economy. Before they jump to those conclusions, they should

Sign Crane bill in Oval Office

Congressman Phil Crane (R-Ill.) attended a signing ceremony in the Oval Office at the White House for a bill to increase public awareness and create a program to expand and coordinate research of blood cancers including leukemia, lymphoma and multiple myeloma. Crane, whose daughter Rachel died at age 31 from non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, has long been an advocate for blood cancer research. Crane introduced a bill in the House and worked with Senator Kay Bailey Hutchinson (Texas) to draft the bill and get this legislation passed.

"This cause means a great deal to me and my family, and many other families whose loved ones have blood cancer," Crane said. "I hope this bill will go a long way towards educating the public about blood cancer and to help prevent, diagnose, treat and ultimately cure this disease."

County Republican Chairman Tom Adams also spent some time with President Bush recently as part of a group of Illinois leaders meeting in Washington. Adams said President Bush has a knack for "connecting" with people even though the contact is brief.

Libertarian leader

Eric Dubiel, a young computer engineer and former Motorola employee, is promising an aggressive grassroots effort to spark interest in the growing Libertarian movement in Lake County. Dubiel, a Lake Zurich resident, accepted the county Libertarian chairmanship this spring. The party sponsored an appearance last week of Jim Tobin, Libertarian candidate for lieutenant governor, at Elia Area Public Library.

Angered at attorney

Opponents of a proposed Wal-Mart Mega store in Antioch are hopping mad that village attorney Don Anderson advised members of the Planning and Zoning Commission to pass on attending an anti-box store meeting. They said Anderson should wake up to the fact that the Wal-Mart proposal faces strong opposition.

Satisfied assessor

Wauconda Township Assessor Doris Weidner is pleased with the number of complaints received regarding the 2001 assessments.

"We received 76 complaints, and that is less than 1 percent of the 8,500 parcels in Wauconda Township," Weidner said. "You always want to have zero complaints, but it is a good indicator of the job that we are doing."

Weidner has been on the job in Wauconda Township since 1988, when she was appointed. She has a staff of three full-timers and one part-timer.

The township has received its multiplier from Lake County officials, of 1.0022.

"Most of the assessors in Lake County were adjusted less than 3 percent. Think if a teacher gave you back a research paper and it had less than 3 percent changes," Weidner said.

Assessors are now into the modern age of digital cameras for photographing properties.

Kudos to all the assessors, who are sometimes a lightning rod from upset taxpayers, when it is parks, schools, libraries, etc. that set the tax rates.

Disappearing wildlife

The dogs and owners must be in seventh heaven. I am not. I had a terrific view of the wild life in the Preserve from my apartment in Victory Lakes Independent Living Building. It was chosen mostly because of the view. There used to be wonderful sights seen daily, from our windows, including a small herd of deer. What a view seeing the yearlings playing in the fields. Since the field has gone to the dogs we no longer see any deer. Among other wildlife no longer seen are the hawks soaring high and low searching for their dinners. It was exciting to see their antics while they were hovering like "copters" over their table. The egrets and cranes have fled to safer places also.

I do not dislike dogs but I firmly believe this beautiful and expensive piece of land is too good for them. They would like any property so long as they could run free. Three small trees were planted in the middle of the open field just this morning. Were these three planted just for the dogs? It would seem to me there are enough trees around the field for them to use.

Unwise cutting

People in Illinois rely upon their local governments to provide important basic services, villages and cities provide life saving services like police protection, fire protection and ambulance service, public works that maintain roads and sidewalks, and basic health services like municipal sewer and water service. Each year elected officials of municipal governments struggle with budgets to make sure the citizens of their communities get the highest level of services at an affordable tax rate.

Since local governments have worked in partnership with the State of Illinois to provide these services, Illinois government made a commitment to assist in the funding of these important governmental responsibilities. Now, because of a budget shortfall, some of our elected officials in state government have proposed cutting the percentage of the income tax that the state is supposed to share with local governments and eliminating the local share of the photo processing tax.

This cut in state funding for local government will have little effect in reducing the state deficit. While municipalities lose $84 million of much needed funding; the state will still be over $1.2 billion in deficit. The projected state deficit is over 14 times the $84 million this proposal takes away from municipalities. Yet the City of Park City, a smaller municipality with only modest resources, will lose approximately, $58,000, which is about $12,000 more than the entire city collects in property taxes.

I ask every citizen in this state to write or call their elected state officials and encourage them to meet their obligation to local government. Our quality of life depends upon the services we receive from our local government.

Why not a sculpture in every town?

Coming soon to beautiful downtown Fox Lake, a statue of actress Ann-Margret.

Now that I have your attention, there is no truth to that rumor I just tried to start.

But why not? To revitalize its downtown area, Waukegan has commissioned a 7-foot-tall bronze sculpture of comedian and favorite son Jack Benny. Maybe other Lake County communities should look into their histories and consider similar projects?

If Benny still was on this side of the grass he probably would quip, "I don't deserve this honor, but I have arthritis and I don't deserve that either."

Let's see, for starters, Libertyville could have a sculpture of actor Marlon Brando and Fox Lake could decide among Ann-Margret and infamous Chicago gangsters like Al Capone and "Bugs" Moran, who had hide-outs and speakeasies in that area during the Roaring '20s.

It has been said of small towns that once you've seen the cannon in the park the sight-seeing tour is over.

Antioch, in a prominent downtown spot and on a large pedestal, displays a World War II army tank instead of a cannon. The tank

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

was placed there and "dedicated to those from Antioch Township who gave their lives in World War II: Theodore Carlson, Walter Edelman, Allen Hanke, Edward Nickelbein Jr., Willard Randall and Arthur Scott."

Countless people pass that old tank every day not realizing what it represents. One must go up on the pedestal and read the plaque, which I finally did after living in Antioch for 28 years.

Birds have found refuge in the tank for half a century, nesting in its nooks and crannies. The birds in Waukegan no doubt will enjoy the Jack Benny sculpture.

Erik Blome of Barrington, the Benny sculptor, calls his statue "a beacon of hope and a symbol of Waukegan pride. Jack Benny Plaza has character, charm and aesthetic appeal in the midst of a depressed and struggling downtown."

Ann-Margret Ollson, born in Sweden in 1941, came to Fox Lake with her parents at age 8. As a youngster she was well known for her zest for voice, music and dancing lessons, and her eagerness to perform in local shows.

Brando was known as "Bud" during his days at Libertyville High School, circa 1940. He recalls he was "a bad student, incorrigible." He went to New York at age 19 to become an actor. It worked.

Brando's autobiography, "Songs My Mother Taught Me," is full of Libertyville references.

"The parents of some of my friends treated me as if I were poison," he writes. "I have never forgotten my life in Libertyville when I felt unwanted. Had I been loved and cared for differently, I would have been a different person."

But finally, at 78, Brando says: "I am a vastly different person from what I was like as a child. I am happier than I've ever been. I finally feel free and don't give a damn anymore what people think about me."

Fox Lake's leaders over the years have tried to hush up its old reputation as a getaway for gangsters, so let's stick with Ann-Margret. Besides, she's more statuesque.

who leave with lighter wallets.

We could go on and on to cite the costs to the community that come with casino gambling. There are more bankruptcies, more broken homes, more domestic abuse cases, more suicides, more unemployment compensation costs. More public welfare cases. If all of those problems fell on those who become addicted to gambling; that is one thing. But many of the costs fall back to the taxpayers.

From a "cost benefit analysis," I believe that communities are the big losers when they succumb to the operators who sell them on the idea that casinos can "bail them out."

I hope that the task force gets enough signatures to put the issue on the ballot. I'm willing to give you "ten to one odds" that the people will resoundingly say, "not in my front or back yard." But, that would be gambling, wouldn't it?

examine the negative impacts of such gambling.

In that regard, it was refreshing to see that Waukegan Mayor Richard Hyde was there, at the invitation of the group. Waukegan is one of two Lake county communities, which appear to be actively pursuing a casino operation. Mayor Hyde's presence there indicates that he still has an open mind on the issue.

Dr. Grinois' remarks differentiated the "sales pitch" that is given by the gambling casino promoters. He said that theirs is what is called multiplier analysis; in other words, every job, or every business, is looked at in positive terms, even though they have reduced other jobs or businesses in the area. What they don't tell you is what they don't want you to hear. It's "the other side of the coin" and you know what "coins" pockets of the casino customers.

The "cost benefit analysis" to a community is what policy makers should be looking at. When you look at the societal costs of casino gambling, the casino gambler isn't the only one that loses; the community loses too. Crime rates increase where there are casino operations. That means that taxpayers must pay for more police. Businesses who locate near a casino find that a casino customer is in town just to play the games, then they lose and leave. In fact, the only business that showed any appreciable gain from casinos was service stations, gassing up the "casino victims"

Baxter awards $4.8 million to over 200 world agencies

The Baxter International Foundation, the philanthropic arm of Baxter International Inc., awarded $4.8 million in 2001 to support the health and well-being of communities worldwide where Baxter team members live and work.

During the year, the foundation supported more than 208 organizations in 15 countries and four continents, significantly expanding its giving on a global level.

The primary focus of the foundation is on improving access to quality, affordable health care accounting for nearly 70 percent of total funding. Specifically, these projects focused primarily on providing preventive health-care initiatives for children, addressing the needs of the elderly and filling critical health-care gaps, such as support for enhanced training and education for health-care workers and caregivers.

The foundation supports organizations that are providing programs and services that help to increase access to quality, affordable health care to people and communities in need worldwide.

The foundation supports organizations whose health-care programs and initiatives have an immediate yet lasting impact. For example, in Boulder, Colorado, where Baxter employs about 150 people, there are pockets of stark poverty in an otherwise affluent community.

To help address the health-care needs of low-income and uninsured residents in Boulder and Adams counties, the foundation partnered with Clinica Campesina Family Health Services to fund a preventive health education program.

This program in Colorado addresses areas long considered responsive to preventive education, including management of diabetes, depression, and cholesterol.

In addition to group classes, medical providers offer basic screening services covering such concerns as cholesterol, weight and vision.

The program was modeled after a group-visit concept that Kaiser Permanente of Colorado helped develop. A one-year randomized clinical trial demonstrated that this approach helped increase patient compliance and satisfaction, while reducing the cost of care.

Helping Communities Help Themselves
The foundation seeks out programs that can be sustained beyond the life of the grant by empowering individuals and communities through the grant dollars, thereby increasing the impact of such funding.

For example, the grant last year made in Ghajnsielem, Island of Gozo, in Malta, was suggested by Baxter team members working at the company's Malta facility. Here a foundation grant to the Arka Foundation of Gozo supported the training of caregivers, staff and people with disabilities at their Respite Centre in Ghajnsielem.

The Respite Center provides relief to caretakers and allows people with disabilities to participate in integrated social and recreational activities.

With support from The Baxter International Foundation, the Respite Center can further strengthen the support network for people with disabilities, while enabling them to become more independent.

Partnering with Baxter to Help Victims of Global Disasters. In addition to identifying opportunities to improve access to health care, The Baxter International Foundation offered assistance in crisis situations. Joining forces with Baxter International Inc. and its team members worldwide, the foundation in 2001 provided more than $2 million to organizations in New York, Washington D.C., and Pennsylvania to address the mental and physical health-care needs of people affected by the tragedies of September 11.

The company and foundation specifically sought out organizations that were providing vital services, but weren't already recipients of significant funding relief efforts.

CLC announces summer kids' theater

Tickets are on sale for the College of Lake County's summer children's theatre series, at the campus in Grayslake.

The series is sponsored by the student activities office in cooperation with Waukegan Park District's Bowen Park Theatre Company and the City of Waukegan.

Three children's plays will be presented this summer: "The Misadventures of Tom Sawyer" at 7 p.m. on June 26, "Tom Sawyer, Scoundrel at Large" at 1 and 7 p.m. on July 17 and "Tom Sawyer and the Mystery of Injun Joe" at 1 and 7 p.m. on Aug. 1.

All performances will be held in the C-Wing Auditorium, C005, at the CLC campus in Grayslake.

Tickets are $4 for each performance. Payments may be made by Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express. Advance ticket purchase is recommended as the series usually sells out.

For tickets, call the box office at 847-543-2300.

BROWN'S

Lakeview Court address. "He was a trouble-maker. Now that I realize who he is, there has been some strange things that have happened, which don't have explanation."

In addition to finding the gun barrel and knives (Degorski and Luna have been said to torture small animals in their past), Krucek said he found a swastika painted on a wall in his basement when he moved in.

"It's really strange," Krucek said. "The police haven't come by at all, yet."

"I used to go past Brown's when I lived in Arlington Heights. All of a sudden I'm living in the house that he did. It's strange to watch," Krucek said.

"I had nothing to do with it, but I feel a part of it. I feel really sorry for the victims, especially the daughter whose parents (Richard and Lynn Ehlenfeldt) were killed."

'A nice guy'

"(James Degorski) was a real nice guy. He would help with our roofs and in the summer, too," said an anonymous neighbor, who lived next door to Degorski for two-and-a-half years. "It's a solo block. It is not like a Brady Bunch block."

"Following Sept. 11, people want things to be resolved. There was too much time in between now and then," the neighbor added. He found out about Degorski's involvement in the Brown's Chicken murder case the same way as everyone else did, by watching TV, and said he was surprised and shocked that a neighbor is one of two prime suspects.

Neighbors stunned

Nearby residents are reacting in general shock that a person charged with a role in the murder of seven people lived within their area.

"I do not think that anyone ever heard of him. No one knew who he was," said Jim Keagle, Wauconda Township supervisor.

A Williams Park homeowner's association official, who declined to be named, said she met Degorski when he first moved in. He told her that he was a carpenter. He was not active in association outings, she said.

"No one ever knew him. You are surprised to find out, but it can happen anywhere. Who knows? The question is why did it happen, what made him violent as a youth. It is sad; no community is immune to this. It comes as a shock when it happens this close to home," said Rosemary Mers, Wauconda Township trustee of Degorski.

Fred Leckie of Wauconda saw the case unfold before his eyes from the start.

"I lived two blocks away from Fremd High School. It (the killings) was numbing, but people were not scared to be around town. It was the first murder in the town. I remember going by the Brown's Chicken the day after it happened and seeing the police tape."

Don't label the town

Will Tremont, a Wauconda barber, said the case has drawn much discussion at his shop.

"People were upset that the jailer who broke Degorski's cheek bone (over the weekend) may be fired. There was talk about how someone could keep that a secret for so long. Maybe the girlfriend had a reason to be afraid," he said.

"He (Degorski) was not from Wauconda, so there should be no bearing on the community as a whole. We were just pleased that they found him," said Gail Wittenberg, a Wauconda trustee and business owner.

Suit alleges illegal property tax hikes by towns

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

Larry Leafblad, a Republican Lake County board member from Grayslake, alleges in a lawsuit filed in Lake County Circuit Court, that as many as 14 township assessors have illegally and "capriciously" raised 2001 property tax bills "anywhere from 10 to 136 percent."

Waukegan Attorney Newton Finn filed suit on behalf of Leafblad, as a resident and not a county official. The suit seeks the relief of having a judge order the suit's sole defendant, County Treasurer Robert Skidmore, "to re-compute and to re-bill the 2001 taxes for" properties in Antioch, Avon, Benton, Cuba, Fremont, Grant, Lake Villa, Libertyville, Newport, Shields, Warren, Wauconda, Waukegan and Zion townships.

These 14 townships were not subject to the 2001 "quadrennial" reassessment of property taxes, done by state statute every four years, as were Ela, Moraine, Vernon and West Deerfield with 2001 tax bills that came out this month.

Skidmore

Leafblad said the urgency of the suit is that the first of two tax bill installments are due in early June, and he's hoping that a judge will take quick steps to save property owners from over-paying. A re-billing of the property taxes, asks the plaintiff, would be based on the 2000 assessments of properties in those townships. In the case of property owners who've already paid their first tax installment, the suit asks that the second installment be adjusted to reflect a re-computation of the bills.

Skidmore, on the advice of his attorney, referred questions to the Lake County State's Attorney's office. Meg Marcouiller, Deputy Chief of the Civil Division, said Leafblad has "confused" two taxing concepts, "equalization of taxes and reassessment." Marcouiller said assessors are allowed to authorize tax assessments at one-third of a home's cash value, and that she would be filing a detailed response in court this week.

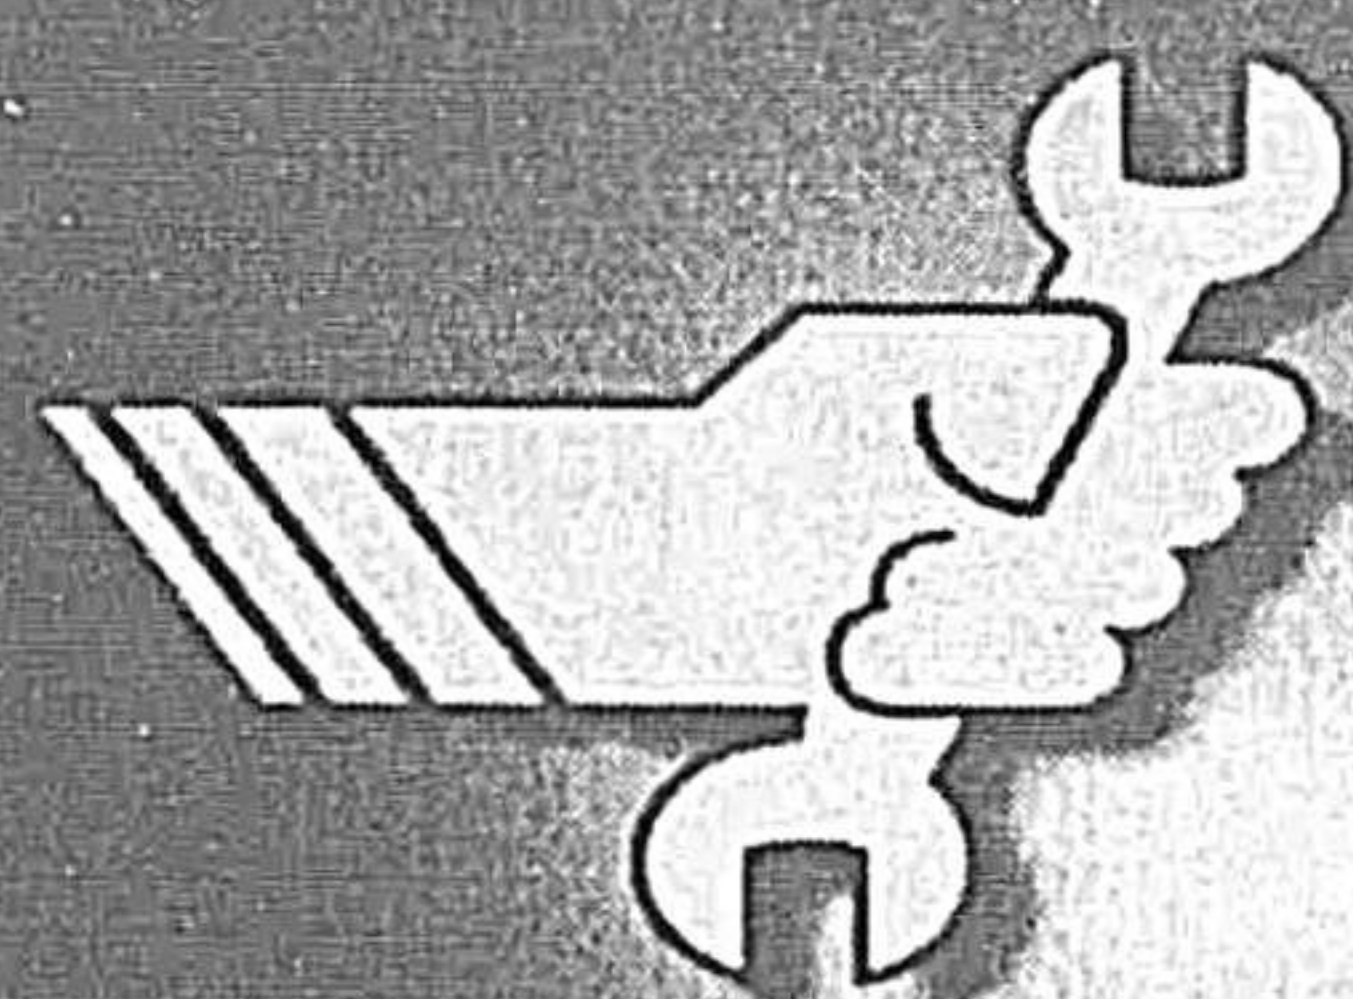

Leafblad said he's not confused at all and "I don't care what Meg Marcouiller says about this code and that code. It's all a bunch of 'B.S.' Even if that was right, it doesn't change the fact that there is no consistency at all in the assessments."

"There are hundreds of residents in Grayslake, and dozens if not hundreds in the Village of Third Lake, and unincorporated areas on the west shore of the lake ... who have seen increases anywhere from 10 percent to 136 percent. That's just dead wrong."

Leafblad, who lost his bid for re-nomination to the county board in the March primaries, lives in the Highland Lake subdivision of unincorporated Grayslake.

The Leafblads' 2001 assessed valuation reflects an increase of 9.82 percent. The bottom line, he added, "is that we have a recent appellate court decision saying that (township assessors not in a quadrennial year) can not arbitrarily change the assessed valuation of property, unless there was an error. The suit specifies that the only factors that would allow substantial correction are in computing previous assessments, in reflecting a significant upgrade of the property, or to meet equalization factors established at county and state levels."

Bittersweet ending for Lancers

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

The College of Lake County baseball team's season came to a close with a 3-1 loss to Blackhawk College in the Region IV playoffs last week in Grayslake.

The host of the tournament, CLC came within two games of a shot to avenge their loss in the state championship from last year.

With the score 1-1 in the bottom of the eighth-inning, CLC loaded the bases with no outs. However, it failed to put a run across. Blackhawk then put up two runs in the top of the ninth to take the lead and eventually the win. "We cost ourselves the opportunity to advance when we made some errors," said CLC head coach Gene Hanson. "We also didn't hit in clutch situations as well as we could have." CLC's Rick Trampke took the loss giving up seven hits. Russ Schaibly scored CLC's only run with a solo home run in the sixth.

The Lancer's finish their season with a 38-14 record, including a second-place showing in the Skyway Conference.

"I thought we did very well (this season)," said Hanson. "We finished second in the conference and third in the state."

According to Hanson, one of the strong points in this year's team was that they didn't have one specific leader, everyone stepped up at various times throughout the year.

"Everyone contributed," said Hanson. "We didn't have to count on one person."

Tim Baum led the lancers in batting this year with .433 average. He also led the team in hits with 71, runs with 59, and homeruns with nine as the lead-off hitter. Alex Frank finished the season batting .422 while having 70 hits and scoring 56 runs. He also led the team in doubles and triples with 13 and seven, respectively. Russ Schaibly led the team in RBI while hitting .365. Dave Paddock hit .344 with 44 RBI's and led the team in stolen bases with 32.

Three Lancer's were named All-State including Baum and Schaibly who were named First Team, and Frank who was named the Second Team. Schaibly, Paddock, Baum, and Donohoe were all named First Team All-Conference, while Jason Schuler, Chris Ramig, Chris Draska, and Frank were named to the Skyway Conference Second Team.

Five Lancer's were also named as All-Stars in the state and will compete in an All-Star game in Schaumburg. Only sophomores are eligible for this award, which Schuler, Paddock, Danny Braswell, Draska, and Donohoe were all named to.

In addition to the outside awards, the team voted amongst themselves for team MVP and team captains, as well as a special "hustler" award given to the player who works the hardest. Schuler and Paddock earned captain awards, while Ted Damos was voted the hustler award. Frank was named team MVP.

"This was just an outstanding group," said Hanson. "In 30 years of coaching, it's hard to pick a group that is the best, but this sophomore group I've really become close to. They're a wonderful group to be around. It was a fun year, and along the way we won a few games."

Future bright for Lancer softball

The College of Lake County softball team ended their season with a 6-4 loss to Elgin in the Region IV playoffs.

The Lancers finished the year with a 13-28 record overall while going 4-7 in the conference, which was good enough sixth-place.

At the team awards night, second basemen Kelly Durkin was voted defensive MVP of the squad, while center fielder Maggie Stewart was named offensive MVP. Valerie Engelhardt was named team Rookie of the Year.

Aside from team honors, Tiffany Paddock and Tiffany Suermeyer were named second team All-conference, while Stacie Peterson, Stewart, and Durkin were named to the First Team.

"We played great defense all year," said Head Coach Sue Garcia. "We were turning double plays all year long—our defense was our strongest suit. Our only problem was that we had trouble hitting the ball."

Next year, the team will return seven of their players from this season and looks for the experience to be a key building block for the future. "We had a good time, we took trips to Georgia and Florida," said Garcia. "They enjoyed each other and I enjoyed them, it was a good group."

Magical run ends for Mikrut, Corsair soccer

By MIKE KRIZMAN
Correspondent

A magical season for the Carmel soccer team came to an abrupt end Tuesday in Crystal Lake.

The St. Viator Lions earned their second straight trip to the state tournament with a 5-0 shutout against their arch-rivals from the East Suburban Catholic Conference.

"I remember as a freshman we went from a no-name team to this amazing year," said Carmel keeper Katie Mical. "We're a fighting team that has earned everything. I'm so proud of my teammates for what we accomplished this season."

Carmel wraps up the season with a 20-2-2 record, including a 22-game unbeaten streak going into the Viator game.

St. Viator junior midfielder Lauren Weber struck first on a head ball off a free kick from Lori King. The goal came just 51 seconds into the game.

King scored a header of her own in the 23rd minute off an assist from Nicole Meschbach.

"We talked about (St. Viator) being good in the air and their first two goals were in the air," said Carmel coach Chris Mikrut. "We had a few good opportunities but just didn't finish them."

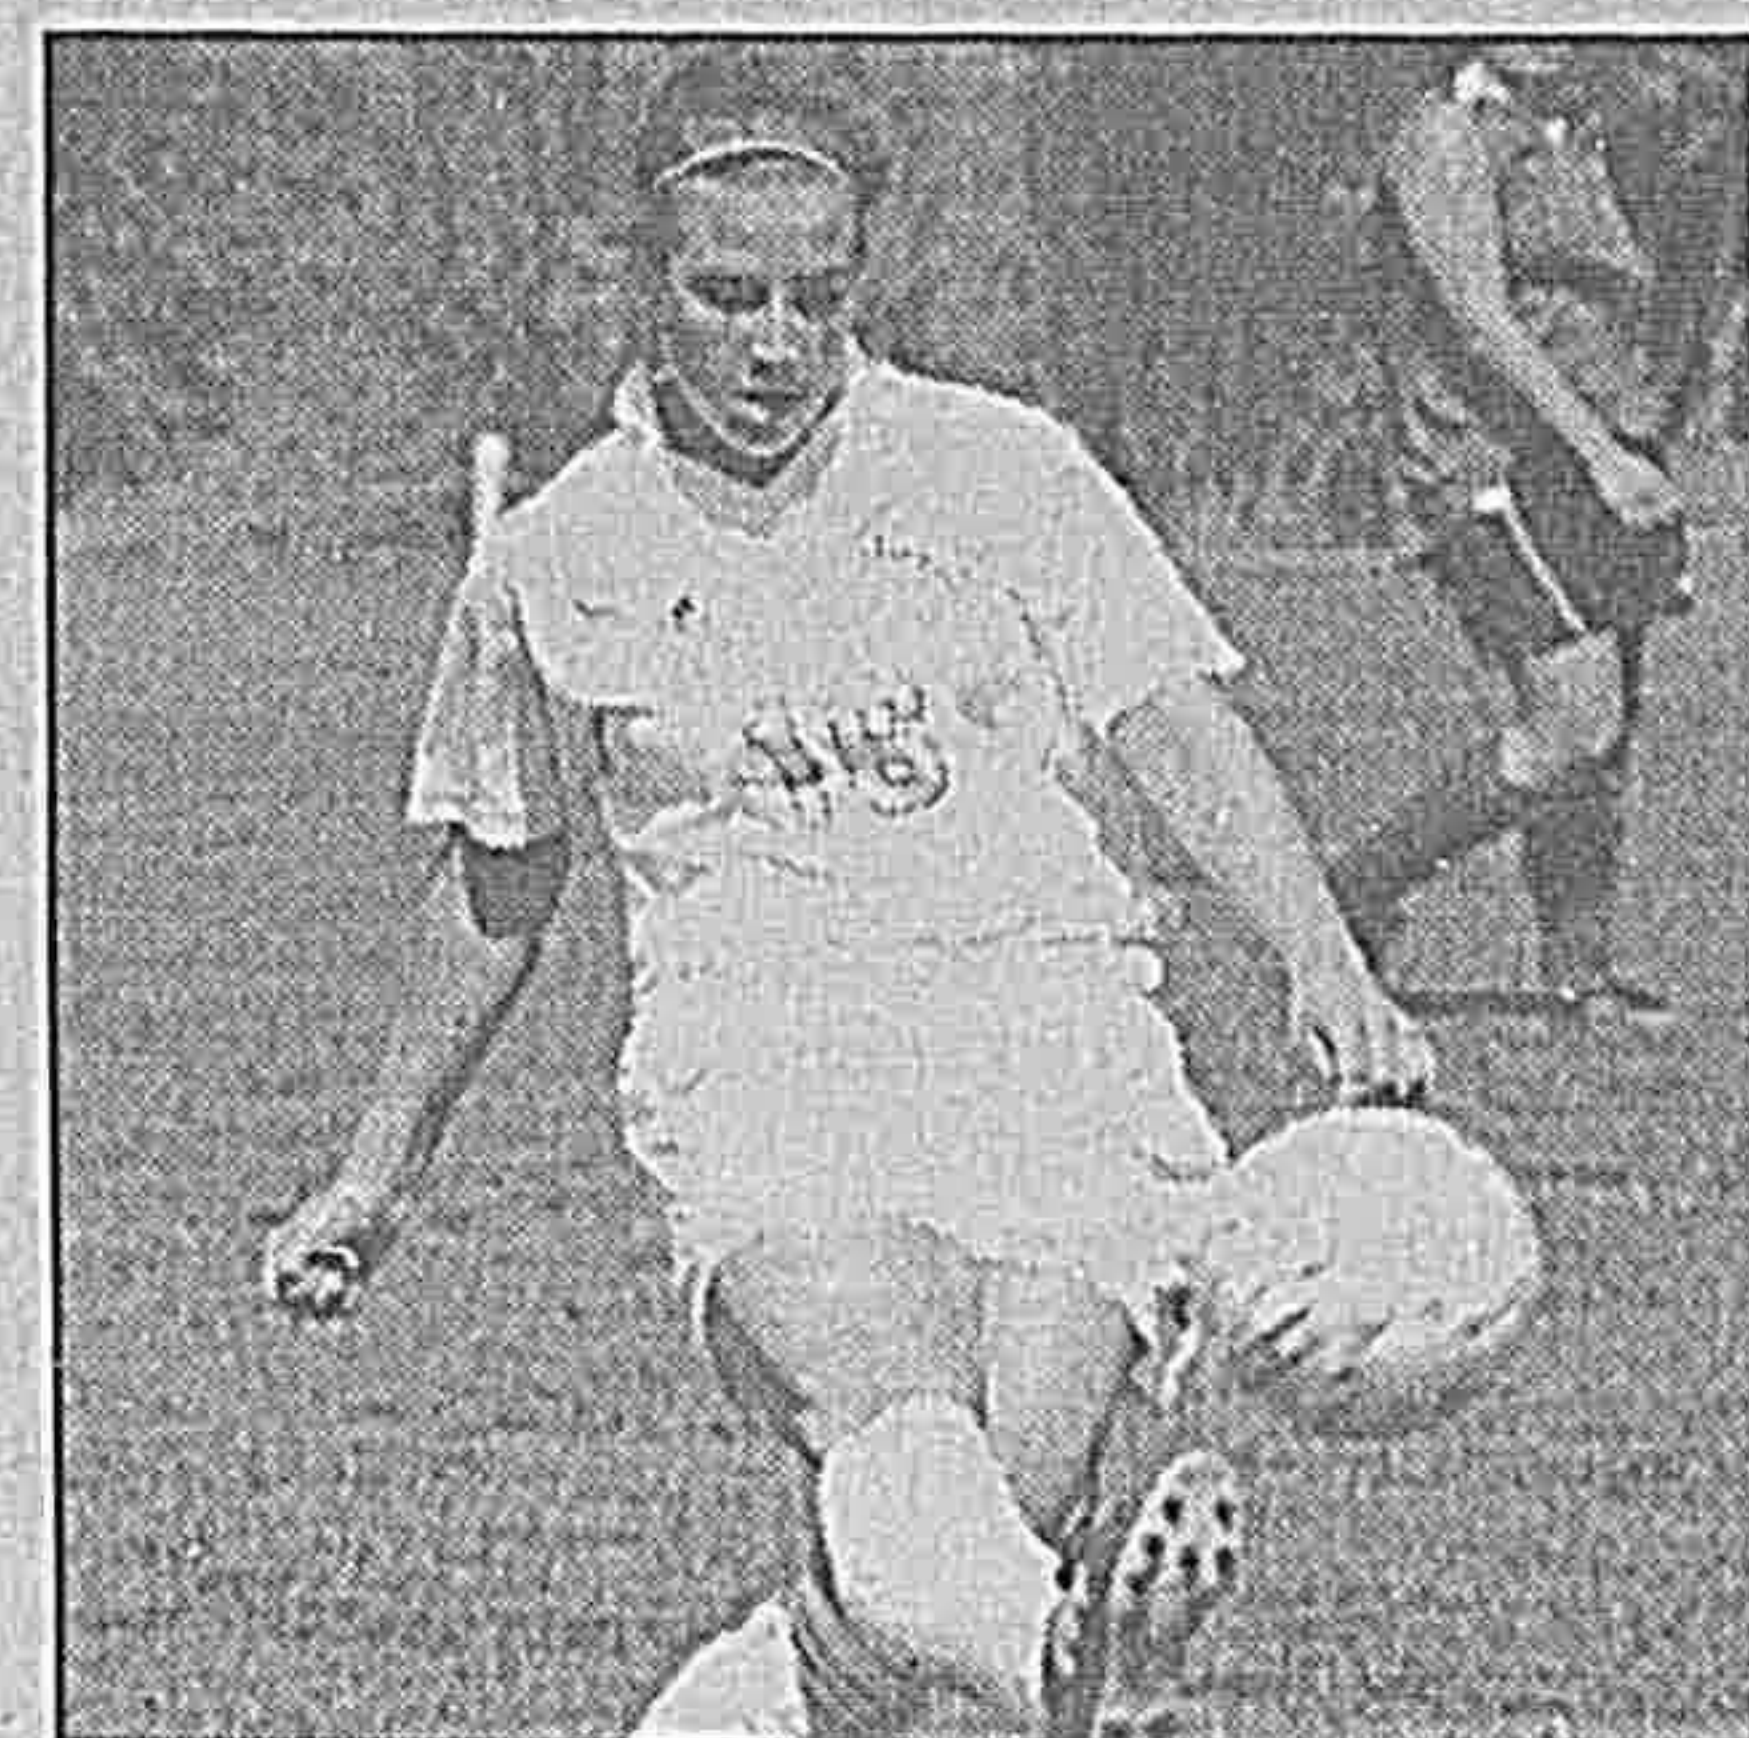

Weber struck again in the 31st minute on an assist from Meschbach from the left of the box. That goal put the Lions up 3-0 going into halftime.

"I would say the third goal is what killed us," Mikrut said. "Weber played great today. She was winning a lot of head balls that we couldn't get."

Shannon Schaeffer and Meschbach scored a goal apiece in the second half for the final score.

Against Prairie Ridge on Saturday, Carmel advanced to the sectional title game with a 2-0 victory.

give her team a 1-0 edge going into halftime.

Sophomore Christy Zwolski added an unassisted insurance goal midway through the second half to give Carmel the edge.

Thursday's regional final at Carmel featured a battle between two sisters.

Carmel senior midfielder Jessica Budden and her younger sister, Wauconda keeper Allison Budden squared off as opponents for the first time in high school.

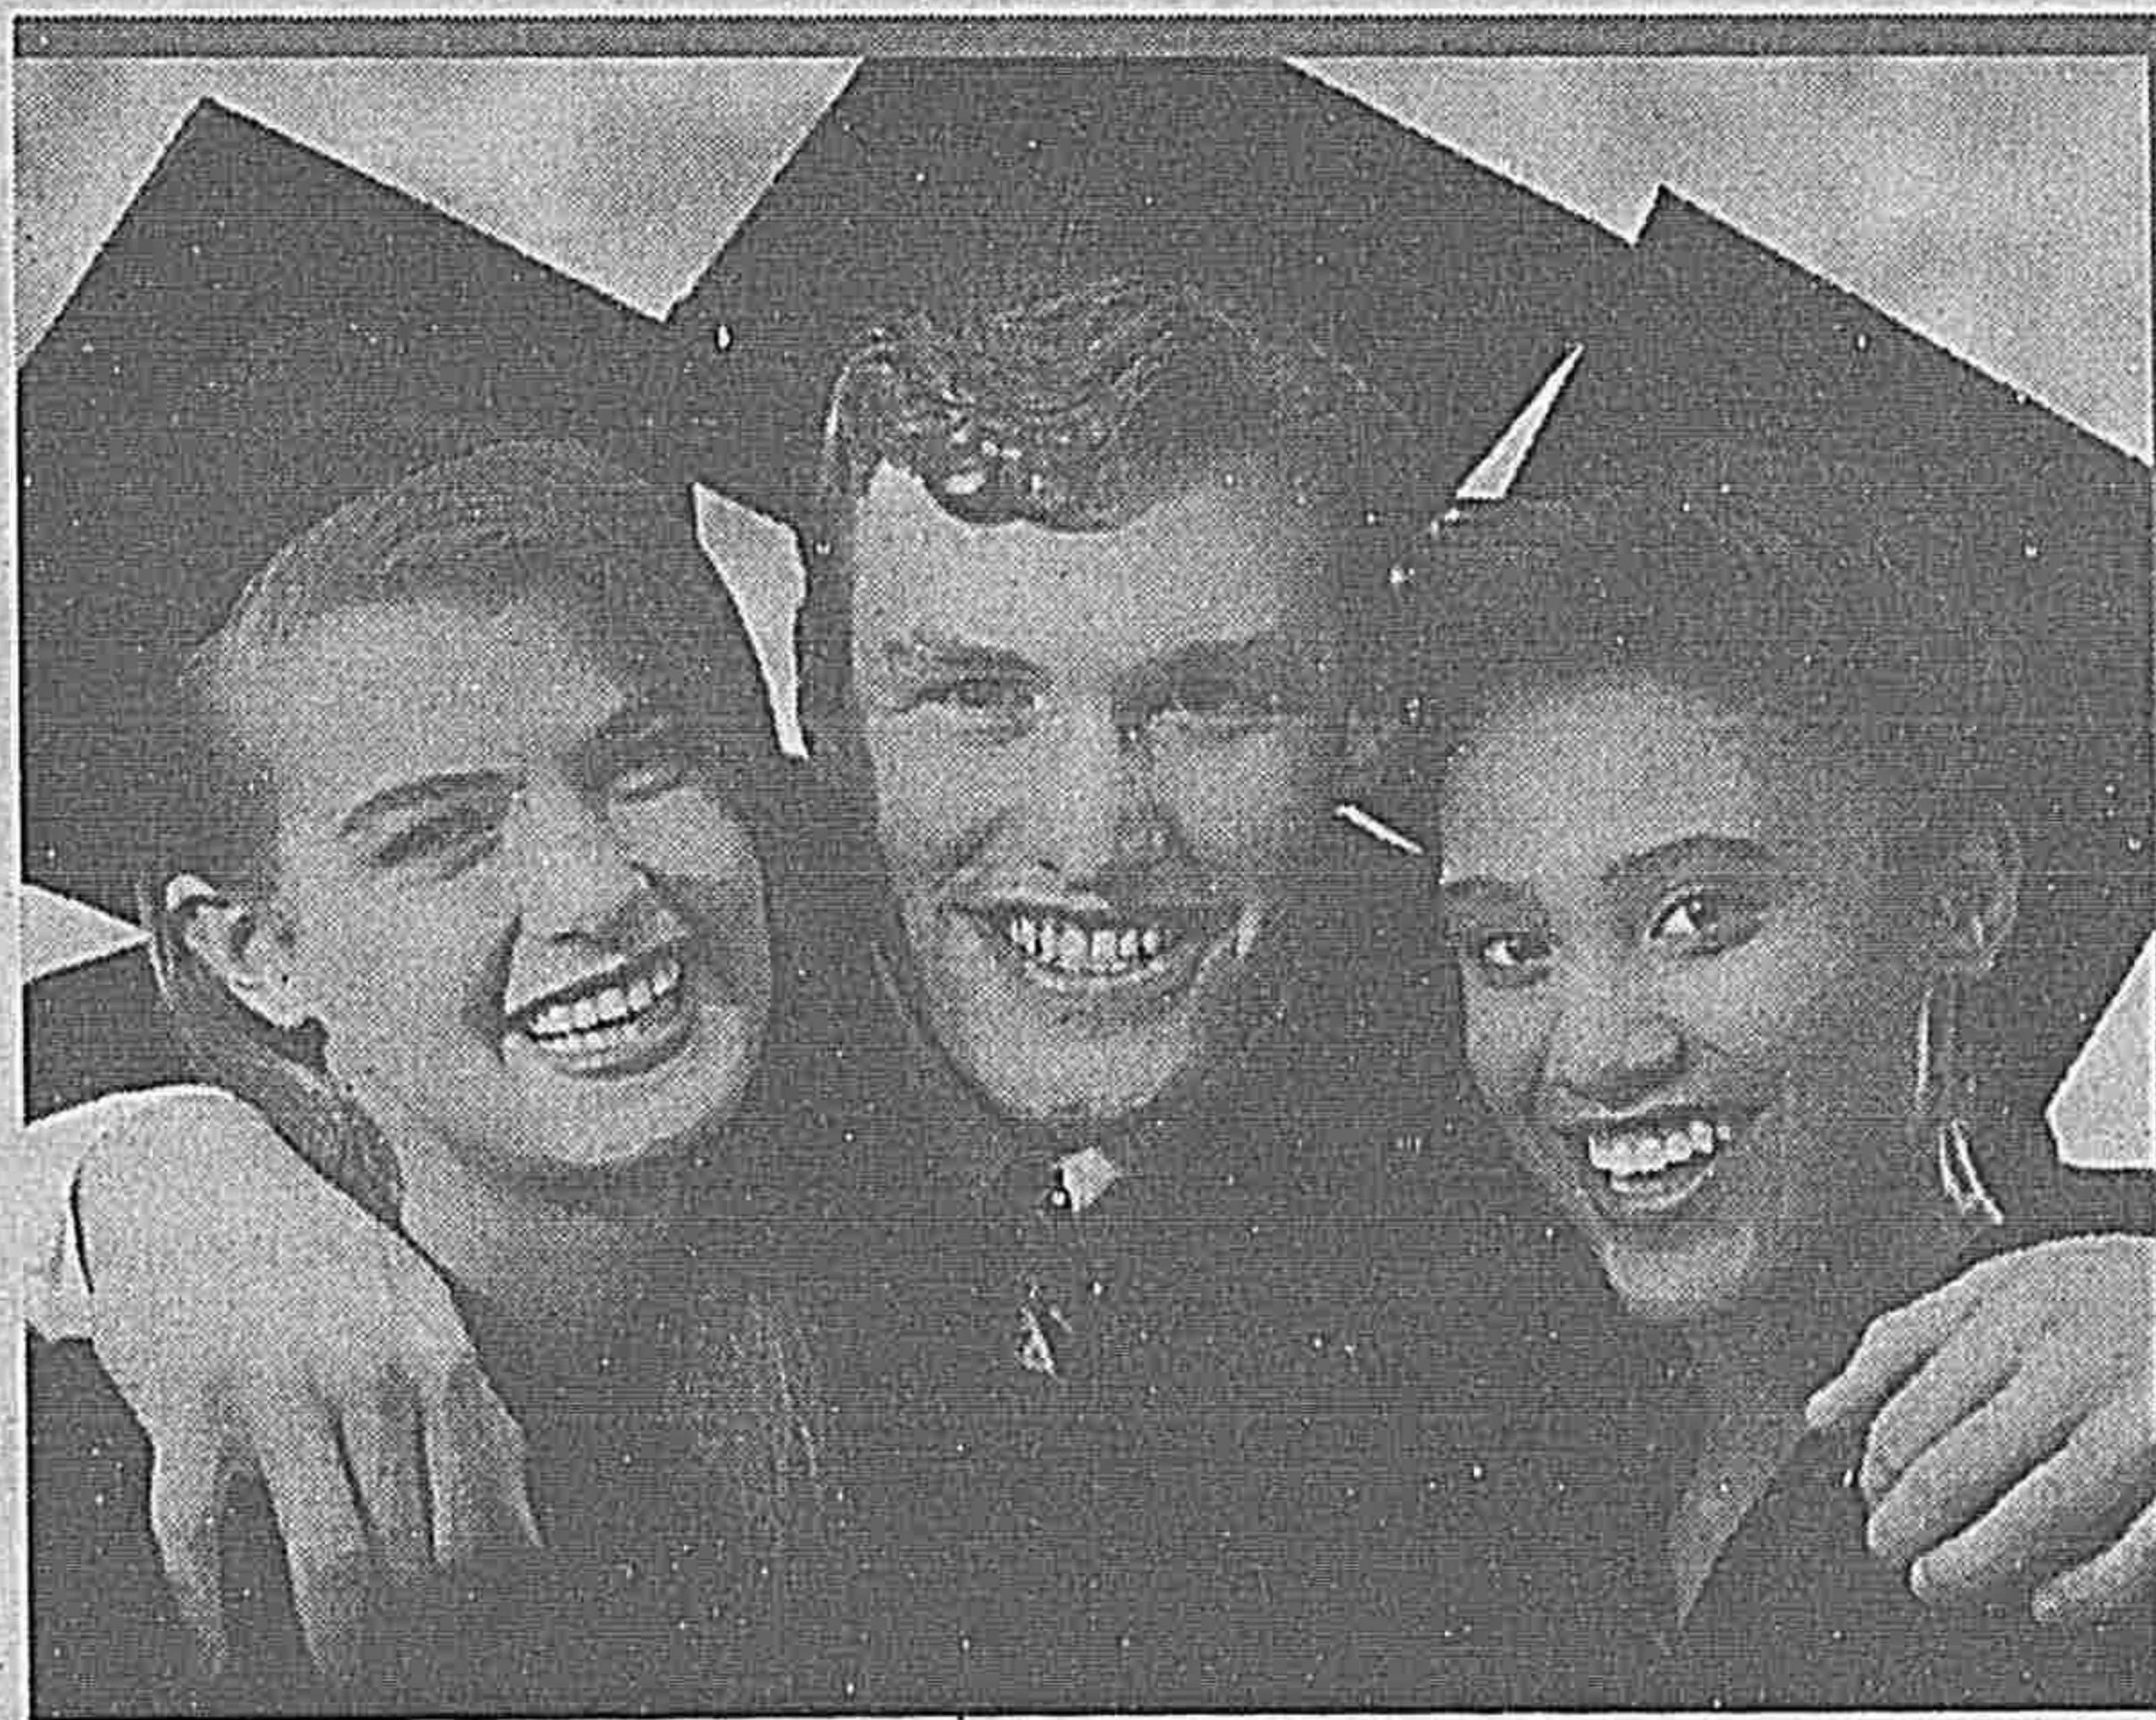

The younger Budden had 14 saves, but Carmel prevailed 3-1 for their second straight regional title.

"There was no way I was going to let her score on me," the younger Budden said of her older sister.

Stephanie Miller, Kendall Brown and Lauren Treu had a goal apiece for the Corsairs. Wauconda's Kristen Krause scored her team's only goal in the 38th minute off a pass from teammate Christine Baird.

Sending your son or daughter away to college for four years can cost more than $80,000, and tuition costs are still rising.

CLC can help you save on tuition, even if your son or daughter attends another college.

The savings work like this:

Many students at other colleges save on tuition by earning credits during CLC's summer sessions. CLC credits transfer easily to other institutions, and, with a little planning, the credits earned at CLC can add up to a full semester's credit. At a private college, that can amount to savings of more than $11,000, if you consider tuition, fees, room and board.

Courses offered days, evenings, weekends at convenient locations on the Grayslake Campus, Lakeshore Campus (Waukegan), Southlake Educational Center (Vernon Hills) and Adlai Stevenson High School. Many online courses also offered.

HoopStar eighth-grade boys win Carthage tournament

The Northern Lake County Blue Devil HoopStars eighth-grade boy's basketball team went undefeated to capture the first-place title in the Carthage College tournament. The team defense dominated in holding three of the four teams to under 30 points.

"I am very pleased with the performance of our young men," said Coach Weese. The Blue Devils Hoopstars combined for a total of 208 points over the four games while holding their opponents to only 118 points.

In the 56-30 opening-round victory over the Mavericks, Elias Washington led all scorers with 16 points and 7 rebounds. He was complemented by Mitchell Moore's 12 points and five rebounds. Kevin Wozniak was impressive on defense with three steals.

Then, in the second round against Full Package, the Blue Devils shattered the expectations in winning convincingly 55-36. The scoring attack was led by Moore with 18 points and Benny Morrison with 17. Morrison and Elias also combined for 17 rebounds while Ricky Green valiantly stole the ball four times.

In the third game, the Blue Devils Hoopstars beat the Friars team 43-27. The team scoring was more balanced with Mitchell scoring eight. Morrison and Elias both chipped in with seven apiece.

The tournament title was sealed after a 54-25 rout of the Bent Net Burners. Mitchell exploded with 21 points and five steals. Elias and Marvin Bemby played a solid offensive game as each scored 10 points. Morrison was in tune with the boards easily cherry-picking 10 rebounds. Wozniak was equally effective on the glass in snaring seven boards.

Fifth-grade HoopStars

The fifth-grade boy's Northern Lake County HoopStars travel basketball team, playing in their third North American Youth Sports (NAYS) tournament, finished 2-2 over the weekend at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. In the first game of the tournament, the HoopStars defeated Dunn's Sporting Goods of Milwaukee 33-29. Brandon Paul led the team in scoring with 12 points, while Michael Brocius and Chad Clausen added eight and seven points, respectively. Leading the team's defense were Jake Anderson and Scott Dehnke, each grabbing three rebounds. Clausen collected five steals while Taylor Furmanski added a steal, block and a rebound.

The HoopStars fell to the Chicago Thunder in the second game, 41-28. Dehnke led the scoring effort with eight points. He also had three steals. Paul crashed the boards with nine while Anderson and James Poliquin added four rebounds apiece.

In the third game, the HoopStars prevailed 34-27 over Milwaukee's D.W. Wildcats. Paul netted 10 points to lead the way. Dehnke adding eight and Anderson another seven. Paul once again led the rebounding effort with 10 while Poliquin and Anderson each had three.

Game 4 saw the fifth-graders playing another Northern Lake County HoopStars team, an experienced group of sixth-graders. The fifth-graders fell 34-21. Paul chipped in with eight points and nine rebounds. Anderson, Poliquin, and James Zotto also tallied rebounds for the team. On the offensive side, Anderson, Clausen, and Ryan DeRose also scored. The sixth-grade team advanced to the consolation final game.

John Androus did not play in the tournament due to a broken hand. The team, coached by Roger Clausen and Steve Furmanski, will see action next at the Memorial Day Classic in Waukesha, Wisconsin.

Maurice earns Lifetime Achievement Award

The Lake County YMCA's have awarded the 2002 Lifetime Achievement Award to James R. Maurice, Outboard Marine Corporation retiree, long time Lake County resident and special friend of the YMCA.

Maurice has been actively involved with the Lake County Family YMCA since 1986, serving as its chairman for 12 years. He currently serves as chairman of the Lake County Board of Trustees, which oversees all the YMCA's operations in Lake County and Camp

Jorn, a resident camp located in Wisconsin. Maurice was a driving force behind the building of the Central Lake YMCA in Vernon Hills that opened last June. In this effort, he spent countless hours conducting feasibility studies, preparing pro-formas, interviewing local community leaders and acquiring tax efficient funding for the project.

Maurice is the second recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award, joining Jack Scholz, the 2001 recipient, on the YMCA's "Wall of Honor" at the Central Lake YMCA. The wall recognizes the efforts of volunteers who have made significant contributions to furthering the YMCA in its mission in Lake County.

The Lake County YMCA's include the Northern Lake YMCA in Waukegan, the Central Lake YMCA in Vernon Hills, the Libertyville YMCA, satellite child care centers in Waukegan and Camp Jorn, located in Manitowish Waters, Wisc.

The Lake County YMCA's are dedicated to building strong kids, strong families and strong communities, offering Lake County residents, of all ages, a wide variety of recreational, educational and wellness programs.

Memorial Day weekend marks season-opener at Wilmot

It's race time once again at Wilmot Speedway! Finally, after several months of negotiations and numerous meetings, the on-track action of the one-third mile clay oval, Wilmot Speedway is scheduled to get underway May 25-26.

The facility, located on the Kenosha County Fairgrounds in Wilmot, will be under the direction of a new promoter for the 2002 season, the 51st consecutive for the track.

Marie Winker of Winker Motorsports in Kenosha will be heading up the promotional efforts. Marie's husband, the late Al Winker, competed many seasons at Wilmot and was a track champion in both the winged outlaw sprints and the old-style Modified Racing Association (MRA) modifieds. Their son, Kurt, is currently competing on the national Gumout World of Outlaw Series, and has competed at Wilmot in 410 sprints and modifieds over the years.

Marie Winker has purchased the business from Premier Racing Productions Inc. of Antioch, headed by Andy and Debbie Calin. They promoted the track after taking over from Ray and Joan Toft of Toft Auto Racing Inc. when they retired. Debbie Calin is a daughter of Tofts, which means the Speedway was in their family for nearly all of its existence.

Marie Winker plans to run a regular schedule of 410 outlaw-winged sprints, IMCA modifieds and IMCA hobby stocks. It is anticipated many of the regulars will be returning when she opens to gates for a two-day grand opening special Memorial Day weekend on Sat. and Sun., May 25 and 26.

Dave Moulis of Johnsonburg is the reigning sprint car champion with Ed Devall of Waukegan heading up the IMCA modifieds and Tony Schlei of Zion completing a sweep in 2001 by the Land of Lincoln drivers at the Wisconsin track.

Races will begin at 7 p.m. with the race schedule continuing through a two-day Allen Winker Memorial event planned for October.

For the latest information, contact the Speedway's 24-hour race line 262-862-2446. Lake Geneva

Race fans that braved the weather saw over 135 racecars in the pit area as temperatures dipped below 40 degrees at race time for the first Friday night weekly program at Lake Geneva Raceway.

Ken Johnson of Paddock Lake, the defending Herb's mini modified champion, scored the first win of the season in the non-stop 15-lap feature race. Tommy Nevoso of Trevor won the non-stop millennium late model feature in the S&P motorsports division. Paul Dygon slipped in front of the millennium late model feature with Shawn Connelly putting on the pressure. Right behind them rookie Ken Joosten and Nevoso were dicing to gain a position. With just three laps to go, Nevoso somehow moved into a challenge position for the lead. He went on to score the win over Dygon. Joosten, Jeff Goodwin, Connelly and rookie Boyd Clayvert were all side by side down the straightaway in an exciting first night for the third-year division.

Mike Fossler of Crystal Lake won the BIC 20 lap-feature while Curt Gnatzig of Hartford won the 15-lap caution-free feature

COUNTY SPORTS DIGEST

The Great Lakes Adaptive Sports Association will be conducting its first perennial plant sale on Wed., June 5, at the Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest, from 8 a.m.-6 p.m.

for 15 laps. Defending champion Vincent Merry of Wadsworth won the sideline Motorsports 15-lap feature and Crystal Lake's Jim Veugeler of scored a clean sweep for the Rascal Outlaw cars running away with the race for 20 laps.

With just two caution periods the main focus of the race was at the front as Dave Cheney and Fossler as they performed as see saw battle for the lead. It was too close to call but Fossler nipped a closing Randy Schneider.

Curt Gnatzig started mid-pack as he used the inside and the outside to take the lead away from Larry Will on lap two. Gnatzig then used the lapped traffic to his advantage easily winning the race over visiting Iowa driver Chris Sevey.

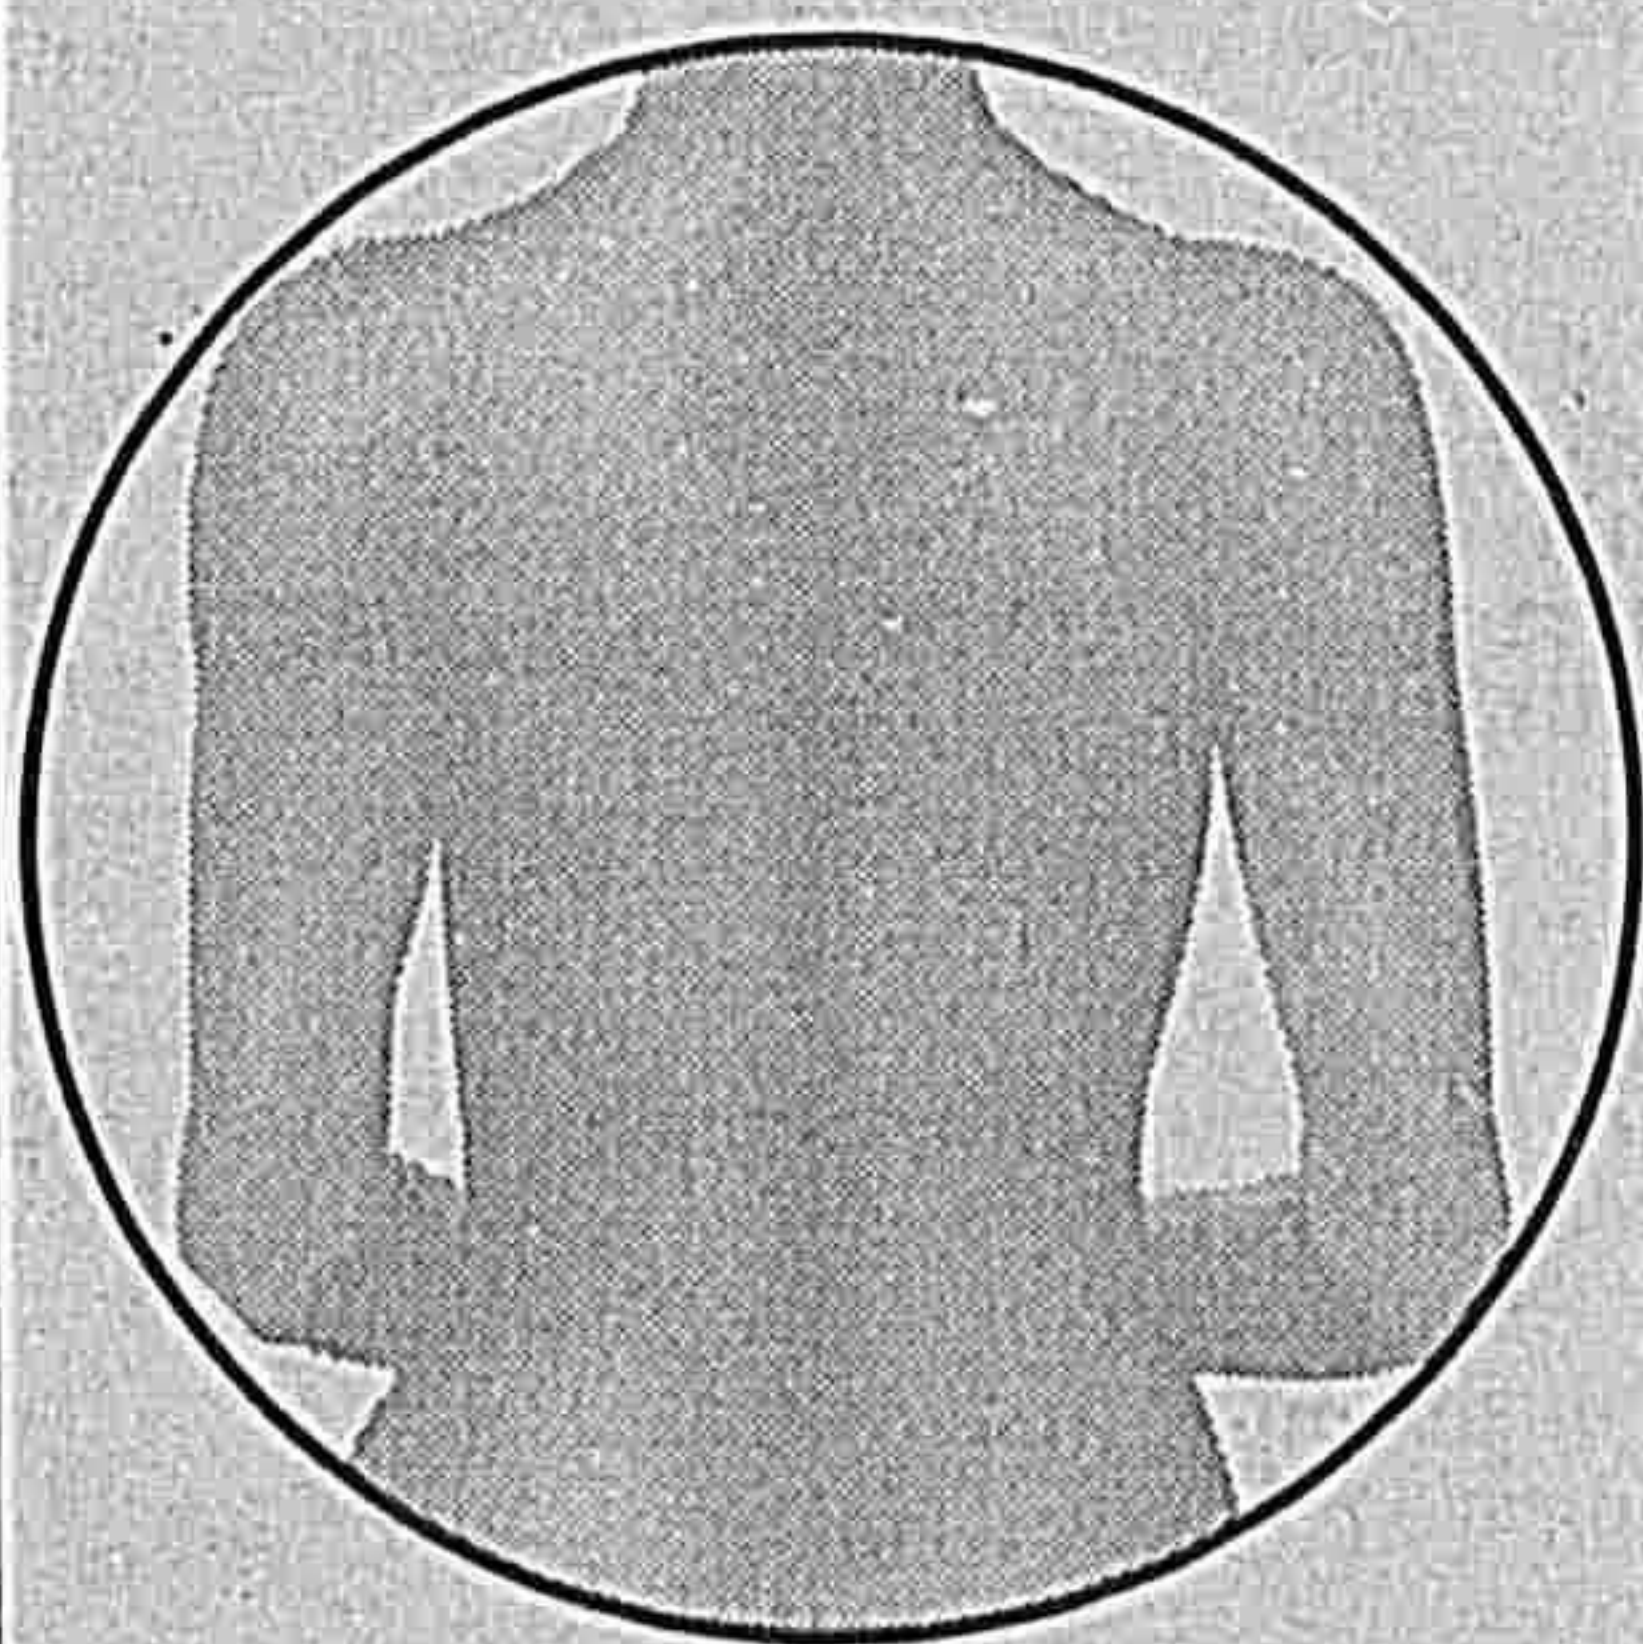

Bill Trusky held the lead just two laps before Ken Johnson got the break he needed to secure the top spot and go on to finish three lengths ahead of fast timer qualifier Jeff Schultz, a fast-closing Mike VanHouten, Roy Morrison, Trusky and Hermie Schultz.

The green flag was out and Vincent Merry shot from the back to the front before the lap was completed winning the event over Bill Olson, Todd Ross, Chad Ross and BIC driver Dale Gustum who does double duties.

On Fri. night, May 24, the weekly family night continues with Basic International cars mini Modifieds celebrating their tenth season of racing millennium late models legends and sport trucks. Time trials begin at 6:30 p.m. with the first race at 7:30. Pro Moto cross racing takes place on the east end of the property at 8 p.m.

LOCAL GOLF DIGEST

Sign-ups

Outings

Carmel High School in Mundelein will be hosting the annual Carmel Golf Classic at Midlane Resort in Wadsworth Fri., June 7.

A grilled lunch beginning at 10:45 a.m. will kick-off the festivities. That will be followed by a single shotgun start at noon. There will be a variety of hole events with special prizes. Throughout the day, players will have full access to the driving range, putting green, clubhouse and locker rooms.

Following golf will be a dinner and reception.

The cost for the event is $150 per person, which includes everything. The cost for a four-some is $600.

All proceeds have generally been donated back to the Carmel High School Athletic Department.

Please contact Kevin Calcaterra at 847-566-3000, ext. 390 for further information or to sign-up. Hurry because space is filling up fast.

This year, Carmel is celebrating 40 years of providing a quality Catholic education to its community.

The GLMV Chamber of Commerce presents an Open Networking Luncheon at Four Winds Golf Course in Mundelein on May 24 beginning at 11:30 a.m.

The event will feature networking, a cookout luncheon and group golf lessons. A round of golf is optional.

The cost for just lunch is $15, for golf, which includes an electric cart, $32. The group golf lesson and networking opportunity is free.

Please call the GLMV at 847-680-0750 for further information or to sign up.

Come and join former Chicago Bears' players, linebacker Jim Morrissey and wide receiver Tom Waddle for the 2002 Youth Conservation Corps Golf Outing Wed., June 26, at Thunderhawk G.C., Lewis Ave., Beach park.

Join celebrities from Chicago sports teams and local PGA professionals for golf, dinner and fun in support of the YCC.

Check-in, lunch and driving range instruction will be from 10-11 a.m.

That will be followed by a shotgun start, scramble format.

There will be a hole-in-one, closest to the pin and long drive contest on designated holes.

Following golf will be cocktails, a barbeque banquet and awards ceremony beginning at 5 p.m. Silent and live auctions and raffles will also be available. The cost is $275 per player for everything. The cost for just dinner is $50.

For further details or to sign up, please call Bob McCammon at 847-362-0400.

The LaCASA/Zacharias Center is now accepting reservations for women golfers/enthusiasts to the Fifth Annual Women's Golf Invitational on June 17.

The event will be held at the Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort in Lincolnshire.

The day begins with a continental breakfast and registration at 7:15 a.m. This will be followed by a shotgun start at 8 a.m. with a scramble format.

Special guest speakers Ann and Jennie Goodman, mother/daughter, will highlight an awards luncheon, silent auction and 50/50 raffle at 12:30 p.m.

The fee of $225 per person covers the golf and luncheon. Awards will be handed out to top teams and all participants will receive tee gifts. Special feature holes and a hole-in-one car challenge for a Lincoln LS will be sponsored by Rosen Motors.

Play is limited, so please respond by June 7 to reserve a spot. Team sponsorships, tee sponsorships and ad book advertising are also available.

For non-golfers who want to show their support for LaCASA, the awards luncheon and silent auction will begin at 12:30 p.m. at a cost of $60.

To register for the golf outing and for additional information, please call Joe Howard of LaCASA at 847-244-1187.

The LaCASA/Zacharias Center is currently in its 21st year as a non-profit organization at the helm among social institutions in Lake County.

Junior events

The Illinois PGA is accepting applications for the 2002 Illinois Junior PGA championship. The boy's tournament will be June 19-20 at Oak Brook Golf Club while the girl's will play June 24-25 at Green Garden Country Club. Junior golfers wishing to enter can call 847-729-5000 or check out the web site at www.ipga.com.

Junior golfers 18- and-under are eligible to participate in the local qualifying tournament of the Independent Insurance Agent Junior Classic (IIAJC).

Area tournaments will be held at Aurora Country Club in Aurora on June 3 and a Gleneagles Country Club in Lemont on June 11.

Top finishers in each tournament advance to the state finals at the Lick Creek Golf Course in Pekin on July 24-25 which is one step away from a trip to the prestigious IIAJC National Finals from August 12-16 at Northgate Country Club in Houston, Texas.

Under the eligibility requirements, boys and girls whose 19th birthday falls on Aug. 15 or later and who have not started college will be eligible to participate in the 400 qualifying tournaments around the country.

Twenty local tournaments will be held in Illinois, with the top qualifiers advancing to the state finals.

For more information about the local IIAJC qualifying tournament, visit www.ChooseIndependent.com/golf. You can also call Sandy Cuffle at the Professional Independent Insurance Agents of Illinois at (800) 628-6436, ext. 3007.

The Country Youth Classic, for golfer's ages 3-22, will take place June 24-26 on five Bloomington-Normal area golf courses. Registration forms are available at local Country Insurance & Financial Services agent offices, or at the tournament's web site, www.countryyouthclassic.com. Entries are limited and will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis. The event generally draws golfers from all over the United States.

Entry fees range from $60-$125, depending on the division for which the golfer is eligible. Recognized by the National Junior Golf Scoreboard and Golfweek, the event features: one-day of practice and a long drive and putting contest; two days of golf competition; and 16 divisions with a total of 500 youth golfers from throughout the country.

Golf courses for the tournament include The Den at Fox Creek and Prairie Vista, which serve as hosts to the Illinois High School Association Boys state golf tournaments, and Illinois State University Golf Courses, the site of the Girls IHSA state tournament. Ironwood Golf Course and Royal Links Par 3 Course also serve as sites for the event.

Those intolerable, wonderful car trips

Hi Dr. Singer,

We are about to embark on a cross country car trip with our 3 little angels who aren't such angels all the time. Do you have any advice about handling bad behavior on car trips? B.B.

Dear B.B.

Oh what fun for you! Car trips can be really fun or a real disaster if you are not prepared! Be prepared to hear things like, "Mom, he's on my side of the line!" "Mom, she's touching me!" "Dad, he's making faces at me!" One of the funniest lines in the movie, "Vacation" with Chevy Chase is when Mr. Chase is talking to the famous "Roy Wally" of "Wallyworld." They share a thought about the smell that came from the back seat of the car on those trips! I am all too familiar with that smell.

The nice thing is that no matter how bad the smell from the back seat or the behavior from the kids, it really is a fun thing to do. In spite of all the problems, I look back on the car trips we took with fondness in my heart, even for the fighting.

A short, fun story about how my parents got us to behave on the car trips and then I will give you some of my thoughts. Now, before I tell you the funny stuff about our car trips, you need to read loud and clear that I am not necessarily recommending any of the things I am about to tell you. They are purely for laugh value!

The first step of our car trips began at the Wood Oaks Pharmacy. This was where my sister, brother and I were allowed to pick out several large packs of candy as well as games to be played on the road. Now, you have to understand that in those days, they didn't have all the research about sugar and kids and how harmful it was for you. Kids just ate candy and enjoyed it and as long as you brushed your teeth it was o.k., so don't hold this against my parents. I certainly don't. Anyway, as kids, we believed that the plethora of candy was just because our parents loved us and wanted us to be happy and wanted to shower gifts upon us! We were thrilled about all the candy, of course! It wasn't until about 4 hours into the car trip that we would truly know the real reason behind the sudden generosity of my parents when it came to the candy on the trip. They were actually very smart people, whether they knew it or not! You see, as most people are very aware of now, candy/sugar first has a stimulant effect but then, has a very strong sedative effect. Keep the sedative effect in mind for a moment while I digress!

PARENT'S PLACE

The beginning of our car trip would be an internal geographic excursion. All three of us would decide where the invisible lines were in the car that the other kid was not allowed to pass. We had the proverbial, "Family Truckster" from the movie "Vacation." The good old station wagon with the brown paneled sides. The three of us were allowed to bring one sleeping bag and one pillow each to be laid out in the back section side by side by side. We drew our invisible lines and then had to stay within them. Of course, within a couple minutes after the trip would start, inevitably, someone would cross a line and a civil war of sorts would break out in the back of the station wagon. Parents would yell back telling us to knock it off and settle down and "why don't you just focus on your bag of goodies." Well, that was a good diversionary tactic and worked really well. At that point, all three of us would be refocused onto all the great stuff we had picked out at the pharmacy. We would dive in.

Four hours later, we would all start waking up, not knowing what hit us, with zits on our faces. Our bags from the pharmacy would look like Piranha had been at them and my parents and grandmother would have at least had 4 hours of peace and quiet on their trip. Remember when we talked about the sedative value in candy. It started the trip off nicely. After that, we knew to behave anyway, because my parents would not put up with bad behavior and there were some strong things to face if you misbehaved.

Even though it was a mind altering experience, we loved the candy thing, because candy to us was like gold! Incidentally it still is. Anyway, again, remember, my parents were very good parents and there weren't all the health conscious things going on then as there are now. Many parents now don't ever let their kids eat candy at all and that may not be a bad idea.

One of the interesting things about it to me is back in the days that kids were allowed to eat candy and no one thought twice about it, we didn't have anywhere near the numbers of ADD or ADHD diagnoses being made as we do today. I believe that we have become too hysterical about too many things. Candy is one of them. I have heard sugar blamed for all the hyperactivity in kids, but again, I will point out that in the days when people were not careful about giving their kids sugar, our kids were being less diagnosed than they are today. I believe the breakdown has nothing to do with sugar or lack of it. I believe it has to do with too many adults not knowing how to let a kid be a kid and not knowing how to limit behavior the right way. Anyway, we loved it and our parents got some peace and quiet.

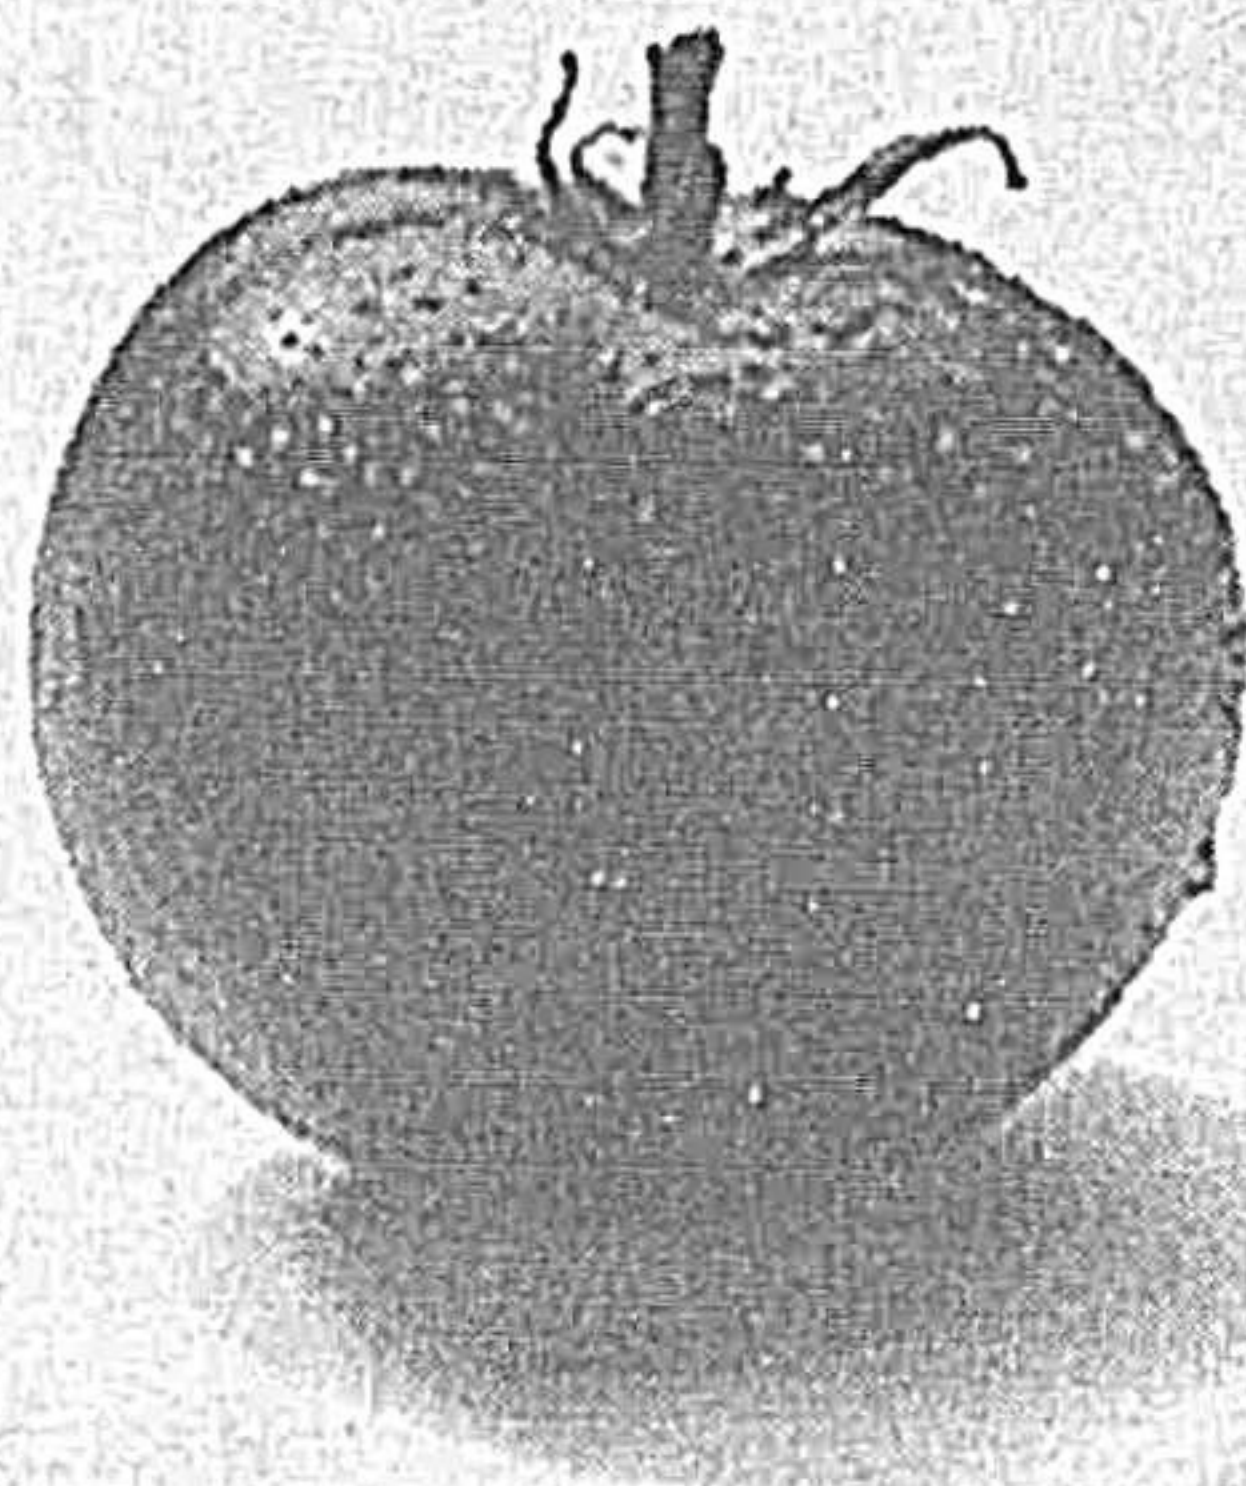

Nowadays, parents have it lucky. All you have to do today is buy a mini-van with a built in TV/VCR combo and you don't have to have one ounce of candy in the car. You have an instant baby-sitter and diversion. You also get the benefit today, of separate captain seats so no one can cross any "property" lines at all. You strap each one into their own separate "country." These are great, great things to take advantage of. If you don't have those benefits, my simple advice to you is that the same behavioral limits that exist at home should also exist on the road. If you have a good system that works at home, use it out in the world as well. If you don't have any system, you have to do the best you can on the trip and then come see me when you get home. You need a system. Everyone does or kids get out of control quickly. Good limits and good discipline are the keys to an enjoyable car trip and a peaceful life!

Remember that even if your kids misbehave on the trip and it feels bad, you will still look back on the memories with laughter and fun in your heart. I know we do! I wish you a wonderful trip!

Important note: Dr. Singer's maternity leave is between April 19th, 2002 and July 9th, 2002. She is currently not taking calls, answering messages or scheduling new appointments. Beginning July 9th, 2002, she will begin to take calls for new appointments. Dr. Singer does not see people on an emergency basis and advises people that if they are in an emergency of any kind relating to their child, they need to consult the closest emergency room for evaluation and referral. Although she will not be seeing people during her maternity leave, you can still catch her column each week right here at Lakeland Newspapers.

Dr. Sherri Singer is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Childhood Behavior Specialist. She regularly works in person with many readers of this column, helping them to significantly improve their kid's attention, behavior and processing skills. For an appointment, please call (847) 577-8832 or (708) 962-2549.

A tomato a day keeps the oncologist away.

That may not be entirely true but it is true that tomatoes, along with many other foods, have been proven to have cancer fighting properties.

In fact, studies have shown that just five servings of fruits and vegetables daily can prevent as much as 20 percent of all cancers. The cancer fighting benefits of proper nutrition apply to those who have been diagnosed and treated for cancer as well.

But keeping proper nutritional habits can be very complicated, especially when challenged with the rigors of traditional cancer treatment. If you add in complications from an unhealthy liver, renal system, or diabetes, the proper roadmap for nutrition gets even a little more gray.

That is why consulting a nutritionist can be just what the doctor ordered. Your one-hour consultation is a phone call away. Kim Dalzell, PhD, RD, LD, is an oncology nutritionist with over a decade of experience in the cancer treatment field. She is the program director for holistic nutrition services at Cancer Resource center in Gurnee.

www.HospiceAnswers.org - Hospice information at your fingertips

Hospice of Northeastern Illinois (HNI) has launched a new web site, www.HospiceAnswers.org. This new resource provides extensive information on HNI and on hospice care in general.

The web site is designed to meet the needs of patients, families and professionals (doctors, nurses, and discharge planners), as well as members of the community needing general information. HospiceAnswers.org serves many purposes: it allows those facing a life-limiting illness of their own or a family member to research information on-line; provides caregiver information for those already in hospice care; allows professionals to make on-line referrals; keeps donors up to date on Foundation news; and, provides a general resource for anyone wanting more information on hospice or HNI. It also offers information about volunteer and employment opportunities. Anyone signing on to HNI's former web site will automatically be forwarded to the new site.

Hospice of Northeastern Illinois is a community-based not-for-profit serving families throughout NW Cook, Lake, McHenry, Kane, DuPage and Boone Counties. Hospice provides physical, emotional and spiritual care to individuals living with a life-limiting illness, and to their families. Hospice helps individuals to live their final months to the fullest possible and according to their wishes, in comfort, surrounded by loved ones, and supported by caregivers. Hospice of Northeastern Illinois provides service to all who need them, regardless of ability to pay.

Condell Medical Center offers prescription medication tips for seniors

Seniors face special challenges when it comes to taking prescription medications. To help you avoid these problems and try to solve them, Tony Gorracio, Manager of Condell Home Pharmacy Systems offers the following advice.

Problem: Seniors' nervous systems, digestive systems, liver and kidneys are more sensitive to the effects of medications.

Solution: Review your medications one-by-one with your primary care physician every six months or so to help you fine-tune your treatment. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is approving new drugs all the time, enabling you to perhaps switch to safer or more effective drugs. Reviewing your medications also allows your physician an opportunity to eliminate any you no longer need.

Another way to safeguard against any undesirable physical effects of prescription medications is by keeping a consumer drug reference handy. The best books describe the uses for each drug in easy-to-understand language. Read up on your medications and periodically monitor yourself for any adverse side effects you think you may be experiencing. Write down any questions or concern and discuss them with your physician.

Problem: Failing eyesight can make reading labels difficult.

Solution: Buy a magnifying glass and keep it handy for reading prescription labels and fine print on paperwork and other important documents.

Problem: Arthritis can interfere with opening bottles.

Solution: Ask your pharmacist for easy-to-open medication bottles.

VILLAGE OF ROUND LAKE ANNUAL WATER QUALITY REPORT 2002

Este informe contiene informacion muy importante. Tudascolo o hablo con alguien que lo entienda bien.

This years report will not be mailed to our residents.

Purpose

Each year the Village will issue a report of this type to provide information about the quality of our drinking water as well as details on the source of our water, how it is treated, and what it contains. The reports are being issued in compliance with the requirements of the Safe Drinking Water Act and are also intended to demonstrate the Village's commitment to providing a safe and reliable supply of drinking water for our residents.

Background

Since 1992 the Village has purchased water from the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency (CLCJAWA). CLCJAWA is an intergovernmental cooperative, formed by the communities it serves: Grayslake, Gurnee, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Park, and the County of Lake representing the unincorporated areas of Knollwood/Rondout and Wildwood and the Village of Vernon Hills.

The Water Treatment Process

All drinking water in the Village of Round Lake comes from Lake Michigan. This surface water source is treated by CLCJAWA at the Paul M. Neal Water Treatment Facility in Lake Bluff. The water is pumped from Lake Michigan and then undergoes a treatment process designed to assure constant contaminant removal and production of clean, safe drinking water that is also aesthetically pleasing. There are two features of the treatment process, which provide unique capabilities. First, water from Lake Michigan goes through a primary disinfecting step using ozone, which has been found to be highly effective in removing contaminants and in deactivating disease-causing pathogens. And, finally, the treated water passes through filters of granular activated carbon, which remove any remaining contaminants and particles from the water and has also proven to be proficient in eliminating problems sometimes encountered with unpleasant tastes or odors.

The Village's Delivery System
 Once the treated water reaches Round Lake, it is handled in one of two ways. The water is either stored in our 500,000 gallon ground storage reservoir, located at our booster pump station on Nippersink Rd., or it can be pumped directly into the distribution system from our booster pump station located near the Village Hall on Cedar Lake Rd. The Village also has two 750,000 gallon elevated storage tanks (water towers). These water towers are filled as needed from either the Nippersink Rd. pump station or the Cedar Lake Rd. pump station. One tower is located on Wilson Rd. in the Valley Lakes subdivisions, the other is located on Panther Dr. in the industrial park.

Water Quality

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the US Environmental Protection Agency's (USEPA) Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791. To ensure that tap water is safe to drink, the Environmental Protection Agency prescribes limits on the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) imposes fewer restrictions for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health. Our tap water quality is consistently monitored by the Village, by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA), in the CLCJAWA Water Quality Lab, and by several other "third party" labs. This aggressive water quality assurance program is unmatched: bacteriological tests are conducted much more often than required, water clarity monitored every second, and over 360 contaminants are monitored on a routine basis. Water quality is judged by comparing our water to USEPA benchmarks for water quality. One such benchmark is called the Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG). The MCLG is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. This goal allows for a margin of safety. Another benchmark is a Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL). An MCL is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. An MCL is set as close to an MCLG as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

The water produced by CLCJAWA has never violated any water quality standard.

However, of the 360 contaminants monitored, minute quantities of some regulated compounds do exist. The table below lists all of the regulated compounds detected in our water, even in the most minute traces. The table lists the compound detected, the level found, the range of detection, the ideal goal for public health (MCLG), the highest level allowed by regulation (MCL), the last sample date for the year, any violations, and the sources of these compounds. The range of detection column specifies the minimum and maximum amounts of each compound detected. If the two numbers in the range of detection column are identical, there was only one sample analyzed during the year. Compounds listed in italics were measured by CLCJAWA, all other compounds were measured by the Village.

Abbreviations and what they mean:

(AL) Action Level is the level of lead that triggers special treatment or other required actions by a water supply

NTU Nephelometric Turbidity Units is a measure of water cloudiness.

pCi/L pico Curies per liter. The MCL for beta particles is 4 mrem/year. EPA considers 50 pCi/L to be a level of concern for beta particles pos/month means the number of water samples that contained coliform bacteria per month ppb parts per billion or micrograms per liter (ug/L) ppm parts-per-million or milligrams per liter (mg/L)

 TT Treatment Technique refers to a required process intended to reduce a contaminant level in drinking water.

N/A not applicable

Lead:

There is no detectable lead in the water that CLCJAWA provides to each community. Some homes with old lead service lines, lead plumbing, or lead solder, may have lead in their water. To minimize this contamination, the Illinois EPA requires phosphate addition to our water in very low quantities of 0.3 ppm orthophosphate. This commonly used food ingredient coats the inside of your plumbing with a thin film. The film reduces the level of lead that may enter your water.

Sodium:

There is no state or federal MCL for sodium. Monitoring is required to provide information to consumers in case you are concerned about sodium intake due to dietary precautions. If the sodium level in our water was greater than 20 ppm, and you were on a sodium restricted diet, you would be advised to consult a physician.

Turbidity:

Turbidity is a measure of the cloudiness of the water. CLCJAWA monitors it because it is a good indicator of water quality and the effectiveness of their filtration and disinfection systems. Turbidity is monitored every six seconds by instruments and every four hours in the lab.

Additional Contaminant Monitoring

Our system also monitors for substances in water for which no standards have been set or for contaminants for which we are not required to monitor. We take the initiative to check our water for things that concern the public and the scientific community. In 1999, this additional testing included among numerous other things, asbestos. No asbestos was detected in the water entering the CLCJAWA water treatment plant.

Contamination Sources in Drinking Water

Our tap water comes from Lake Michigan, a surface water source. With a depth of 900 feet, Lake Michigan is the largest lake in the United States, formed as glaciers retreated north during the last ice age. The Great Lakes contain approximately 20% of the fresh water on Earth's surface. More water evaporates off of Lake Michigan each minute than CLCJAWA pumps in an entire day. Since the United States and Canada formed the Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement in 1972, Great Lakes water quality has steadily improved. The Illinois EPA will complete a source water assessment of Lake Michigan by May 2003. As this information becomes available it will be incorporated in future Water Quality reports.

Both tap and bottled water come from rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring materials and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animal or human activity. Contaminants that may be present in untreated water include:

- Microbial contaminants such as viruses and bacteria can be naturally occurring or may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, and livestock operations.
- Inorganic contaminants such as salts and metals can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides come from sources such as agricultural and residential storm water runoff.
- Organic chemical contaminants including synthetic and volatile organic compounds are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production but can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff and septic systems.

- Radioactive contaminants can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil, gas, and mining activities.

Immuno-Compromised Persons

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. The USEPA and Center for Disease Control (CDC) guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the USEPA Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Public Meetings

The Village Board meets on the first and third Monday of each month, and the public is always welcome to attend any of these meetings. Village Trustee Donald Newby is also a member of the Board of Directors of CLCJAWA, which meets on the fourth Wednesday of each month. CLCJAWA provides tours of the water treatment facility, and staff members are also available for public speaking or for school visits. Please contact the Village or CLCJAWA for more information.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions. *Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value. *Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare. *Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: I interviewed with a company last week for almost three hours. The position called for upper management, supervisory, in a large national corporate environment. This is a position which I had previously held with another national firm for 6 years. During the interview, I was asked some of the strangest questions I have ever encountered. The interviewer (actually the Manager I would report to), showed some bizarre sides to himself in the beginning, but as the interview progressed it appeared to taper down a bit and every now and then a question would be asked of me that caught me off guard. After the interview was over, I left and sat in my car for a few minutes trying to recap some of the questions that were asked of me. Not knowing whether or not I was even in contention for the job, I was more unsure as to whether I could work for an individual with such quirky behavior. I ran this past a friend of mine who said that I sounded like I was being tested. What would you think? K.S. (via E-mail)

A: Hopefully I am correct in figuring that the individual you interviewed with was testing you as your friend suggested. We see this from time to time and while it is not common practice, it is often done to get a reaction from the candidate to see how they handle themselves. I was involved in a similar type of interview years ago and while I am not one to necessarily agree with the "shock" interview, there are some companies who suggest that it is an effective method for some positions. A barrage of questions may be asked of you in a rapid manner that you may be caught off guard with, such as what you may think of The Cat in the Hat. The interviewer may choose to ignore you while drinking a cup of coffee and staring at a picture on the wall as though you were not there to see what your reaction is. I had a job candidate once who was left in a room by himself for what seemed like an unreasonable amount of time while two employees of the company stood within ear's reach of the closed door with raised voices in a mock argument. It is mostly done to see how an individual will react when placed in an awkward or stressed position. While it seemed odd to you, hopefully you passed with flying colors and remained calm and collected throughout the interview, which is more than likely what they were looking for. It is a strong candidate who can manage to keep control when faced with this type of interview. So many job seekers have never been subjected to this type of technique and if they have, will tell you they won't soon forget it. The best way to handle this is to think before you answer questions that are asked of you. Don't be so quick to blurt out an answer that may come across with negative attitude. Keep your composure focusing on a positive, calm demeanor throughout the interview. No matter how much they push to see if you anger or alter your personality, keep composed. It may be the hardest type of interview you ever encounter, but the test could be well worth the exercise.

Pet OF THE WEEK

PHOEBE & FARGO

Phoebe and Fargo enjoy life in their hometown of Grayslake. When they're not chasing cars or protecting their owners' property, they're lounging with a milk bone or romping around with a favorite toy in their spacious home. The doggie door is always open as Phoebe and Fargo are always ready to make a new friend. Special thanks to Mom, Dad, Dave & Kathy.
